

The Power of Persuasiveness

Hey Meg, I came across your video “How to get your first pull-up” while trying to learn pull-ups.

Your video emphasizes correct techniques and tracking progress which I'm sure, will help me a lot in the future.

Out of sheer curiosity, I visited your website and noticed you have a fitness app.

Unfortunately, I must say, it is missing a vital ingredient that's stopping many people from hopping on board.

I'm sure you must've also noticed.

The landing page for your app “Stronger by the Day” is rather simplistic and lacks the persuasive power needed to entice people to join.

Using bold and persuasive landing pages for app is guaranteed to put you miles ahead of your peers.

If you're interested, I'm willing to provide a custom, high-quality landing page for free, catering to your target audience's preferences.

Hit reply and I'll start the frameworks.

Regards

Syed
