

Hey, x

I was browsing Instagram and I found your ad for dog training tips

As a dog lover as well, I would love to see if we can work together to make you have a more prominent business identity so more people can use your services.

If this is something that interests you feel more then welcome in shoot me an email and we can chat in the future :)

Aiden,

PS. I'm going to leave you with a free example to help validate my claims

EXP: Show them you're the top dog

You get home from a hard day of work and think "all I wanna do is sit on my couch and relax"

You open to the only to see your hairy buddy lying in your spot "DOWN" you scream

Now your couch is covered in hair

You go to find your vacuum and accidentally step into a puddle. You look down and no, it's pee

You walk to your bathroom to clean the pee prints in your house.

You enter the bathroom and to your surprise

All your towels are torn up, on the floor.

This is a nightmare you think and for many dog owners too

It's time you said you needed to train your dog and become the leader of your pack

No more will you have to fear coming home to a destroyed house

With our training course you go from beta to ALPHA

Become your pack leader today
