Some children believe they are too small or too young to help make the world a better place.

Here's some really good advice about making a difference in your family, your school, your community. This advice comes from Theodore Roosevelt:

Do what you can, with what you have, where you are.

Today, begin to look for ways to help out. Commit a random act of kindness. Offer to help a teacher. Do an extra chore at home. Write a letter to the local newspaper about a worry you have. Remember, you don't need to wait until you are older. You can make a difference right now.
