

Welcome!

This is the scum doc, pick a color and introduce yourself and your characters!

Thelrishman -
Nodlied - I am King Boo! :v
Sunflower - I am… Drusilla!
OrangeP47 - Dr. Grout

Welcome back as Scum again. I decided to just go random this time as to who'd be Scum, but I think this will work out pretty well. I recommend starting off with introducing your abilities and then going on from there.

Hey Nodlied! This'll be fun.

I've got a couple abilities. A night action, a one time day action, AND a passive.

I'm a watcher at night so I can see who visits people (right?). I have a one time use hypnotize during the day. I can change someone's vote to be the same as mine (AND it has a mystery special effect on a certain player - I dunno who or what that is but because I'm Drusilla, we could take some guesses if people start revealing their characters). And my passive is I'm utterly and completely BONKERS, which means that my mind can't be "judged or affected."

Sorry for the editing. I'm trying to fix it but I don't remember how I did it before.

No problem. I feel like I actually am Drusilla watching all the wonky screen changes. =P

So if I had to take a crazy out of the blue guess for who my mystery person is right NOW, it'd be Shade because he seems pretty concerned about vampires and he's got that weird puppet avatar. But no need to jump to conclusions yet.

Alright, got it fixed xD And chances are Nodlied won't be on until tomorrow because of timezones. He normally goes to sleep a little after hammer for future reference.

Oh that's right. Okie dokie.

[Redacted]

Oooo secrets. I like it.

In hindsight, I realize I didn't put ##nightkill in either of your PMs since I considered it a basic ability for all Scum. I'll add it now.

Hi there Sunflower, it's time for another game of deadly duo. :v In any case, I'm this dear lad on the picture below.

No, not the green moustache guy, I'm the absolute unit that's King Boo. Beyond being your average ghost, I'm also, obviously, the King. This means a couple of things.

- I can nightkill as any other scum member. Except for the fact that I can also murder undead.
- I can send one of my smaller Boo minions to kill instead, meaning that I'm not able to be tracked. However, these buggers can't kill ghosts.
- Additionally, I can permanently steal an ability of my (own) nightkill target if said target is a ghost as well. You know, me being the boss and all that, I'll just absorb the unruly bastard.
- As I said before, I can murder undead, but only if I kill them myself.

So, what can we take from this? Well, considering that - Damnit IRISH Stop doing my thing. I will fix it when I'm done writing! - In any case. Considering that we're a team of two scum in a quite hefty game, I wouldn't be surprised if there were two third parties. That means that we should be on the lookout regarding who it can be (you've already specified Shade) and see if we can steer these buggers away from us and instead have them be tracked. You know, the good old bait trick where all the attention will be focussed on the third parties.

Wow! We've got a whole big bushel of abilities don't we?

That's pretty handy too since I already got a chance to ask ilts if he was a ghost without even knowing about your abilities and he said no (ofc he could be lying but still).

So it sounds like you're the best person to do our killings since you've got all those fun killing abilities and the little boos. And I've got the watcher ability so I could try to blend in with that if I need to - plus try to find a third party killer if there is one. But we'll need to come up with a story for what you're actually doing each night!

I might claim hider if necessary. :v

Hmm, wondering if I should Boo iLTS tonight for shits and giggles.

That would be a pretty safe bet. We can knock someone off without getting tracked back to you, aaanndd iLTS's posts are kinda creeping me out xD.

He's obviously third party. And he knows damn well that he's hostile.

Yeah I'm getting that vibe too. Killing him would remove a suspicious person from the lynch list, but people might not want to vote for him after he claimed that the first voter has something bad happen to them or whatever. I know I don't want to vote for him!

Do you know what Cat 5 is?

Beyond a weeb? No clue. In any case, even if iLTS is a 3rd party that's able to help us, I trust him for about as far as I can throw him. He's manipulative and pulled off this kind of stuff before.

I was just asking cause Cat 5 seems to think his character is so scary that he'll definitely get killed N1. Which means we probably definitely maybe shouldn't target him. =P But I was just wondering what it could be.

Just to make sure I got your boo skill right, ghosts are the only thing it doesn't work on right? So it should work on whatever that creepy thing iLTS is? He sounds like he thinks he's unkillable.

Pretty much. That said, the fact that I don't have any information regarding an unkillable enemy (other than undead) doesn't mean that there isn't an unkillable enemy.

Hmmmm… think he is undead?

I don't know. Maybe. He's definitely an odd one out there.

I looked at the page he linked and I have no clue what that thing is other than it's scary lol. BuuUt maybe he's just telling Shade what he wants to hear too.

There's one thing about iLTS that's a guarantee: If he's not acting townish, then he's third party. And if he's third party, getting rid of him asap is paramount to all parties in the game. And yes, he's scary, and I have no clue what game, book or film he's from.

I guess we don't know if he'll get lynched yet. But if we have to kill him at night, would you rather use your little boos or do it yourself in case he's undead?

I don't know. I'm kind off hoping that he'll be lynched today. That said, sending in a little one should keep me safe no matter what. :v (InB4 I get copped and thus lynched tomorrow.)

Oh! That reminds me of what I was thinking about for my watch targets. I came up with 2 ideas. The first one might sound weird but I was thinking of watching YOU so we'd know what exactly my targets get told when I watch them and we'd know in advance if anyone visited you too like a roleblocker or a cop or tracker. My other idea was to watch the person people think we'll kill to try to find the doctor or other roles like that.

That's a really clever idea. I like it. We shouldn't watch our targets tonight though. The chances of hitting the doc, if there is one, is low at this point in time. I think that we're better off with learning what the message says and who visits me.

Me too. Aweesome.

Eggsalad! Now, let's see where the iLTS talks will get us and town.

Ugghh I feel like I'm the only person who doesn't know what any of these character claims are. Really frustrating!

Well, good news, I don't know any of them either. :v

Have you ever heard of Men In Black (a movie series featuring Will Smith and Tommy Lee Jones)? SCP Foundation is basically that, but for the Supernatural instead of Aliens. And don't worry, I also had to google all this stuff because I've never heard of them either.

Well then, I guess that they're dangerous to us in the game. Heh, fine by me.

Lol, Choppy is a ghost.

Guess we know one person we won't be sending the little boos to!

And Orange is a vampire. Since I am too… I wonder if that means he could be the person with the mystery effect from my hypnotize skill.

Possibly. Perhaps all characters of the same flavour have something in common with one another as well as specific actions they can use against one another.

Too bad I can't test it without revealing I'm scum!

Whelp. Here's hoping that iLTS is so sold on verti-scum that he won't take me out if he gets lynched today. =P

This could give us a chance to vote for different players too tho if we want to distance ourselves from each other.

I'm probably going to vote for iLTS anyway. :v Just need a good bait.,

What kinda bait? Is it something I can help with?

Wow. I just realized Orange isn't just claiming vampire but INSANE VAMPIRE. Just like me!

Oh btw, I've been kinda implying I'm Alice in Wonderland in the thread just in case there's any vampire slayers out there.

Lol. But is Alice a supernatural being? If not, then you'd probably be on the chopping block together with Shade (for a while).

Kinda sorta maybe. I mean she's just a regular girl but when she's in wonderland she can do all sorts of stuff like get really big or small by eating cake and mushrooms. And in the game Alice Madness Returns, she's insane too just like my character Drusilla.

>Eating mushrooms
I think that I can tell you how she got to wonderland. :v

:D

In any case, I'm fine with such a claim, but keep in mind that non-real-supernaturals are currently under close supervision.

Yeah, but I've been using it as my avatar the whole time anyways. I think if people press that argument I can get around it because Irish said in the OP that we didn't have to worry about whether our characters were evil or not for the alignments.

Besides… we could always kill Shade tonight to prove he's not scum. :)

Wouldn't I be the better one to kill people? :v

How are you guys liking the game so far? I'm thinking maybe I should've told people to be a bit more cautious on revealing any flavor, whether they want to lie about it or not.

Nah, it's fine. :v Remember that I put in a ton of hidden stuff in my game and it worked out fine…. Ehehehehe. (Ending in the one manner that had a tiny chance of happening.)

I think there's really only one bad ending where the game could be over in a few nights, but that'd require way too much and I think there'd only be a .5% chance.

