

Civic Learning Week

Appreciation of Champions

Celebrating Civic Learning All Stars

We decided to start off the week by thanking Civic Learning champions, including educators, volunteers, students or other rock stars, for their incredible work to safeguard our democracy. We will coordinate on that as a group through our social media presence on Monday, March 11th, from noon to 1 pm EST. Each org can choose an individual to thank, a group of individuals, or both. You likely have many educators to showcase! For the purposes of Civic Learning Week we encourage you to lift up those in particular that embody one or more of these values:

- (1) It is essential to prioritize the civic mission of schools to sustain and strengthen the nation's constitutional democracy and founding principles.
- (2) Each and every student across the United States should receive a high-quality civic and history education that provides the civic knowledge, skills, dispositions, and behaviors necessary to be informed and engaged members of our constitutional democracy.
- (3) Quality civic and history education is a nonpartisan endeavor that should honor the commitment to engage across the viewpoint spectrum.

We've created a frame you can use on Instagram to recognize these individuals. Below please find an example of how to use the frame (note: fictitious example for illustrative purposes).

The frame also contains white space at the bottom to add your organization or school's logo. On page 2 of this document you will find the blank frame you can use as a template.

Celebrating

Civic
Learning
Week
All Star

CiViC
LEARNING WEEK