Notes

Tiers are in Alphabetical order!

Methodology

This tier list seeks to equally rate BCEN Uber Rare units based on three different aspects: Niche, or how strong a unit is against their specific types or in their respective niche(how good is Raiden vs Reds, is his knockback useful, etc.), Value of niche, or how important a specific niche is in the meta(is KB Reds good? Is KB a good ability in the current meta at all?), and General Usage, or how viable the unit is in the wider variety of levels that aren't their niche.

In terms of weighting, having a strong general use is most valuable because it means a unit with good general use can be useful in many, many more levels than a unit who is only useful in their niche. However, this does not mean a unit that is niche will always be rated worse than a unit with strong general use, because a unit's niche can be very unique and valuable in the meta, despite the unit not being very useful in a majority of levels.

Uber Descriptions:

In this section of the tierlist, we will give a brief summary of the unit and why we believe they belong in whatever tier they're in.

Kasa Jizo: Having a first form that can be spammed to create huge DPS output and a second/third form that are decent to use generally. Due to the different roles in his forms, he is very versatile, and can be used virtually everywhere across the game. He is also one of the best anti-angels/blacks in the game.