Or all scum and TP/Neutrals get lynched in a row.

That's not what I'm thinking, but that's the worst case scenario for you two if they manage to uproot you guys right away. Although it's more likely than my worst case ending, I doubt it'd end that way considering how the day is playing out.

:v

It seems pretty fun so far. There's lots of interesting abilities for sure. I just wish I knew more of the characters. The way iLTS is acting with his claimed role about being unkillable is kinda annoying from my scum PoV but that's more him and less his role.

Well, if his character is classified as an undead, then, well, bhuehehehehe.

Good point! And sure I can be the cheerleader for your killing spree.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YSh3u9uFhdU

DO IT AGAIN DO IT AGAIN!

What the fuck did I just watch?

Greatness!

Alright, I usually do this because I feel like it, so do you guys want to know how the coin landed early?

Sure!

Just kidding, Vert.

I wonder what character he was!

That's the only spoiler I'll give, writing up the post right now.

Night One

It's alright either way b/c it sounds like a few people are gonna shift to suspecting iLTS when Vert flips non-scum. That was why I signed up for the iLTS train after all.

Anyways, we survived D1! Woohoo go team!

We've got lynchproof AND vengeful/unkillable guy? Wooow. =P

Okie dokie then. This throws a wrench in all the strategy I had so I need some time to think about who to target. I'll try to post later tonight and get on sometime tomorrow afternoon so we can talk about ideas Nodlied!

Ummm actually I just remembered I have something tomorrow so I won't be able to talk strategy. Sorry! :(I guess I'll just give some ideas and you can kill whoever you think is best Nodlied.

Sooo I think we have one big question. Do we want to kill one of the annoying unkillable/unlynchable people? We're going to have to do it soon if we have any chance of winning, but the problem is Vert/Snipe is the big debate so far - so if we kill one of them, we end the debate and let it move on to someone else. So do we want to kill one of them or not? I'm not sure.

If we want to try to kill one of them, you're gonna have to do it in person so you might be trackable. I think it'd probably work on Vert and it might work on Snipe. But if Shade is going to roleblock Snipe, that could be a good chance to get Snipe too.

If we don't kill one of those 2, we can probably send the little boos to get someone. Proooobably not Chop since he might be a ghost.

I think the best surprise picks would be KY or Shade. People will probably expect us to go for Cat 5. Jeod just said he thinks he's in danger for some reason so he could draw protection (might not, who knows?) Orange could be another choice to keep Jeod from getting info on Orange, as long as he's not baiting us into doing that.

So yeah, I'm thinking either Vert/Snipe with a personal visit from king boo or KY/Shade/Orange with a little boo. But if you think something else is better, go for it! I'll put my watch order in to watch you tonight. I'm watching you buddy!

I'm actually going after Choppy with my normal royal kill. :v He's one of those wankers that nobody really notices. Also, yes, I do like daisies. Anyway, Verti-Snipe is too much of a grand opportunity at the moment, and they'll likely eat up some time and attention, Shade fits in with all of that. KY is a great reserve kill while Cat5 and Jeod are likely targets for a doctor.

Also, Choppy is a ghost, I like absorbing the abilities of my minions.

Also, I was out for most of the day (teaching + visiting family) so I'm eager to see what the night results will be despite our lack of ''real'' strategic planning.

Okay. I guess that works. Just got home. At least I can be here for the day start. Though I'm not sure how much opportunity you're going to have to use abilities with all the killing abilities you have and all the killing abilities I don't have.

You can kill too.

Well yeah but I just mean that I'm useless against anyone who has special protection

I feel like you're assuming too many people have protection. I keep things balanced, or at least try to. Btw, you guys never asked (which is unusual), so I should probably tell you that you can use both your action and the NK at the same time. Obviously this really only applies to Sunflower because Nodlied's specifically states that he's unable to. (Boo! Bad GM! /joke :v)

I'm just going by what I've seen so far. iLTS is claiming he can't be killed at night (maybe its a lie I dunno) and Nodlied says he has to personally visit undead characters to kill them - and I assume that means I can't.

Btw, just because a player is undead doesn't mean they can't be killed, it's just that even if they're undead with BP they can be killed. So it's a partial armor piercing.

iLTS is a good timebait for now. So I won't attack him unless he's outlived his usefulness.

He is but the problem is the longer he survives, the higher chance he will take us out with the vengeful lynch because each time there will be less people to choose from.

He's currently fixated on Verti. So eh. Worth the risk. :v Alternatively, we can just follow the RNG strategy and vote/kill people based on dice rolls. That one worked out a couple of months ago.

Yeah he is, but aside from Orange and Verti, the other people he mentioned on his list were you and me. Things can change with new info, but we're definitely not flying under the radar with him. But I do have a little protection with my vote ability. I think if I'm up for a vote, it won't be unanimous unless someone sees me do something… so the first time I'm in trouble, I can probably get out of it with the hypnotism. I could use it to save you too but that would be pretty much telling everyone we're a team so only like total disaster mode.

That's honestly fine. Verti is arrogant in his attacks on people, he will usually not even give up on his attacks. However, coming up with good counters always persuades the opposition.

Don't ever waste a protection ability on me. :v As you said, it'll expose us as a team and, honestly, you're probably just as capable of winning the game on your own after I disappear.

Yeah I guess so. I just like winning as a team lol.

Anyway I'm just kinda grumpy because I was hoping to kill people as scum and I got the fake-town role. =P

:v Well, you'll always be the go-to killer should I ever become suspicious in the eyes of the non-mafia.

We won't let that happen. ;) The little boos should help with that too.

Well, yes. But you know, better safe than sorry. :v

Day Two

Another thing we might be able to do late game is like… if people are suspicious of me and its a close vote, you could vote for me, and I could switch one of the other voters to the other person with my hypnotism and if it worked out right, you'd get extra protection from being able to vote for me without actually lynching me.

That highly depends on the situation though. However, I'm fine with you voting for me whenever you feel like it. If there's a case on me, or even a slight one, don't be afraid to push it. :v

I dunno, when I get set on a case, I can get pretty intense. I might have to act the same way if I was doing that! Just kidding.

Looks like I wasn't able to watch you for some reason Nodlied. I wonder if it's Boo or if someone did something to me. It says I tried to watch my target but all I got was pitch blackness.

Welp, I failed and woke up at dawnbreak. Very interesting.

That's not good. If someone roleblocked me and you lol.

InB4 single use night-wide roleblock. We'll see once the first comments rain in. And otherwise I'm just going to claim getting roleblocked.

Think we should both claim it? Or wait and see what people say?

Give it a small amount of time at first. I'm going to be absent for a short while anyway. :v

Then I'll likely rage in telling everybody that there's a roleblocker in the game. No idea what role to claim though, yet.

Haha. Oh wait I just thought of something. If we both claim we got blocked, would that kind of risk a situation where people are choosing between voting you or me? >.>

That's highly likely. :v That's why I suggest waiting for a short while.

I guess it's possible I didn't actually get blocked. It just said all I got was pitch blackness when I tried to watch you.

Heh, that might support a hide claim that I was thinking about. Then again, it could be completely countered if somebody then counters that with an ''I did it!11!''.

Yeah I'll definitely try to keep what happened to me underwraps for a while if I can.

Step 1: Don't open the forum page for a short while.
Step 2: Look at what people are saying.
Step 3: Pick the best strategy from there. :v

Anyway, I'm going to watch a video. Brb 1 hour.

Have fun!

And here we go. It's possible that iLTS ''blocked'' me, or rather, he took me into his pocket dimension. That would explain the darkness.

Perhaps you could push that by coming forward with your watch. (Then again, you need to have a good reason for watching me.)

Actually, nevermind.

I think with all the chaos I'm just gonna try to stay in the background unless someone presses me on what I did. xD

OH so that's why I couldn't watch you. It was because of Orange.

Yes. I honestly thought that iLTS took me into his pocket dimension. Guess not.

Yeah everything went bonkers!

And I sooooo want to use this gif to reply to the little thingy you said about liking being in Orange's jail but don't want to give any hints about my real character.

:v Save it for your own time to shine.

In any case, bedtime. Cya around tomorrow!

Night! Don't let the bed centipedes bite!

