Natural wonders of Egypt

Egypt is visited by more than 14 million tourists every year. We have made a list of the natural wonders of Egypt that we think visitors should know about.

The White Desert National Park

This huge desert starts on the western bank of the River Nile and continues into Libya. It contains five oases, with sand dunes that the wind has made into strange shapes. The colours change at different times of day and make them beautiful to look at.

Al - Nayzak Lake

This natural lake is a three - hour drive from Hurghada. The lake is called the shooting star lake because it is believed that a piece of a star (a meteorite) fell in it. The Lake is cut out of the rock in the shape of an eye and is filled with the bright blue water of the Red Sea. It is described by the visitors as one of the best places to dive and swim.

Gebel Elba

This national park is surrounded by grassland between the Red Sea Coast and the mountains. This national park takes its name from the mountain in the middle of it. It is unusually green and home to many animals and birds. However, as it isn't easy to reach, it isn't visited often. Its location should help to protect the wildlife there.

The Fayoum Depression is an area of desert, southwest of Egypt. Many ancient fossils are often found here, but the species of animal fossil might surprise you; crocodiles, turtles and whales. The most amazing fossils are the whale fossils. At Wadi al - Hitan, The Valley of the Whales, hundreds of fossils of ancient whales were found by scientists in 1902. The scientists were surprised that these whales had legs, so they once walked on land.

In 2005, the fossils at Wadi al - Hitan were discovered by a team of international scientists. The fossils were preserved really well. Some of them were 21 meters in length. It was discovered that the fossils were belong to the same family of animals as camels and giraffes. The fossils were so important that Wadi al - Hitan was called a UNESCO World Heritage site in 2005. However, it is very remote. As a result, it is only visited by about 100 people a year.

Today, some scientists are studying some of the fossils at Mansoura University. They are using some of the latest technology, and they hope to learn more about these extinct whales of the desert.

I was lucky because Jerry was a kind owner and I was always put in a warm stable.

One day Jerry and I waited for work next to a park. I watched as an old carriage drove up next to us. It was pulled by a horse who was thin and looked tired. I looked again and saw that it was my old friend, Ginger. She looked terrible. We walked for a short time. Ginger was very unhappy. She had had many different homes and worked very hard. All her owners were unkind to her and treated her badly. "You are my only friend" Ginger told me before her owner drove her away. I understood that I had a much better life than many other horses.

Mongoose

There are about 30 different species of mongooses in the world. A mongoose has a long body, with short legs and a long tail. Their bodies are covered by thick fur. Mongooses can see and hear very well, which helps them to find food and avoid danger. Mongooses are famous for fighting snakes. They are able to kill snakes by biting them.

The mongoose is found in Africa, Asia and parts of Europe. It lives in forests, wetlands or grassland, under the ground or rocks. In the 1800s mongooses were taken to live in several islands in Hawaii and the Caribbean to control the rat populations there. However, they are endangered because of deforestation and loss of habitat. Mongooses eat various animals such as rats, birds, frogs and lizards and also seeds, eggs and fruit. Mongooses are active during the day and at night. Although some live alone, many live in large groups of up to 10 where each one has a role to play. Some hunt and others look after the young. They can live for up to ten years in the wild.

Ali lived in a big house with a garden. One day, he was reading an interesting story. When it got darker, he switched on the light. Suddenly, he heard a loud cry of "Help! Help "coming from the garden. He looked out of the window but he couldn't see anything. He heard the voice again. He thought that one of the neighbors' boys had climbed a tree and couldn't get down. He took his torch and walked to the garden. He searched it very well, but he couldn't find anybody. Finally, he thought that someone was playing a trick on him. So he went back to the house. As soon as he sat down, he heard the sound from behind him. It was sitting on the bookshelf, a large green and red bird. It was a parrot.
