

Possible Title: XXXXXXXX Girls Without Skin

Step One: The Hook

The Dream Syndicate's forums have lit up with reports of visual distortions during, and strange dreams following a New York Fashion Week show.

Step Two: NPCs

- Manager (trying desperately to keep the show going on and without scandals, ex-cop and has NYPD connections and old buddies to help him out)
- Model(s)
- Reporters/Photographer (thinks they have evidence of something happening, on the verge of breaking a story, follows Agents around)
- Influencer (snuck in, perhaps annoying or entitled)
- Killer/Sorceress?

Step Three: Leads

- Shared dreams - a person in a specific outfit, searching for a dress, walking the runway
- Visual Distortion - (old) film camera is what picks up the distortion
- There is a body stuffed into a suitcase. As the body decays, the Phantom that appears on the photos becomes more alive
- Missing new up and coming model, early promo material was that the show would feature them but now they're not there and the Manager is doing their best to cover it all up, but the Manager doesn't necessarily know that the model is dead.

Step Four: Dead Ends

- Lots of folks doing a new designer drug that appears to be causing seizures/hallucinations, drug users see a shared image but it's unrelated
- Protest: factory connected to one of the designers in the show had many people die in a sweatshop, signs outside have pictures of now deceased Chinese laborers

Step Five: Creepy Moments

- One of the dreams is being stuffed in the suitcase
- Realizing that analog? Images of the Phantom can see the phantom
- Dead body in suitcase. As body decays, Phantom becomes more solid in images
 - Stages of decay by night

Step Six: Events

- 6 nights, starting on a monday, giving the agents 4 nights to solve the mystery
 - Monday morning: Model killed, overnight shared dreams start lighting up the message boards
 - Tuesday: overnight, more and more dreams on the boards. Program assets monitoring the Dream Syndicate's website take notice and mobilize Agents
 - Wednesday morning: Agents arrive,

- Thursday:
- Friday
- Saturday
- The injuries or deaths caused by the Phantom appear mundane and ramp up each night. Heroin overdose? Slip n' fall? But are suspicious enough for Agents to identify it's a problem

Step Seven: Troubles and Interruptions

- If Agents get too close, Manager uses old NYPD connections to try and distract Agents
- Influencer thinks that they are onto something, or perhaps tails Agents. Influencer is always live-streaming

Step Eight: Resolution

- The phantom simply wants to walk the runway in front of a crowd...
- Burning the body brings the phantom to full fruition
- Things to do with body to stop it decaying
 - Vitrification
 - Freeze it
 - Lenin's body style taxidermy

Step Nine: The Cover-Up

- It was fashion all along!
- Clean-up after the agents
- Corpse itself

Step Ten: What to do next?

- Add a FATE connection into DG Lore
- Add in mechanics for a magic user to be the killer and add a magic angle