Just some advice, although it's generally obvious, never reveal yourself as Scum, no matter what happens.

Yep, time to somewhat double down on being the shy hider that I am. :v

Question, why didn't you tell them that you were to watch me?

I dunno. Mostly because I just didn't want to.

Lol, well, we're now the only ones who've opted out of telling what they did the previous night. :v

Yeah I noticed that too. But IMO town players should be more protective of their abilities so I feel like not sharing can be a towny thing. All these early reveals are pretty lame and unfun. I guess maybe they feel safer to do it if they think they can't be killed. But we've got like doctors and cops running around telling us that's what they are so… shrug I guess it gives us a lot to think about with our targets if we don't get lynched.

Correct. Also, holy hell we have a lot of nightkill/scum counters. :v 2 blocking roles is a lot. Chances to hit the nightkill are 1 in 5. Also, a doctor. Third party better have something good up their sleeves.

Let's hope so! I don't have any good counters for that stuff, that's for sure. Though I kinda wonder how extensive my insanity protection is. It says my mind can't be judged or effected. Maybe Jeod can't copy me? Or maybe there's someone out there that can possess people and I'm immune. Dunno. Then again possessing people is kinda like what I do with my hypnotism but it's not totally the same and we have a lot of linked abilities out there.

It's not just the roleblockers too. Orange is claiming BP right? And Jeod says he copied his BP. And iLTS is ALSO claiming BP. lol. It's so much that it kinda makes me want to claim it can't be true in the thread but I feel like if I complain about it, I'll just seem scummy.

Hmmm… maybe what we need to do is try to think about the flavor of all these protections. Because a lot of your killing abilities are based on flavor. Maybe we can find out which players need to be targeted with the little boos and which ones need a personal visit.

Yes. I already know that Verti will require some … private time with the great King. Choppy allows me to steal his tracking ability.

I wonder if KY just kinda made a soft cop claim when he said he targeted himself and found out what he needed. Checking for insanity maybe?

It's highly possible. :v Perhaps he should get a nice peeka-boo from me tonight. That is, unless he gets protected by the doctor.

Yeah the doctor might've noticed it too. I don't think we should kill Verti yet. He's probably a third party and I'm not getting vibes like he's hostile to us, especially since I helped him out with the iLTS vote yesterday.

Verti is an arsehole. He can stay alive as long as I want. :v And I'm going to give him all the time he needs.

He said a couple things that made me think he was trying to signal me. I'm not sure for what but I'd like to find out.

The focus on the cheshire cat was good for me too because I can easily explain my watching ability that way without having to reveal my true identity.

Is that so? :v Because if it is, that's great.

Oh wait maybe Orange and Jeod don't actually have BP. I was confused because Jeod said it was killproof but then later they clarified that it was immunity to status effects and that he assumed that included killing curses. It probably means immunity to my hypnosis and maybe other things.

Well then, after a long day of scoring draws on the tabletop, I'm back. Oh nice, they're voting for me. :v Guess that such things happen when you're away for most of the day and there haven't been any deaths, at all, while you were roleblocked by one of the many during the previous night.

Yeah I tried to push Cat 5 to get the attention away from you. It's kinda hard to tell where things will wind up at hammer so far.

It's fine, even if I die. :v Kind off got caught off guard by the lack of actual lynch and due to the nightblock. Not much we could have done about it without hindsight.

Maybe Shade can somehow find his way onto the lynch pole despite pretty much being confirmed he didn't do the NK by iLTS. xD

Not doing the NK =/= scum or TP. :v

True!

Lol now we have another lynchproof claim…

Since this will most likely affect you two. Would you prefer I delay hammer or delay the resolving?

What do you mean?

I can extend when the hammer drops (to like 2-4 hours from now) or just delay my night post. The first one will add more time for people to talk and change their minds. The second one obviously won't.

Why tho? Because you're busy?

Just resolve as usual.

Yeah, busy. With family rn. Alright then.

We noticed, you're not playin HoilV with us. :v

Sorry, I wanted to, but had to pick up a shift and delay when I was going to hang out with fam.

An interesting turn.

What is the current vote? Do I need to vote nolynch to save Nodlied?

Damnit. I think it's a tie. Sorry. :(

Yay King Boo Lives!

Yes, for how long? :v In any case, what's the chance that this game is filled with lynchproof and bulletproof roles? Irish, you bastard! Hey, it was never confirmed that Shade had lynchproof :b Anyway, just going to pay Verti60 a visit. I'm in the spotlight for meh-ish reasons, so I don't expect to survive too long. Best just kill Verti while I'm at it right? V:

That said, it's funny how easy it is to trigger Shade's attention. Just badtalk him or put some pressure onto him and he'll take the bait. Even better is the fact that he thinks very highly of himself.

I feel like something bad might happen to you. And maybe having him around would be good for us too! Verti can help us distract the day vig people from us because they'll think they might need to use it on him instead of us.

Maybe it'd be better to try someone else first? Maybe someone you could use the little boos on? No one will be able to track you. We could try going for Cat 5 to get rid of whatever that dead people ability he has is. With everything going on, it doesn't sound like he's getting any protection tonight. Or we could get rid of Shade too. It'll be harder to pin anything on him now that he's claiming vanilla lynchproof town.

Wondering if I should just boo Cat5 and then, after everyone jumps on me for not visiting Verti (chances are that Choppy will be tracking me), I'll simply announce that, you know, me revealing that visiting undead kills them wasn't such a good idea to announce during the previous day. Or at least, I won't admit it unless under pressure. :v

Oooo yeah that could be a fun idea. And if Cat 5 really is town, I think whatever ability he has is going to throw a big wrench in our plans. Kill the scary girl that talks to dead people hehe.

Well, honestly, I don't really care :v. I've seen so many lynch proof, bullet proof, nightkill proof and blocking claims out there that I'm beginning to wonder how low our chances are to score a kill each night. :v

Awww. Let's just see what happens. There's gotta be some nasty third parties out there that might help us right? I'm thinking of watching Orange tonight because I think it's sort of a towny move and hopefully I can actually get some results from it this time.

You could also watch Verti and ask why I didn't show up. :v (While having the proof that other people may have showed up!)

He was one of the other people I was thinking of. How come you think people will expect you to visit him?

Verti has been pretty adamant about it. :v He doesn't believe my claims (even though they're all true up to this point!)

It's all fair, the amount of BP, RB, Jailers, or whatever else. Just because a player claims something, doesn't make it all true. Sending out PMs now.

Notice that I said that they were claimed as well. :v

Well we did have two legitimate lynches all lined up the past two days on two different players. I would hope there's A LOT of bad third party stuff to help us out with that. =P

Tho I guess if he was actually lying about being lynchproof that would be pretty clever on his part. Kudos to you Shade if so!

I don't believe Shade at all. His claims have been all over the place. And his action resolve didn't actually tell us anything.

Any idea what it could be? "Liquidate" sounds kinda weird.

Considering that he's all about an organisation ''Liquidating'' generally means that the company will end its existence while selling everything at a tiny price to pay for the remaining expenses. So, eh, I don't know. Either he lets the monsters lose (perhaps iLTS?), meaning he'd ''infect/capture'' people during the night and let them lose early due to believing that he'd be lynched. Or, he's just an ass lying about his flavour and liquidate boosts him for the remainder of the day in one way or another. I don't know, Irish didn't throw us any sort of bone.

At least some people still sound suspicious of him.

Wooo! Cat5 is a ghost, my Boos didn't kill him! :D I'm so happy that everything is going to plan. (Pls help, I'm not feeling well considering my bad luck this game. :v)

Awww damn! But nothing happened to you at least?

Nope.

I watched Orange and got nothing. No one visited him. :\

At least we know Cat 5 is a ghost now I guess.

Yep. Should probably visit him again tonight, this time he'll get a personal visit from his King. (Unless I get blocked again.)

That said, Cat 5 shouldn't have seen my Boos.

Yeah probably not. They're not trackable at least.

Which is why I'm hoping that Choppy tracked me tonight. :v

Oh wow! Jeod got mummified!

Lolwut.

Welp, guess it's time to figure out what we can do eh? I mean, we failed two nights in a row so far and I didn't see this horror coming. Wait, what are the chances of Orange's curse applying to his visitors? Didn't Jeod visit him on N1?

