

Next Education Workforce™ Site Visits

Models in Action

High-level agenda and travel details

We hope you will join us for Next Education Workforce site visits! Please use the following information to help you plan your travel.

- Your arrival: Given the early start, for those traveling from out of town, we recommend arriving the night before.
- School location: Registrants will receive a detailed agenda with the school address within your event registration confirmation email.
- Transportation to school sites: Transportation to schools is not provided. A location map and parking information will be provided. Parking is limited at the schools. Please plan to carpool with your colleagues if possible. If you have any questions, please contact our events team at edworkforce@asu.edu.
- Hotels & restaurants: You can find a list of local hotels and restaurants here. We do not have room blocks reserved; please contact hotels directly for bookings.

Site visit guidelines

During our time in schools, please keep the following guidelines in mind:

- Parking is limited at the schools. Please plan to carpool with your colleagues if possible.
- All visitors will need an ID at the front office for sign-in and will need to adhere to the clear bag policy.
- While you are welcome to take photos during our visit, please refrain from taking photos of students' or educators' faces.
- We encourage you to interact with students and educators during our visit.
- During our time in the learning environments, please refrain from conversation with other attendees to minimize disruptions to student learning.

Thank you for joining us for ASU's Next Education Workforce site visits!
