

SL : Nutrition tracking, how can it help skiers to get better ?

Hey <name>

I find your video about helping intermediate skiers improve their skiing techniques and get them into the carving Cadet category helpful and interesting.

While I was looking over your site because I'm interested in this niche, I found some opportunities for improvement as consider integrating your coaching program with other fitness and wellness apps, such as nutrition tracking and sleep monitoring tools.

And I can help you change this and improve it.

Nutrition tracking apps can help skiers monitor their food intake, ensuring they are getting the nutrients they need for optimal performance, etc...

If it sounds good, please let me know to get in touch!
