

On District & Organizational Leadership

TITLE	DESCRIPTIONS
"What Do Race and Culture Have To Do with It?"	A preliminary glimpse at how scientific racism has informed popular assumptions about schooling and how those assumptions inhibit culturally responsive practices. In addition, the session provides a basic template for such practice along with some common, though unrecognized, examples of cultural responsiveness.