HOMEWORK

All homework is optional, however it is highly encouraged to allow students to fully participate in all activities during class, including discussions that may involve the homework previously done. Homework assignments will be described in class each week, and students are responsible for recording and understanding their homework when it is described in class.

INCENTIVES

Each student will be managing a bank account throughout the year. They will be making deposits into their account for completing homework assignments and participating in class. Withdrawals will be made if students display a lack of responsibility or respect. At the end of the year, the class will be able to spend their money at our class raffle.

GRADING

Some assignments will be graded and given a score. Parents are to check the binders of their children to see the graded work that is handed back to them. From time to time, notes may be written on assignments as well that may include praises and/or areas of improvement.

CLASS RULES

1. We raise our hands to speak.
2. We treat others the way we want to be treated, Matthew 7:12
