

Remember the Guiding Questions handout? There is a section there to review. The one about Topic, Information and Ideas. It looked a lot like this:

Topic, Information and Ideas:

- What information/ideas are presented at the beginning of the text?
- What stands out to me as I first examine this text?
- What information/ideas are described in detail?
- What do I learn about the topic as I read?
- How do the ideas relate to what I already know?
- What do I think this text is mainly about?

As you review the next text for this course, R. F. Scott's Last Expedition, consider:

What information or ideas does this text present?

You are going to read and re-read this passage to read closely for details.