Hmmm yeah Jeod did visit Orange on N1. It's possible.

Oh nice. :v

>Whoever killed Jeod is going to have a very bad night next night
Awesome! :v That's at least one day where we don't have to worry too much about getting lynched (unless the attacker dies, in which case, eh).

Yeah we'll see xD It's a good distraction that we desperately needed anyway.

Oh lol, Shade is on it again. He really can't let things go, now can he?

Also, what is your stance on town being reminded about the idea that you are a, in fact, (or could be) a vampire? :v

What's your idea?
I was thinking of running with the Alice idea, especially now that Jeod can't catch me lying about my flavor with his ability cop thing.

That's fine as well. As long as nobody mentions that idea, then you should be safe from the "VampireKilledJeod11!!". I mean, you can kill and you are a vampire. But you didn't do it. :v

Nope. Whatever did it, sounds like something really freaky!

Yeah. Maybe it was iLTS. I don't know. What I do know though, is that it's good news that there's another bad guy out there. Let's just stay sure that he'll stay away from us. (Then again, considering that I keep looking like an easy lynch, that should be easy for me.)

Do you think I should come out with my watch results on Orange? Or wait for Chop to reveal his track/see if any hostiles lie about visiting Orange first?

Lol. these guys are more worried about your undead thing than Jeod dying for some reason.

Which is quite interesting I might add.

So, here's the deal, Shade is right that I'm scum. However, the issue here is that he's up and against me for all the wrong reasons and there's the fact that the situation would be no different if I was part of the town team. I mean, I'm not even mad at Verti. :v He's honestly suspicious about my claims (and yes, they are true!), which is a legitimate reason to vote for me.

Lol Verti mocking Shade.

Or the nightkill was protected against from Orange's and Shade's alleged abilities - The targets could've been Nodlied or iLikeToSnipe. >.> After all, if iLTS is actually a vengeful Townie, Scum would want to take him out via nightkill rather than risk it going off. Although he happens to be right about the first night, Vert is leading against you guys.

I didn't expect anything else. :v

Looks like Cat 5 doesn't know about the little boos visiting him last night. Good news. :)

Hope that lie doesn't bite me in the butt. I thought it might be best to not say I watched you and didn't want to go with the suspicious Jeod claim.

Soo it looks like people are getting ready to vote you up. Any ideas for how we might get the votes on someone else?

That'll depend on my claim.

Have you decided on your claim yet?

You could point out that Cat 5 and Verti claimed to do nothing too and ask why Orange isn't as concerned about that.

I've been working towards a hider claim. And when they do lynch me, I'll at least have used up a lot of time.

We might still be able to get someone else voted up today. I'm just not sure who. >.> It's kinda hard to pin anything on a lot of people because of this jailer stuff. And Orange is probably going to jail me tonight now to "give me a gift." So if you get lynched today, we're probably done tomorrow too. :

Just remember to stay true to your claim no matter what happens.

You know what bothers me this game? 1. We've had many duplicate claims, which everybody seems to be completely fine with. 2. Orange's objective is seen as townie. What the glacier flying fuck.

Also, Irish, how am I going to get lynched? :v I can't really see the rope working on a Boo. Have Shade punch me into a painting or something.

Awww. I'm sorry I couldn't help you get out of it. :(I was hoping someone would start a train that I could latch onto but I guess it's just not happening…

And yeah Orange being neutral but not even considering helping us is pretty lame. If always playing town as neutral, then guess what? You're not neutral…

Neutrals can choose their sides. :v I'm fine with him joining town if he really is neutral. And I'm fine with his push if he's TP as well. I'm just amazed that people think that his TP objective sounds remotely townish. If an objective can change the balance between scum/town, it is more of a TP one than a neutral one. That said, it can also be a townish role. Best part about it is that his claimed objective is to ''experiment'' on three people, which is very achievable.

Should I end the day with the fact that scum hasn't killed anybody yet? Because I'm wondering if I should leave them a parting gift. :v

It's kind of funny though, because I'm looking at Orange through Town's lense.

I'm not sure. Irish keeps saying to not reveal alignment no matter what so maybe best not to.

I know. :v But I wonder what would happen if I simply told them that I didn't lie about my anti-undead nature and the fact that ''scum'' hasn't killed anyone yet. Maybe they'd scramble against whatever the other party out there is.

But how would you know scum hasn't killed anyone without being scum? Lol

I'm up for a lynch anyhow. :v It's something I'd post a minute before hammer. Again, it's up for you to decide. Be sure to scout somebody tonight instead of killing them (if you wish) on the chance of Choppy scouting you. If you don't think that TP will strike again, feel free to kill whoever you want. Shade is always a good target. :v

I'm just wondering if maybe Irish isn't going to reveal your alignment and that's why he keeps saying to make sure we don't do that.

That's fine as well. Actually, you're right. That might be the case, which would be hilarious.

:D Yep!

I think Irish said I can use my watch and kill at the same time so I could do both. But I guess it's up to whether Chop tries to scout me or not. Or if Orange jails me to "give me a gift." If I do kill, I guess it might depend on what the town people say they're going to do, but I was thinking of going after KY, Shade, or iLTS. KY because I wonder if he might be a cop. Shade because he probably won't get any protection. Or iLTS to get rid of the doctor (and because he thinks all the BPs are telling the truth, so he's probably gonna go after me, no matter how innocent I seem. :P)

IIRC Jeod claimed cop.

He was an ability cop...or sort of - he stole the abilities. I'm not sure about alignments. The thing that got me thinking on KY is the first night he said he did his action on himself and found out what he needed to know, whatever that means.

Who do you think I should watch?

It would be hilarious if they shoot you because it would be like… the stupidest thing ever. That shot obviously exists for a reason that isn't either of us.

Yep. With this many anti-scum roles in the game, I'm pretty darn certain that we're not the biggest threat out there. :v

I don't even care that I can't kill it either. It's just too funny.

In any case, what if you watched an obvious nightkill target? And I don't mean our nightkill target. :v

Like who? And how would you feel about me voting for you?

I don't know who yet. But it's likely to be one of the blocking lads. As for you voting for me, I don't know. It's a bit late for that. What have you brought against me so far? :v

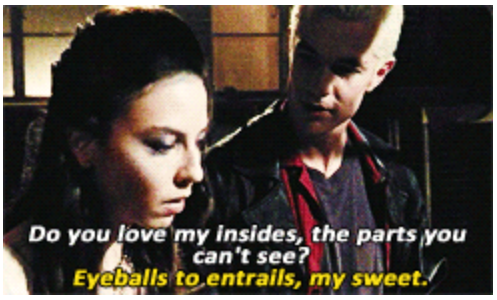

Ummm… pretty much nothing. You were getting ganged up on enough as it is. But if I don't vote, it'd probably be even more suspicious.

The thing is, it would still look rather suspicious for you to simply jump in long after the decision to lynch me has been made. If only we had a cvc right now. :v

Well, who do you suspect right now?

Remember one thing before I go. My passive specifically states that I can kill undead if I visit them myself. This means that undead, whoever they may be, are unkillable at night normally. Be wary of the upcoming zombie cult. Also, should I end up in said zombie cult, I'm going to scolt Irish. For I despise changing sides and fighting against my former friend(s).

Awww thanks. :)

1. That's a very weird thing to ask.
2. I don't think that I can stomach the insides of your stomach. :v

In any case, I'm surprised to see it being so silent before hammer.

Yeah. I guess because nobody's really voting for anyone else.

Don't worry, you won't change alignments no matter what, Nodlied.

Good. :v Just ask Verti what happened when I was forced to change alignments in Deadspace 3. :v

I guess KY is probably pocketing his day vig.

Anyways, it was fun playing with you Nodlied. Good game!

We don't know that yet. :v

Anyway, best of luck!

Night Three

Lol no Snipe I'm not bussing. I'm just not conceding the game. =P

By the way, asking for permission to post a tiny part of a video of KB saying that Ghosts can't die, they'll just come back later. :v

Go for it, I don't mind.

Damnit, time didn't save. Permission to edit post? :v

Granted.

Thanks!

