Next Generation Leadership Day

Everything You Need to Know about Being a Workshop Presenter or Creator

What is Next Generation Leadership Day (NGLD)?

Next Generation Leadership Day is an exciting day of workshops and leadership development for 4th and 5th grade MCPS Students so that these students will feel more confident about their leadership abilities as they enter into middle school and beyond.

Next Generation Leadership Day Details:

When: Saturday, March 22nd, 2025 9:30am-3:30pm

Where: Wheaton High School

How can I get involved as a middle or high school student?

The special part about this day is that the 4th and 5th grade students will be learning about leadership from middle or high school students. The workshops that are presented are also created by middle or high school students as well. This is truly a student-led experience! If you are interested, you can apply to be a workshop creator or a workshop presenter. The details about each opportunity are below.

How do I apply?

- If you would like to apply to be a workshop creator, you should read the details here first. Then you can apply using this link.
- If you would like to apply to be a workshop presenter, you should read the details here first. Then you can apply using this link.
- If you are interested in creating a workshop and also presenting, you only have to apply once. The workshop creator application will also ask about your interest in being a presenter.

What other important information should I know?

- Anyone can apply for this opportunity! If you have leadership skills or experience that you could teach, create a workshop! If you like working with younger kids or just want more experience practicing your public speaking skills, apply to be a workshop presenter!
- Make sure you read the workshop creator and presenter details carefully so that you can commit to the opportunity if you are selected.
