

Mutter's Terms of Service

General

1. Any art made by me must be credited to my furaffinity, @mutterofpearl. You may reupload art by me as long as you credit me.
2. I use Paypal for payments.
3. To commission a piece from me please send a message on furaffinity with the following:
 - a. Short description of what you would like. If you have any reference images for posing or anything else, please include.
 - b. A reference image of the character(s).
 - c. Your PayPal address.
 - d. The phrase "mango sticky rice" so I know you read my TOS.
4. When commissioning me, I will send a rough sketch that you can critique. In this stage you can request as many alterations as you would like. Once the rough sketch is satisfactory, I expect a full payment before working on the final drawing.
5. You will receive the final drawing once the full payment has been sent. If the final drawing is not satisfactory, you have two alteration requests before I will ask you to pay $5 for more alterations.
6. I will email the final product to you as well as post it on my furaffinity.

Commissions

1. I have the right to deny commissions I am not comfortable doing.
2. My art may never be used for NFTs.
3. If you want alterations to the finished commission, you have 48 hours to request any changes after I send you the draft.
4. I can elect to raise the price of the commission during the rough sketch phase if the design is more complex than I initially thought. Again, you will only get charged for the commission once the rough sketch is agreed on.
5. There are no refunds once the commission is completed.
6. If you request a refund before the commission is completed, I will send you 50% of the money back.
7. If I must cancel the commission you will receive a full refund.