Sunflower, I'll leave this doc open for you to jot down your thoughts.

Ehehehehehehe, see you later!

Be careful of the two post limit, since you're at it now, Sunflower

Oh right. Thanks. :)

No nightkill?

I haven't really decided yet. But wanted to get the other one in first.

Day Four

Ooohhh goodie another vampire to play with!

Catching up now!

Not that it matters, but Drusilla wouldn't have been affected by Madness since she's Insane, so Sunflower wouldn't have ever had to worry about the "bad result" for people when they visit you.

One reason I picked Sunflower was so she wouldn't have to deal with being randed :p

I actually started to wonder that last night and thought of killing Orange to test it. Good thing I didn't!

Randed?

A shortened version of Rand[omiz]ed

When I said "I'd take care of it" in regards to a bad effect, that's what I meant.

Just to clarify. If you were targeted by a cop last night, you would've still been neutral at the time.

I figured, I think I can talk my way out of it.

This might help (shame on me for helping Scum) https://wiki.mafiascum.net/index.php?title=Cop

BTW, with the blocking, you should be bulletproof, but given strange things happened instead it might not have happened.

Hmmm.. I didn't get anything about that. It said I ambushed you and gave you a choice to either die or join me.

There were 3 different results from you visiting Sunflower. If you visited her for the first or second target, you (Orange) would've gained 1x shot night BP (Enhanced Vampirisim). If you visited her the 3rd time while Nodlied was alive, you'd die, if you visited her the 3rd time while Nodlied was dead, you'd be given a choice.

Lucky you! You get to be Drusilla's little play thing. =P

Just be better than Lacroix :p

OH btw too. Nodlied and I did NOT kill Jeod. We've utterly failed at killing ANYONE so far this game. I was trying to kill iLTS last night but at least I got a new buddy out of it.

I have 3 abilities. Night ability is basic watch (wasn't lying about that - but was lying about it being Alice). Day ability is hypnotize - I can change the vote of one person to my vote and it has a hidden effect on someone. And my passive is insanity - my mind can't be judged or effected. Sounds like part of that was resistance to your passive.

TBH I thought you might be a witch cursing things. I rated it like 20% chance of any special effect visiting you. I considered ilts and shade more likely candidates for the special thing mentioned in my PM.

Btw, Orange, do you think it's a good or bad thing that I tried to implement both good and bad synergy this game? As opposed to just good synergy.

Define bad synergy.

Two players with effects that could negatively impact each other or themselves upon interaction. Such as you and Sunflower.

I think it's fair. I mean, I'm the one who originally set you up as sub captain and Shade as defuser.

The main reason I decided to add both is because in Battle Of The Gods, Jeod and ChopBam seemed to be specifically looking for the other for that bonus effect. I'd rather give the player a reason to think twice about it as well.

Yeah that's fair enough.

What are your abilities btw?

And wtf is going on with Cat 5 lol

Just what I've claimed, I've been honest. And I think Cat 5 is quoting a Borderlands 2 meme.

But why? He just got himself shot.

I don't know… maybe this was a trap and he comes back even more powerful now…

Like Obi-Wan Kenobi?

I'd lol if it is Cat 5 posessed by Jeod and Jeod was just trolling.

Wow. Or maybe Jeod trolled him so hard that he decided he wanted to be shot. Lol

Also noticed you changed your name to Dreamy Gibbon :p

Yep it's much better than the old one!

Anyways, whatever he's trying to do, there's nothing we can do about it so may as well just assume he's dead for good. shrug I bet KY is going to regret using that shot.

Yeah maybe it would have been better if we could have goaded him into shooting verti or ilts.

Definitely.

Oh, forgot to update your PM, Orange. You're strictly RB now.

Lost my passive? :v

Oh no, still have that, but Jailing changed to Roleblocking because your main research material is right next to you.

Aren't I interesting?

Interesting. Jinx :p

As long as we all know who's the stronger vampire. I was the one that made you join me. ;)

You got lucky :v

Technically age does determine a vampire's strength (usually) and being that Drusilla was born around 1845, she would be older.

Very true!

In WoD it goes by generation though, how many vampires removed from the old ones. Wow, moving your line up to pre-empt mine :p

It has a totally different meaning underneath. =P

What generation would Grout be in? Drusilla is 3rd generation, I believe.

The scales are different. In WoD 3rd generation are the clan originators, circa 5000-2000 BC. Grout is fairly strong though, as he becomes LA's primogen of his clan, meaning strongest of that clan in the city.

Sometimes you can wield power with more than just power. Like with my charming personality!

You also have the powers of a Seer and hypnotism. Not to mention the strong ability to survive since she never died throughout the series - unlike Grout :b

There's a fan theory that Grout actually faked his final death, given how paranoid he was at the end of things.

I wonder how many Buffy villains can claim that honor. Not very many for sure. Especially since she never turned to the goodside, unlike Spike.

I think we should try and cast suspicion on Shade again :v

How come?

Because he deserves it :v

Lol. We're definitely in a little tricky spot since there was no kill and I admitted to being blocked. But at least I was able to mention the BP thing. I was hoping Cat 5 would be around to confirm that with Jeod. So much for that.

Yeah and there's a decent chance I'm on the chopping block, so can't get too buddy buddy.

I was thinking of pointing out that your ability is pretty useful for town. But if you think it's too buddy buddy, I guess you could do it.

That's probably okay.

Yeah, although I expected Orange to visit you for the 3rd time, I didn't expect this turn of events.

I updated your PM now, Orange.

:D

BTW completely randomly, in poke go today caught a ghost type that was new to me and named it Drusilla.

Before you found out I was Drusilla?

Yep, and at the time I couldn't remember where the name came from.

It's like it was fate!

So let's see here. We're down to 7 right? So it's 5 vs 2. With my hypnosis, we need to get it down to the point where 3 votes would be enough.

A successful mislynch and night kill would get us there, so we really only need to survive today.

Wow what a turn of events for scum team.

Choppy still isn't clear lol.

It'd probably be best not to lynch Shade if we can avoid it cause I don't think there's any way that iLTS will try to protect someone who's claiming vanilla.

I could always RB ilts too.

Oh yeah good point. Wow, so really all we need to do is survive today.

Well and not get mummified tonight. @.@

Mummy might actually help us, who knows!

Let's hope so!

Maybe Chop is the mummy man.

Maaybe. It's kinda hard to get a read on.

This isn't really a hint, but the game still has a lot of different ways it could play out. This is certainly one of the better ones for you two though, aside from the suspicion on Orange.

It feels like we got pretty lucky but I guess I at least convinced Orange I was towny enough to deserve my "gift" that got him on the team.

Oh wow Chop tracked me too so you pretty much saved me from getting outted as scum.

I think the focus of my attacks will be on Chop/Shade.

Better say you didn't get informed of being affected by the curse (which is true, heh)

RIP, us, you might want to get another bus pass ready.

If we no lynch then kill, we could potentially 3 v 3 it and rand the lynch and then win.

Maybe. I still think we can pull through. I swear one of these games I should actually play as Cassandra because nobody ever listens to me, no matter how good my arguments are. D:

The whole thing about the guilty result that I'm saying is true too x.x But if I flip scum they are gonna be so smug even when they are actually wrong.

Yeah it's ironic because before last night you weren't scum.

Maybe next time I will just go down with the ship to spite town and deny them my presence :p

Lol well don't reveal your alignment because Irish kept telling Nodlied and I not to do that no matter what.

I'm tempted if they vote me to explain that I was not always scum, but :p

That would make it obvious that it was because of me. >.>

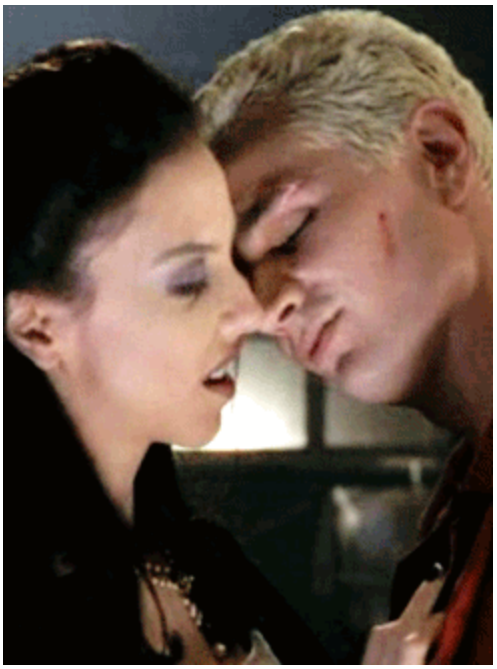

Lol okay I won't then :p

If only Nodlied had actually flipped I would have had airtight cover :p

Yeah I guess it's kinda weird because Nodlied wanted to reveal he was scum and I reminded him Irish said we shouldn't. And it was good for me at first but now that you're my partner, it would have been better if he did. Lol

Let's blame Irish if we lose :v

Lol well I dunno. The way the insane vampires got united was pretty cool.

