Range

DEFINITION

The difference between the largest and smallest values in a list.

CHARACTERISTICS

- Can be found by subtracting the smallest number from the largest number.
- Basic measure of consistency of a list – the smaller the range the more consistent the values.
- Affected by outliers.

EXAMPLES

NON-EXAMPLES

Range is not 9 - 2