EventPipe Feature Enhancements

EventPipe is pleased to announce a series of enhancements to the Requests tab that will make it easier for your team to locate and act on the relevant requests you have received.

Within this tab you will now have the ability to filter your requests based on the Event Date and the request's Decision Date. To do so, select the filters button and adjust the fields to locate the requests you are searching for.

By default, the Requests tab will be filtered to only show requests with an "Event Date From" the current date. This means that the requests shown by default will be for events that are currently ongoing or start in the future. You can dismiss this filter by clearing it from the filters modal, or by clearing it from the newly added "Filtered by" bar which shows at the top of the page. By default, your requests will be sorted based on their decision date, but you can always adjust this sort order with the "Sort By:" dropdown.