At least NKs should be able to happen now that I'm not blocking them :p

And yeah, first night you blocked Nodlied from killing Chop. Second night, Nodlied failed to kill Cat 5 because he is a ghost. Third night, I failed to kill iLTS because you blocked me (but it was good cause Chop tracked me!) First day, we failed to lynch Verti. 2nd day we failed to lynch Shade because apparently he has a thing that makes him lynchproof (maybe?) and 3rd day Nodlied got lynched…. So lots of fail has been happening.

Yeah we never confirmed what Shade's action did, it's an angle I might work on.

Btw when I said I watched Cat 5 the first night it was a lie. I actually watched Nodlied. =P

Lol, well better keep that straight!

Dunno if you noticed when you were reading the doc but at first we thought we both got role blocked and we almost said so but if we did it prob would have been curtains on us like immediately.

Yeah I made a goof like that once with the randomizer.

I have no clue why I'm like the only person in this game that thinks Verti is suspicious.

I have, there's just nothing I could do about it so I ignored him. I might press on it again later.

Maybe I can buddy buddy with ilts and even if I go down it puts focus on him not you :p

Lol how very vampire of you to go down for your partner

I felt bad that I wasn't able to stick up for Nodlied more but with how everyone was acting, I think it would have just made it obvious we were partners.

Nodlied shouldn't have claimed neutral, that might have saved him.

He was probably already screwed before then because nobody believed his ability was focused on undead (it was btw).

I just kinda ignored that cause I assumed someone else was undead cause I don't think of vampires as undead but if I'd spoken up about being undead maybe people would have believed :p

Nodlied was able to kill undead if he visited them personally (he also had minions that he could use and not be trackable but they couldn't kill ghosts). So I think that Verti is pretty much unkillable now without Nodlied or KY's gunshot.

We could try roleblocking him and see if his passive protection gets roleblocked, then kill him. Could be a gamble but it might work. Might be more productive to go for someone we know we can kill though.

Yeah I think we'd be better off targeting someone else.

Lol ilts might have saved us for now.

Omg I think I just figured out how to kill Verti. I think it's the hidden effect from my hypnosis.

Oh?

My hypnosis has a hidden effect on one player. I just feel like it's Verti for some reason. Too bad that ability is probably too scummy to actually use until the end of the game.

Yeah, let's not use it just yet, though would be nice to off him lol.

The hidden effect could be on you too since we're vampires and you had hidden effects on your abilities with me. But I feel like there has to be some weakness for Verti hidden in this game somewhere.

Yeah, there has to be a way.

I feel like this gif is like the kind of conversation our characters would have.

Lol well I think Dr. Grout prefers bloodpacks.

Drusilla prefers her blood at 98.6

Not sure she should be a role model though ;)

Holy cow, they're actually turning on Chop, lol

It must be killing you to not be able to post these gifs in the thread :p

=P It's okay I've had some Alice gifs. But honestly I'm pretty surprised nobody's asked me why my avatar is from Alice Madness Returns and not Alice in Wonderland. Because THIS is what Alice looks like in Madness Returns.

Reminds me to check steamgifts today :v

:)

If Jeod stole my insanity passive, I was actually going to point out my avatar. It was like the perfect comp for Drusilla. With the added bonus of seeming sweet and innocent with my cheshire cat. And I guess in a way I can see Drusilla just kind of role playing as Alice in her madness.

I'm glad everyone is arguing so I don't have to. Also the forum stopped going YO for me and it's annoying, having to manually check.

The conversation veered away from unanimously voting you up and that's the main thing lol.

Was about to come here and ask if we should switch to Shade, lol.

It annoys me how much town is right but for the wrong reasons.

I really wish for a masonry with ilts right now if he's TP maybe we could have had a chance of convincing him to join us.

Lol but with his vengeful ability, it's good for him to be thinking about other players. I think this whole episode will convince him to pick Verti if he ever gets lynched.

I think it will be close but we will win the vote.

The best part is it wasn't our idea so if he flips town, it'll probably cast suspicious on iLTS.

Yeah we could sacrifice ilts next too.

I'm a little worried that with how hard I'm attacking Verti, I put a target on my back for the mummy but I guess it was needed lol.

Maybe blocking Verti would be beneficial… I do kinda want to block Shade in case Chop tracks me.

I'm not sure. It depends on the result today but blocking iLTS would be the safest best to ensure a successful NK, though it would make you have to explain why you did that.

If Shade lives and we assume he's telling the truth of that I could spin it as distrusting ilts.

If you don't want to block iLTS we could try to predict who he'll protect but it'll just be a little more risky.

Nah, blocking ilts is a good idea.

I guess it depends on who Chop tracks but I wonder if blocking and killing iLTS would help because people wouldn't expect you to be the killer if they think you're a jailer.

I think ilts could be a useful distraction alive, plus it might be better to go after KY cause I have a feeling he might try to cop you tonight.

Yeah I guess there aren't really many other good options for him to cop other than Verti. Unless he's suspicious of Chop.

I feel like he goes for people in the shadows and you've been in the shadows more.

Verti hasn't even said what he does. D: Do people seriously believe all he is is a lynchproof town. You've gotta be kidding.

Yeah like obvious TP in my book.

I wish I could just use my hypnosis on him right now without pretty much admitting I'm scum.

Hey Irish, can Orange use his NK with his ability or am I the only one that can do it with an ability?

Yeah good question, but I feel like I might be tracked.

I think you're more likely but Chop did track me last night so he could try it again. Then again, I'd probably have a better chance of weaseling out of a track claim than you. And I'd WOULD like to kill someone for once.

BTW this is like a perfect gif for my feelings about the idea of Cat 5 talking with dead Jeod last night.

Lol gif game on point.

When Shade asked me about my day action, I just ignored him and nobody pressed me about it. Whew!

Looks like we're going to survive the first day of your new leaf unless something crazy happens at the last minute.

Random question that could throw a wrench in my hypnotism. Do you think anyone might have a dayblock?

At this point I'd say it's unlikely but possible.

If anyone has it, it'd probably have to be either Chop or KY - tho KY had a gunshot so I guess the only real possibility is Chop or MAAYBE Verti but I don't think so.

Yeah I don't think so either.

I guess that could be a reason to kill Chop too. But I'm a little worried about the comment he made about having all these defensive passives.

I think it'll be fine.

Do you remember what I'm talking about?

Kinda. He said something about there being too many for them all to be believable.

Anyways we're not going to find out whether Shade dies or not for a while so I guess we'll have to talk about our strategy later tonight or tomorrow.

Maybe since it's technically past hammer we can enjoy some peace and quiet :v

Huh. I kinda thought Shade was going to die. Oh well. Still better than one of us getting lynched. At least that keeps him as an option for my hypnosis even if I think I need to use it on Verti.

Orange is able to use both his regular night action and the nightkill at the same time since he is now Mafia.

Now, pick your targets carefully. Good luck.

We could kill chop so he couldn't track, or kill KY so he couldn't cop.

I think it might be helpful to make a chart of the things we're dealing with.

Chop - tracker possibly with a defensive passive
KY - cop with a gunshot that he used
Shade - apparently vanilla with one time lynchproof - the most dangerous thing about him is being confirmed town
Verti - lynchproof and I don't know why but I suspect also killproof. Probably TP, might be dangerous to visit him iLTS - claimed doctor with day BP. Has vengeful so lynching him gets more and more dangerous with less people

Out of those 5, I think iLTS, Chop, and KY are the only ones with an even remote chance of getting voted up. Shade won't get voted up now and nobody will want to vote up Verti because he might still be lynchproof (and probably is)

Are you sure KY's ability is going to be randed tonight?

