Usability of Essayoneday

Essayoneday.com Review Essayoneday.com Review Essay one day praises to have 99% of orders delivered due to time. Yet, in one of Essayoneday reviews a customer made a complaint that “ Essayoneday costed me my career ”. As anything in this world Essayoneday is not flawless. However, the lateness of the site is rare.

Pricing

Essayoneday.com Review Essayoneday.com Review Customer service can make or break a company so it's important to check it out before you commit. Essay One Day offers 24/7 online support, plus a phone number (not free) and an info email address. No social media accounts or any details about where the company is located.

Essayoneday.com Review Essayoneday.com Review I ordered an essay in a rush. Essayoneday said they could write it in time for me. I waited for it, but it didn't come until just after the deadline I gave them. It was really stressful, won't do it again.

Essayoneday.com Review Essayoneday.com Review Sometimes even A students fall into troubles with academic writing due to being overwhelmed with tasks and assignments. The need for help may occur in different cases. Where to seek help and what writing sites are reliable, let's consider these issues in Essayoneday review.

Quality of Essay one day

Essayoneday.com Review Essayoneday.com Review Many companies are playing with students like yourself. I am really very sorry. But you should put a legal action against them if they are not delivering what they promised. A writer's job is to write according to the topic and professional writers can not slip from the direction.

EssayOneDay.com Review – Produced Low Quality Work

During your Bachelor's degree, Master's, or even PhD, there are certain times when you need a little extra help. Essay One Day makes you think that they can provide that help, however they can actually cause a lot of problems for students, and don't offer any work that can be submitted. This review will show why.

Customer Service – Be Prepared To Call Multiple Times

EssayOneDay will allow you to select a lot of options when you make your order on their website, so you believe that you have ordered a very specific paper that will fit your exact requirements. In actual fact, their writers will produce a general paper that many consider to be a scam as it could literally be a copy of a paper they have already sent to someone else. They do not listen to your wishes, and when you want to complain or get a refund, customer service is not easy to deal with. There's a contact number, however rarely anyone there to offer support when you call.

Quality of Writing – Unfit For Purpose

One of the main complaints about this website is the quality of the writing. While you sign up and make your account, you feel safe as they look very professional and legit, however this is not the case. Most people believe that the problems for their work are a result of using non-native English speakers as a way to cut costs. Grammar and structure is therefore very weak, and the content is not explored in any great depth.

Prices – Read The Fine Print

One of the main attractions of EssayOneDay.com is the low prices. However, the prices are often misleading. For $25 a page, you are only getting 275 words, which is very little. Plus, aspects that you think should be included for free such as plagiarism reports, or even 'VIP support' come at an extra cost, even though you'd expect the price to include customer service and confirm no plagiarism. They offer a discount, as a promotion code is available for 5% off, however this will not significantly reduce the price of your order.

Services Offered – Disappointing In All Areas

When you log in/sign up, you might worry if this is illegal/legal, however this is a legitimate service that will provide a paper for your money. However, that essay will be poor quality, and there will be nobody you can send a complaint to. The levels of plagiarism are a huge concern, as at a school like mine, I would fail a paper if plagiarism was discovered. The fact that they re-sell papers means that you risk handing in unoriginal work.

Mary Walton's conclusion on EssayOneDay.com

All students want from a writing service is reasonable value and a high quality essay that they can hand in with confidence. You also need to make sure that your paper is delivered on time, and this service will produce low quality work, that you can't refund, and may not even get to you on time. It's not worth risking accusations of plagiarism by using this service.
