

ENERGY:-

life energy

Life energy is one of the literal original energies, an energy that can be directly absorbed by all practitioners without any conversion. When life energy is used, it is called the power of creation.

Life energy plays a huge role in overall health. First, when practitioners are under rich life energy, their practice speed will be significantly improved. Second, when a practitioner's energy core is broken or injured, such as the owner of the Tianxi computer, it can be repaired by high-level life energy. Third, when a practitioner is promoted to the god level, he must absorb a large amount of life energy to improve the level of his own energy core. Fourth, it strengthens the body, enhances vitality, and stimulates the blood to make it easier to evolve. Fifth, it helps in the practice of mental strength.

The generation and use of life energy. The life core of the plane can generate life energy, and those who possess the throne of the Goddess of Life can use their authority to dispatch life energy.

Destruction energy

Destruction energy is one of the original energies of the universe. It is an energy with terrifying destructive power. When the destructive energy is used, it is called the power of destruction. The variant of the power of destruction is the power of devouring. Since the opposite of destruction is creation, the power of destruction itself is difficult to be destroyed, and its users will have extremely powerful self-healing abilities. Those who have the position of the God of Destruction can first use their authority to dispatch the measure of love and destruction. In the Longma galaxy, the destruction core of the eight-armed demon clan can produce impure destructive energy.

cosmic innate spirit

The innate spirit of the universe refers to a highly intelligent life form that was born from the fragments of the universe and possesses extremely powerful energy. It is born with great nourishment and is the most precious existence in the universe. For example: the first generation of Dragon God, the insect of the sky, the source of thunder, the mother of lightning, and Long Tianyang.

The innate spirit of the universe can cultivate itself. The first generation of dragon gods, Long Tianyang and Kong Zhichongguan, are innate spirits of the universe who cultivate themselves. At the same time, the innate spirit of the universe can also be used as authority by gods and become the law of a certain field. In the interstellar era, Lan Xuanyu subdued the source of thunder in the form of authority and used it as a divine punishment for the new Shenlong Realm City.

Chaos energy

The energy of chaos, also known as the power of chaos and the original spiritual energy, is one of the original energies of the universe and is the energy that appeared when the universe was created.

Chaos energy is the only energy that is not swallowed by black holes. It is the basis for the formation and evolution of each plane. It can repair and reshape the plane and greatly enhance and nourish the living beings.

After the War of the Gods, the seven divine realms merged with the help of the chaotic energy to form the Great God Circle. Huo Yuhao's spiritual eyes absorbed the chaotic energy and evolved into the Eternal Eye, and his cultivation was promoted to the Lord God level. During the Ice Age on the Blue Star, Tang San obtained the chaotic energy and helped the tree-like body to rejuvenate.

Luck

Luck means the same as "fortune", also known as the power of auspiciousness, and is one of the original energies of the plane - the luck in a plane is conserved, it can only be transferred or condensed, and cannot be created out of thin air. When one person gets lucky, another person must suffer misfortune.

If you have good luck, everything will go smoothly and you can reach a high position; if you have bad luck, nothing will go smoothly. On Douluo Star, the emperor's auspicious beast, the three-eyed golden lion, carries the luck of the Star Forest and plays an important role in the growth of the soul beasts in the Star Forest. On Falan Star, luck also has a decisive influence on the development of the race. The goblins control most of the luck, and the sky foxes among the monsters are known as the "sons of luck". They possess the eyes of heaven, which can peek into the world and see the future. Anyone who harms the sky foxes will suffer the backlash of Falan Star's luck.

Only creatures with powerful spiritual awareness can avoid the misfortune brought about by the backlash of luck.

heart of nature

The Heart of Nature, also known as the core of the divine world, is a treasure of heaven and earth that is naturally condensed when the natural power of a plane becomes strong enough. Each plane has only one chance to give birth to the Heart of Nature.

The Heart of Nature can not only make people friendly to nature and bring great benefits and help to the creatures of the plane; it can also give birth to the spirit of immortals in the hands of a God King-level strongman, which is a necessary condition for the plane to evolve into the God Realm.

Fairy spirit

The spirit of immortals is the foundation for the creation of the divine world, and is one of the fundamentals for maintaining the immortality of the divine world.

There are two ways for the birth of fairy spirit: first, the God King uses his divine consciousness to guide the heart of nature to give birth to it; second, the treasure-hunting beast transforms life energy into fairy spirit.

The effects of immortal energy are as follows: delaying aging and prolonging life; repairing and nourishing the body, promoting the rapid growth of energy of different attributes in the body; and promoting practitioners to break through to a higher level.

power of faith

The power of faith, also known as the power of belief or the power of thought, refers to the power generated by the devout belief and reverence of the gods. It is one of the sources of the gods' power and the basis for the formation, maintenance and expansion of the divine world.

The power of law

The power of law refers to the power that is born based on the law and is used to support the operation of the law. It can be mastered and used.

Mental power

Mental power is a special energy that all living things possess. Generally speaking, it can be enhanced through thinking.

The power of blood

Bloodline power is the energy contained in the blood of a living being. It is usually inherited, but can also be acquired. Bloodline power can be controlled and used through the guidance of spiritual power, and can improve physical condition. To enhance one's own strength, the bloodline level determines the upper limit of the ability of living beings. Therefore, low-level bloodlines are often suppressed by high-level bloodlines. If you want to break through the suppression, you can absorb the life energy of the outside world to enhance the power of bloodline, and absorb high-level bloodlines of the same origin to enhance the bloodline level.

Elemental Power

The power of elements is exerted through the study of elemental control.

The elemental power of Douluo Star mainly comes from the nine attributes controlled by the first generation of Dragon God, namely: water, fire, earth, wind, light, darkness, space, time, and stability. Among them, water, fire, earth, and wind are the four basic elements, and the other elements are derived from them. Light, darkness, space, time, and stability are stronger elements, and space and time are the most unpredictable.

Soul power

Soul power is a special energy unique to the creatures of Douluo Star. After the first generation of dragon gods and dragons died in ancient times, their blood was spread to Douluo Star, causing the creatures of this plane to mutate and gain courage. Generally speaking, soul beasts and soul masters can absorb the vitality of heaven and earth through meditation to improve their soul power.

Dragon God's Power

The power of the Dragon God refers to the power possessed by the Dragon God, including the power of the Dragon God's bloodline and the power of the nine elements. The power of the Dragon God is not the same as dragon power.

dragon power

Dragon power is the name given by the strong men of the Longma galaxy to the pulse power that connected the first generation of dragon gods and the dragon clan in the dragon world.

After the death of the Dragon Clan of Tianlongxing, the Dragon Realm will automatically recycle the powerlessness in the body of the fallen, so the boundless dragon power is endless. In order to improve their strength, the Tianlong Clan and the upper dragon power established the Dragon Power Hall to guide their abilities for training. In addition to the Dragon Power Hall, the Dragon Pillar also contains dragon power.
