

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy applies to your access and use of online services, including the use of our website and mobile applications.

By downloading or using any online service, you agree to have read and agree to be bound by this privacy policy. If you do not agree to any part of this policy, please do not use any online services.

We collect information about you. In some cases, we may share this information with third parties, so please continue reading about how we use the information you collect when using online services

More detailed information about your personal information.

Information collection and use

In order to get a better experience, when using our services, I may ask you to provide us with certain personally identifiable information. The information I request will remain on your device, and I will not collect it in any way.

The application does use third-party services, which may collect information to identify you.

information security

We will take reasonable measures to prevent loss of information, improper use, unauthorized access or disclosure. For example, some of our services will use encryption technology (such as SSL) to protect your personal details.

However, you understand and accept (in the Internet industry) that even if we will take all possible security measures, we cannot always guarantee that your information is 100% safe. You understand and accept that due to factors beyond your control, the system and communication network used by you to access our services may fail.

Our privacy commitment

We serve your privacy. Your ability to make informed choices about the use of information is important to us.

We collect several different types of information for various purposes, brakes provide you with and improve our services.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files placed in the directory of your computer browser to store information about the use of online services and online activities.

Cookies usually contain the name of the domain where the cookie is located (Internet location), the cookie's lifetime (ie end time) and value (usually a unique number generated randomly).