

I have been working in the social work field for 13 years, gaining a deep understanding of the challenges faced by workers across different roles and sectors. As a parent and a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I am committed to fostering equity, inclusion, and fairness in all areas of work and representation. My professional experience includes serving on equity committees and participating in job evaluations to ensure fair and equitable pay for the work being done.

Too often, I have found myself wondering what goes into the decisions made by leadership and why those decisions are not communicated clearly. This lack of transparency leaves many of us feeling disconnected from the processes that directly affect us. I believe that a union's strength lies in its ability to listen to and amplify the voices of its members, ensuring their needs and priorities guide every decision.

My priority is to create a union that is genuinely transparent, where members are informed, engaged, and empowered. A union is not about its leadership—it is about what leadership does to serve and represent its membership. If elected, I will work to ensure your voices are heard and carried forward with integrity and purpose.
