ADVANCED COURSES: PISD policy permits students to change to a lower level course during the first 3 weeks of school. After the first 3 weeks of school, students may change to a lower level course towards the end of the first quarter (9 weeks) if the student meets the following criteria: student has attended at least 3 tutorial sessions, is anticipated to have below a 70 in the course and an on-level or honors version of the course is offered. Students may also request a change at semester. Requesting a level change does not guarantee a change can be made.

The student's grade will follow into the lower level course. Honors and AP GPA points are not awarded unless a student completes a full semester in that course.

Be careful and avoid overloading your schedule with too many advanced courses. Balance your academics, activities, family and social obligations.
