

Manufacturer's Championship

This will include a PP limit. The idea is that just like real life you will have 2 people per team and as many teams as you want..... I guess. But anyways you will have (idea) team Chevy, Ok lets say you have a Corvette (new) and a Camaro (new) against lets say Mazda Rx-7(fd) and a Rx-8. but you can't have the same manufacture twice (2 different teams).

The rules are:

PP: 550

Tires: racing mediums

Body Kits: are allowed. wings are mandatory.

Damage: light

Penalty's: none

Length of races: 5 and up (depends on track)

The teams will have to pick 2 colours for both of their cars (blue, red rims) simple enough.

You can modify the entire car. If you are over the PP limit DO NOT POWER LIMIT THE MOTOR add weight until at the right PP.

Now this will upset a lot of people on the team I think but I was wondering if we could only use street cars. I'm talking about street cars under 100k not the type of street cars that millionaires drive.

I thought it would be cool to start a little series in the team and who ever wants to join outside of it (gunz, touge)

example:

Team: Chevy

cars: Camaro, Corvette

members: power, someone colours: car: white, rims: black

Just an example of what ill be asking so i can write it down.