Oh yeah, forgot about that. I'm like 90% sure it will be.

Why not 100%?

Because it's CYOR, who knows what will happen.

Lol so you're saying it SHOULD happen unless he has an ability that prevents it?

Yeah and I doubt he does, especially if Chop claimed to be curse proof.

Okay so how do we feel about a random cop report? It's a little less dangerous than him being able to pick his target but never know where it'll land.

The way it works, he might not even know who it lands on. The only way to know for sure would be if chop tracked KY so he knew who he visted.

I don't think anyone's brought it up recently so Chop probably isn't thinking of it.

Yep.

Okay so I had a thought. I know Chop and iLTS and KY are threats to us with their abilities but we still need to get someone voted up that isn't us when all is said and done. I wonder if it might not be the worst thing to kill Shade to maximize the number of scummy people left in the game?

Yeah I had that thought too.

All I promised him was I wouldn't vote for him. Never said I wouldn't kill him. :)

Lol, and it might be beneficial to have his wild accusations gone. Hi Irish, see you popping in :p

Just getting a quick look in before I have to leave for work :b Won't be back until about 10 hours from now.

That reminds me. I'll probably be gone for hammer of next day, due to my emergency dentist appointment. That could make coordinating the vote tricky. We'll need to decide by lunch time that day what our plan is.

Oh yeah you probably won't be feeling too good when you get back either. :

Yeah it could be just a filling, it could be a root canal, or it could be pulling the tooth, don't know yet.

No worries, we'll figure it out when we get there.

We still have hypnotise, so the key is really having me sit on someone viable for that and you can do the rest if need be.

Yeah the only drawback of killing Shade is we know he'd be a safe target for that because he'd almost definitely actually get lynched lol. But I think it's still a good idea to kill him.

Okay, then who should I block?

The only other people we might want to kill are Chop or iLTS I think but if we kill either of them, I think it's going to really limit the number of suspects we can get voted up.

Whoever I block gets taken out of the running for "who did the night kill" too so we need to consider that. Maybe I should block verti just because.

You could try it but tbh I'm pretty suspicious that he might have some kinda passive about people visiting him.

I'm not too worried about it, and maybe it could even be used to confirm my whereabouts.

As long as it doesn't kill you.

Hmmmm, maybe that's how Jeod died? Visiting someone and setting off a passive.

It's possible. Cat 5 certainly sounded like he thought the person Jeod targeted was a surprise before he went bonkers and demanded to be shot.

Maybe if they come back they will cast suspicion on a TP who did that, heh, and help us.

I know that Verti is the logical choice for either of us to visit but I just have a bad feeling about it.

I think it will be fine.

Hmmm. Well maybe let's think about our abilities at the same time. Who do we think I should watch and will that impact who the best person to block is.

We're in kind of a tricky spot with my watch because so far I haven't actually provided ANY useful info other than I failed last night because of you. And the longer that goes on, people are probably gonna start to wonder why I never have anything useful to say. But the problem obv is if I do have something useful to say, that would be clearing someone.

You could track Shade too, saying you wanted to see if he was truthful about having no night actions?

Watch means I can see who visited a player. So a town watcher is either looking for the NK target or trying to confirm a story from other townies.

You could watch KY thinking he might get NKed.

Yeah I guess. I doubt Chop will track him but iLTS will probably protect him so it would mean likely clearing iLTS.

Could watch chop maybe, for same reason. Not as strong a reason but can probably BS it.

That could be an idea. I guess we could coordinate too like if you blocked the person we think would visit the person I'm watching. But that could also link us if people think deeply about it.

Verti is already calling us linked but nobody else seems to care.

Who do you think you would block if you were still neutral?

ILTS, because he's like in a pair with Shade and we just established that Shade is telling the truth.

That might be the easiest one for you to explain then. Tho it would limit our lynch candidates to Chop and KY

Yeah, and it would remove the doctor, too. For all we know though ilts actually is TP too, you know. He claims to have mostly doctored himself. Also, if we leave Shade alive, it might win brownie points with him. He could do all our arguing for us.

What do you mean?

Shade is still suspicious of ILTS kinda. If we "take his side" by blocking ILTS it might get him to quit being so agro on us and actually help us.

Maybe but if you block iLTS and we lynch him, he might use his vengeful on you.

I'm not saying to make ILTS the lynch target with that. We'd probably have to go after KY or Chop. ILTS would be cleared of the nightkill anyway.

In that scenario, we killed one of those 2 so it would really only be one option.

I think we're more likely to mislynch Chop than KY, so maybe kill KY.

I guess if you think about it, Chop and iLTS are really our only viable lynch targets anyway x.x. So if we're going to block iLTS, the benefit we gain of removing Shade is only helpful if anyone suspects KY. But I'm not sure that anyone does. So in that case, removing KY might be better than Shade.

I don't think it's impossible to spin it onto KY, but it would be a really hard sell.

Probably the most suspicious thing about him is how he shot Cat 5 so quickly. But other than that, he's seemed pretty towny. Especially since the argument we used against his cop report admitted that he was telling the truth.

Yeah, I think it's probably for the best then.

Okay, I think if we're going to kill KY, we definitely need to block iLTS because there's a decent chance he'll protect KY. And it probably means I need a different watch target unless we think people will trust me enough to make a claim that Chop visited KY.

Hmmm, hadn't considered that. That could definitely rig things in our favor if people buy it.

It would definitely spin Chop against me, that's for sure lol. It would pretty much make a Chop vs me vote. But maybe my hypnosis would spin it in our favor in the end. The only thing is I kind of want to use my hypnosis to make Verti vote for himself lol.

I guess sometimes you have to go big or go home. Now's our chance to go big, and if it doesn't work, well, we tried…

What do we think of our chances of getting Chop voted up without doing that?

Questionable, but probably the best option nonetheless.

I guess the drawback of going with the gambit is if Chop actually flips town, then everyone will know I'm scum, including possibly the mummy. >.>

If we can actually make kills and mislynches happen now though we might be able to "outrun" the problem.

We might need it because Verti seems like he's already decided what he wants to believe and Chop will probably vote for you unless he has a reason not to like tracking you to iLTS.

Yeah, I say let's do it.

I just want to say that I think the chances are pretty high I will be killed the following night if Chop flips town.

I don't think it will be a problem.

Do you mean not a problem that I might die? Because it would be good if you would just believe me on this and not tell me it will be fine to make me feel better. =P

Well I think our ships are tied together so we might both go down, but without Chop, I probably do have a better chance of skating by x.x

I guess unless Chop has a reason to clear you, we can assume the situation without the gambit would probably be Verti and Chop voting for you and Us voting for Chop. Do we think we could convince Shade and iLTS to vote with us without the gambit?

Shade who knows, but maybe. ILTS might be mad I blocked him though.

Maybe let's see what happens at day start before making the final decision on the gambit. I could just be away from the forum and you could tell me the situation in the doc and go from there.

Okay, yeah, we'll see who comes out swinging.

If I'm making the kill, maybe I should watch myself because the tracking info from Chop would probably be the same.

It might show you doing two things, but that could actually work to our advantage if you are found out, as it might confuse them if you visit yourself.

I can't think of anyone better to watch. Watching iLTS would have us blocking each other two nights in a row, which is probably too suspicious and I might at least get some useful info if I know Chop visited me beforehand.

Yeah, I say go for it.

Okie dokie I guess we have our plan then. Block iLTS, kill KY, watch me, and wait and see what happens before deciding on the gambit.

:) I'll go PM Irish then.

I guess I can talk about this because I'm already cursed, and therefore cannot be cursed again, but I got the death note!

You're immune to other status effects, and that counts as a status effect :b

So maybe there's no curser at all.

Who knows

Is Sunflower able to talk about this back to me?

What do you mean?

The Death Note only affects people who have it, so it won't like insta-kill anyone else for talking about it, right?

It only affects people who've gained the contract, which is permanent. But if it's existence has been revealed, it can be talked about vaguely/generally. They still can't reveal the rules or anything. And if a player has ever owned/used the Death Note, they're not able to divulge that info.

