Chat log:

00:18:19 Sandro Hawke: Tantek please add yourself to https://docs.google.com/document/d/1aKcFSVZne98AMgdJQk-M6SQLcItQQNQgN-PdCDXePaE/edit#
00:18:28 Annette Greiner: All the new beards! :O
00:19:22 Annette Greiner: (e.g., Tantek, Ed didn't have them last time I saw)
00:20:04 Scott Yates: My covid beard made me look like a narcotraficante, so it had to go.
00:23:16 TallTed // Ted (he/him) Thibodeau Jr (OpenLinkSw.com): +1 for co-chairs (and co-editors) whenever possible
00:25:36 Sandro Hawke: https://www.w3.org/2002/09/wbs/103073/priorities-2019/results
00:26:20 TallTed // Ted (he/him) Thibodeau Jr (OpenLinkSw.com): q+ to suggest that if chairs can facilitate group with one hat, and speak their own mind distinctly with another hat, it doesn't matter what their specific feelings are
00:26:27 Tzviya Siegman: q+
00:29:50 Annette Greiner: +1 to TallTed
00:30:05 Tzviya Siegman: +1
00:30:31 Tantek Çelik: +1 have also seen graffiti like that which has a domain name
00:32:41 Tantek Çelik: +1 tzviya
00:32:45 Annette Greiner: q+ to ask Scott a question
00:33:18 Tzviya Siegman: remind me please when the regular calls are
00:33:45 Scott Yates: I think we'll need to make a new schedule
00:33:48 bobwyman: There are no "regular" calls.
00:33:51 Tzviya Siegman: thank you
00:33:53 TallTed // Ted (he/him) Thibodeau Jr (OpenLinkSw.com): yet
00:34:48 Tantek Çelik: +1 Ed
00:34:50 Jesse Kranzler: +1 to Ed's point. 2 chairs are better than 1 to ensure momentum continues even if one of our chairs gets occupied with other day job related activities
00:34:54 bobwyman: Q+
00:35:26 Tantek Çelik: This is my recollection also Ed
00:36:14 TallTed // Ted (he/him) Thibodeau Jr (OpenLinkSw.com): Having co-chairs also helps with the separation of interests, the "Chinese wall" between chair and non-chair participation.
00:36:19 Sandro Hawke: Let's use Zoom's raise-hande to keep the queue
00:37:57 Jesse Kranzler: I have to run, I'll look forward to watching the recording later this afternoon
00:40:53 Daniel Schwabe: I'll have to go pretty soon too. But I understand that we are NOT voting today, there will be a three week period following this meeting to vote.
00:41:57 Tantek Çelik: Bob, your questions were good ones, let's make sure to capture those in the notes
00:45:55 Sandro Hawke: https://www.w3.org/2018/10/credibility-tech/
00:47:18 Tantek Çelik: (Not wanting to get into solutions or specific approaches, which is why I didn't bring up RDF :P)

00:47:24 Scott Yates: I agree, Tantek, and would also like to expand this group to include some journalists and perhaps others.
00:47:43 Annette Greiner: Social scientists would be great to add
00:49:25 Chris Needham: C2PA project is in that space: signing and provenance
00:49:47 Daniel Schwabe: +1
00:50:00 Tantek Çelik: “Cognitive dissonance people are willing to live with” <— this
00:50:36 Tantek Çelik: +1 Daniel
00:51:57 TallTed // Ted (he/him) Thibodeau Jr (OpenLinkSw.com): +1 yes, hearing candidate responses (or commitment to email same) to those questions would be good.
00:52:39 Tantek Çelik: +1 for co-chairs, having been a co-chair, my experience is that is much more sustainable (and credible) setup for any particular group (CG or WG)
00:54:35 TallTed // Ted (he/him) Thibodeau Jr (OpenLinkSw.com): "Best practices" combining existing standards would be a valuable document
00:58:29 Annette Greiner: W3C does have chair training available, though I’m not sure how much it applies to community groups rather than working groups.
00:58:43 TallTed // Ted (he/him) Thibodeau Jr (OpenLinkSw.com): https://www.w3.org/Guide/chair/role.html
01:02:37 Tantek Çelik: +1 co-chairs
01:02:46 Ed Bice: +1
01:02:46 Daniel Schwabe: +1 co-chairs
01:02:47 Chris Needham: +1
01:03:04 Annette Greiner: +1
01:03:18 Tantek Çelik: CFC on the list sounds good
01:03:57 Tantek Çelik: +1 Sandro’s organizational/community memory :)
01:05:43 Annette Greiner: I have to go to another meeting. Great to see this group moving forward!
01:05:56 Annette Greiner: Thanks, Sandro!
