

Michael Eubanks
Cycle A: Grant Proposal Review #2
LDTE - 5700
Issues, Practices, and Research in LDT
University of Wyoming

Donna Davis: Researching Online Accredited Education for Women in Challenging Regions

Relevance to RFP

While the proposal does address a specific problem and proposes a well designed solution, there is no funding agency or RFP listed. I cannot evaluate whether the application meets the requirements.

Abstract

The proposal has a well-structured Executive Summary containing the objectives and methodology of the proposed research. Expected outcomes are included and well-defined.

Proposal Narrative

The proposal narrative is well thought out and contains strong justification for research.

Budget Section and Justifications

The budget section is well-designed and includes good explanations and justification for spending amounts. Could add more detail about consulting fees by breaking them down into the listed categories of accreditation, online education, and curriculum development.

Broader Impacts Section

Broader impacts are covered well by promoting gender equality and educational accessibility. Good explanation for how the study can contribute to future policy and program development.