

The order of these fics is arbitrary, mostly in the order I found them. Some of them are good, some of them aren't, I don't want to make judgements here.

Some don't have official descriptions, so I made my own. Sorry if they're bad.

These Guys Get Levels? -

- Sometimes, stories don't end where you would expect. For Alice, it was supposed to be over. She had been cleared of the charges of regicide. The princess was saved, long-since become queen and the Royal Academy of Magi had been reformed after the brutal civil war she had unintentionally sparked. With her apprentice and her friends, she had saved a species and calmed the vicious echoes of dying gods, earned her blessings and rewards from the new pantheon.

- With the adventures over and her old life gone, it was time for her ever-after. Time to cast aside the veil of being the long-dead wizard whose legacy she had clung to and carve out her own space in the annals of history. There was a whole new world to explore. Worlds, even, if she found other connections like what had brought her here years before.
 - Then, worlds away, a call went out for [Heroes]. It pulled from elsewhere, but a spell that pulled hundreds across dimensions left far-ranging cracks. Cracks more than big enough for a few exploring mages to fall through.
 - She's a bit miffed at being lost. A bit happy to get to explore. A bit angry at how this world treats goblins. Mostly, she feels cheated that this world gets a shortcut by having levels.

Crossover Fics

Tug of War series - by Mai_Blade

- Crossover with Overlord, though I think the focus lies on the protagonist's relationship with Relc.
- Link to AO3 series page: Tug of War - Mai Blade
- Reincarnation is the last thing you expect. It's unwanted, as is the fact that you retain your memories of another world, another life.
 - Remembering means being aware that your brother has been left behind by even you, his own twin sister. Over thirty years of being together... it's not something you can go through without that time leaving its mark on you. It's something that contributes to you being you.
 - At first, you can't accept it. Why should you try to live without your brother?
 - But you don't expect your new father to care so much. You don't expect the guilt that makes you live, if only for his sake.
 - You don't expect to grow attached to Relc Grasstongue, but you do. He goes from father to Dad (to home), and you love him.
 - Once, you thought that you would give up everything if it meant you could go back to your brother, to return to his side and know that he was not alone. But, so gradually that you didn't notice it, you moved beyond your grief and learned to love someone else.
 - But your brother is back, even if it isn't in his human skin.
 - Now, you have to choose: your brother or your father.
 - They demand to know: who do you love more?
- Total length: 97k words.
- Note: Female reader insert.

- Warning: Graphic depictions of violence.
- Part 1: One Is Silver (The Other, Gold)
 - Dying was the last thing you wanted to do to your brother.
 - Having another twin feels like betrayal, so you never connect with the sister you once wish you'd had.
 - You grow up in a new world that has magic and levels (and food) but you'd trade it all in a heartbeat if it meant having him back.
 - ...Right?

 - AO3 link: <https://archiveofourown.org/works/18181328/chapters/43002830>
- Part 3: Silver Threads and Golden Needles
 - You didn't choose to start a second life in a new world with your memories intact while leaving your twin brother behind, but that's what happened. This is your life.
 - [In Non-Chronological Order]
 - 15k words, 19 chapters, WIP.
 - Comment: I think it's a series of oneshots related to One Is Silver.

Supreme - by Mai_Blade

- Crossover with Overlord, presumed to have more crossover elements than the Tug of War series.
- Lost in a new world and separated from your twin and the guild he wants you to call home, you decide that the best course of action is to stay in one place until he can come and get you.
 - Too bad you a), have to hide your new form, and b) accidentally reveal yourself as having 100 levels total.
 - Luckily, a) adventurers sometimes have quirks and your insistence on hiding your face and flesh isn't that strange, and b) becoming famous might actually help you in the long run (at least, if it doesn't kill you first).
 - You can make this work.
 - ...Hopefully.
- 100k words, 37 chapters, WIP.

Swimming, Sinking, Floating - by Punny_Fan

- Crossover with Overlord.
- A thief attacks the wrong person with the wrong attack in the wrong time, secrets are discovered, alliances are being forged, a shocking discovery, an awkward way to float and the unluckiest Rock-Crab to ever exist.
 - Inspired by the Crossover of Overlord and The Wandering Inn called Supreme, though, it will be in the same universe as the world, but you were affected by your own profile on the avatar you create to play.
- 4.5k words, oneshot.

The Greatest Healer Series - by Mai_Blade

- Crossover with My Hero Academia.
- AO3 series link: The Greatest Healer - Mai_Blade
- Note: Seems to be related to a pure MHA fanfic the author made before, exact nature of that relation is beyond my ability to care.
- Note: Reader insert.
- Part 4: The Greatest Healer In A Fantasy World
 - You, Shizu and Kyoko weren't hit by a truck, but that didn't stop you three from being transported to another world.
 - Lost and unsure, you let Shizu make use of your Quirk because it's the only resource the three of you have in a world of levels and magic where none of you know anyone.
 - Unfortunately for you, it isn't long before everyone knows about the [Healer] in Liscor.
 - (Meanwhile, in Baleros, your boys try not to die.)
 - 38k words, 9 chapters, presumed abandoned.
 - Warning: Graphic depictions of violence.

- Part 5: The Healer's Inn
 - At twenty years old, neither you or Sora are prepared for falling into a new world instead of stepping onto a train. Lost and with only each other to lean on, you and Sora know that there's no way you're splitting up. You'll do the best you can with what you have. Thankfully, at least you have your Quirks to rely on.
 - Meanwhile, your absence does not go unnoticed. In a world of millions, if not billions of Quirks, surely there's a way to find you and bring you home again.
 - Eloping and not contacting home or your friends is simply Not. Allowed.
 - They'll find you, if they have to move heaven and earth!
 - 28k words, 7 chapters, presumed abandoned.
 - Note: More BHA-centric than the other one.

Ridiculous Miracles - by Achille-Talon

- Crossover with the author's Harry Potter fanfic, The Parselmouth of Gryffindor.
 - The Parselmouth of Gryffindor
- Bit of context: this is Chapter II of an as-yet-unpublished spinoff of my Harry Potter fanfiction, The Parselmouth of Gryffindor. (Knowledge of that story is far from essential, I think; it's best to know the basics of Harry Potter, and to know that mine is a Hermione with more wacky abilities, less deference to authority, and even more focus on nonhuman rights than her canonical counterpart. But as for the rest, I think it'll improve the experience if you're as confused as the InnWorld cast about who precisely these people are and what they can do.) The basic premise is that, years after sorting out the main story's problem, three of my main characters have discovered a way of traveling to other, random universe. They always arrive in times of crisis and proceed to solve everybody's problems in hopefully-amusing ways. In this instance, this is what happens when they drop in the middle of Chapter 5.58 of The Wandering Inn.
 - Don't look for Chapter I, it's not posted yet and has nothing to do with TWI anyway. But due to the anthology nature of Fixing the Multiverse that doesn't matter.
 - Not to be taken too seriously.
- 4.2k words, 1 chapter, presumed abandoned or oneshot.