This would have been useful like a day earlier.

Oh really? Well isn't that great. It probably explains why anyone in this game has ever died so far!

Oh no chopbam x.x

I kinda figured that was going to happen. Oh well.

On the bright side, as long as I survive, I can kill twice tomorrow night.

It doesn't make me feel any better because I wanted to try this epic move to kill Verti and now I probably will never get to try it.

You can still claim to have watched him and then throw the blame on someone else.

Maybe Jeod can't vote.

There's only 2 options. Claim I watched and lead the argument to Verti being the killer or say Chop is full of BS and say I did not visit KY at all.

I think we could most leverage on blaming chop saying he's full of BS.

Later in the day, I could always try to split the vote by outright revealing the Death Note to all.

I guess if worst comes to worst I could try to convince people that I think I can kill Verti and get them to let me try it.

Yeah maybe that's an option too. I don't think we're in a dire situation just yet.

Or I guess I could say I watched KY and saw Chop kill him lol. But I'm not sure if it matters - it might be better than saying I watched myself.

Ironically, because Chop just suggested it makes sense there was no kill when you were blocked, that might actually get him to lay off me x.x lol Because why would I block you if I was scum (and at the time, I wasn't!)

Yay for you?

I'm like excited by all the victory that the death note can bring.

Just be careful with it. I don't know how it works but being careful with it sounds like a good idea lol.

I am too tired to actually plan much this time of night. Have to figure out people's "true names" or whatever. I think we have that for iLTS.

That'd be nice for me since people think I'm someone other than who I am. Or at least it would be if I had any chance of surviving today. :\

Shade seems to be following along Chopbam unfortunately.

I noticed.

I wonder if I say "I have the death note, who else has had it?" if anyone will kneejerk into saying "You can't say that!", thus revealing themselves and killing themselves.

It works like that?

Well it says they can't reveal having had it.

Maybe but it'd be better to do it at an active time when everyone is there to respond quickly without thinking.

Yeah, I didn't mean like right now.

Lol it just hit me, my "Madness" ability is why I can talk about it, maybe I can talk about it because people just think I'm insane babbling.

I'm insane too. I wonder if the same would apply to me? =P Probably not because my ability works differently but you know how I feel about mechanics vs lore in games lol

The worst thing about this situation is with Jeod being back we now have no idea if a dayblock might be in play.

I'm sure Jeod will put all his cards on the table, if we just give him enough rope to hang himself with.

I dunno I'm just gonna go to sleep. Maybe I'll feel better tomorrow to be able to put up some argument.

Sooo I don't think you should mention your book anymore lol

I dunno, Jeod is agro on Chop!

That's what I mean. The reason he's aggro is because he thinks Chop is lying about visiting him because his curse didn't trigger.

I kinda slipped some things but I'll refrain from saying more I guess.

Heh Jeod asked me the question though x.x I think I should just say it and pull it out now. It can cast suspicion on him for asking for names maybe.

I guess since you already did it there's nothing that can be done about it anymore. X.x But I'm probably going to get the suspicion back on me because of it.

I will try and spin things onto chop still. Jeod's saying that his passive didn't activate is still true, after all. I think.

Well yes but revealing the book will give an obvious reason for why Chop didn't kill him. >.>

Unless Chop was the death note person ;) Also, saying the deathnote is unblockable allows me to cast suspicion on ILTS again.

You should have at least waited for Shade to be online at the moment you said it…

He is online, isn't he?

It doesn't list him on the bottom for me but maybe that doesn't mean anything.

He likes to hide himself sometimes. I thought he recently posted but maybe not. He posted 15 minutes ago.

Too bad this stupid resurrection BS means I still can't safely reveal my hypnotize ability without obviously being scum so I can't tell Jeod that I think I'm the only person that can kill Verti in this situation with 7 players alive.

I wonder if Cat 5 is still a valid target, like could kill him twice or something or kill him with the death note to put an end to his shenanigans.

All I know is literally everything I've tried to do this game got screwed somehow and I don't think I've been doing dumb things.

That's like when kam was a randomizer and it made me lose the game x.x

Anyway, I need to figure out how to respond to both Chop and Jeod. Chop is pretty straightforward - or at least it was until now. Not sure if the note changes that. Jeod isn't because I either have to keep up my Alice lie and risk him copying me or I have to admit I was lying about the flavor of my abilities and be able to explain why I thought that I needed to do that as town.

I'm thinking of saying I think Death Note is untrackable, and cast Shade on Chop saying he's completely unneeded if that's the case. That might backfire on you though, so I dunno x.x

I don't think you should lie about how the Death Note works because it's likely you're not the only one who knows the details.

I'm pretty sure that's a true thing though. Or at least it's one way to read the rules.

I dunno cause I've never seen it but regardless, you still shouldn't make anything up about it even if that part might be true.

Image of Death Note suing me for libel

It's just that there's probably town people who've seen it if you're just receiving it this late in the game and if you make anything up about it, they'll know.

They're also going to know you used it tonight if you do use it unless that thing with Cat 5 is an option.

Verti claimed.

Could always argue there are TWO death notes floating around.

We could argue KY was controlled by the Death Note into shooting Cat 5, and then because he was in the death note he died later as a delayed kill and it wasn't you.

JEOD GAVE YOU AN OPENING!

Yeah but what do I say my ability is. Why would a town person have an ability that forces someone to vote their way?

I'd argue it's not too different from a vig, and vigs are generally town. It's like a vig but not fatal :D (usually)

I might do it but I have a lot of stuff to respond to and I don't know where to start. >.>

Jump in at the end with the offer to help off Verti, then mention you're going back to respond to the other stuff.

Being agro on Verti is definitely good for you right about now too.

Should I still claim I saw Chop visit KY? I...think I should because whoever had the death note before you knows what they did or didn't do with it last night.

Go for it.

ILTS…. facepalm

I think we're gaining traction, somehow!

Nice gif game. I feel that liking it in the thread would make me suspicious though :p

=P I noticed people don't do likes on posts like that.

It's technically against the rules but some of us do it anyway if it's a really good gif or whatever.

Jeod can still be swayed.

I think Jeod suspects me because he doesn't think I would know about Misa and Gelus >.> That's a frustrating reason to suspect me.

Well at one time I did tell him we watched some of it but you didn't like it. If pressed I'll just say you knew about Misa.

Think I should just drop the hypnosis bomb right now? Or wait and see what happens?

Go for it. At least we'll get to see the look on Verti's face. That is, if Irish is really paying attention…

IRISH WE NEED AN ADULT!

Wow now he is lying that someone tried to NK him. Geez.

I mean, that's my real reason for wanting to get him, because he deserves it :v

Was it night or day BP from your jail btw?

It just says BP so I assume that's night and day, but it doesn't say lynchproof.

This is crazy lol.

:o Jeod Called Shade out! All we have to do is make it so one of us doesn't get on the chopping block and we're home free I bet.

Well we knew that things would go bonkers if you revealed the note and they definitely did lol.

Chaos is our friend. There's like two outcomes that are bad for us, and many more that are good for us. We just need so much crap flying around the roulette wheel lands on a good outcome.

I guess so!

Jeod voted Chopbam!

ILTS voted Chopbam!

Chopbam seems to surrender!

I guess my actions are in. Think I'm just gonna peace out from the forum.

Verti60 is one of the biggest trolls, try your best not to be bothered too much. He'll betray anyone, even his own team if he gets a laugh out of it.

Verti seems to be throwing a fit now though.

What was that?

I think I'm going to take a break from the forum for a while so if cat 5 wants to talk to me with his dead people thingy, please tell Orange to let me know or something. Or email me.

You still haven't sent to me who you're going to roleblock (in case you forgot that you can do both RB and the NK), you can target iLikeToSnipe, ChopBam, Shade, Jeod, or Cat5. You also have to decide whether to Pass the Death Note or keep it (although you won't be able to use it to kill tomorrow, it will prevent anyone else from using it).

I thought the death note counted as an action :v I'm deliberately keeping it though. I'll send a notice to block Cat 5 officially.

It's in the hidden mafia rule at bottom of your Death Note PM that allows you to use both actions.
