

Caregiver Support for Managing Student Behavior at Home

A guide to support parent engagement with students and resources to work through challenging behaviors

Managing Expectations

Parents and caregivers are encouraged to set up a successful learning environment for their student(s) to promote achievement and low rates of misbehavior. Students will be engaging in curriculum and learning activities at home which carries a unique set of variables for each student and their families. Below is a link to a resource guide to support parents and caregivers in this process.
