

EMAIL 2 ON THE SECOND PAGE AND AVATAR ON THIRD PAGE

(My Grammarly isn't work right now so IF there is any blue/red lines, mind them)

Email #1:

Subject Line: Hey, let's get started!

Hey, I'm Ronan!

I wanted to say hello and give you a very warm welcome to my email list.

I'm here to...

1 - Help you find your career direction (There's a career out there that fits you, I promise).

2 - Help you find ease answering interview questions.

3 - Show you your transferable skills.

4 - Help you find ease with selling yourself.

5 - Give you a place to start.

5 - Drain out your fear and self-doubt.

Every so often I'll provide you with how-to's and tips to help you identify what you have to offer, and therefore figure out which direction is right for you (people are often so much closer to success than they realise).

Until then, stay on your toes!

P.S. 1,305 people, just like you, have drained their fear & self-doubt and found their career via career coaching.

Find out more here

Email #2:

Subject Line: Jobless and confused => Happy with a suitable career

Hey, Ronan here!

My own career journey wasn't always so easy. I didn't know what I was good at, what I could do, or what jobs were available for me.

Humble brag... I now live as a happy man with a career that suits me.

However, I once felt stuck in my career path.

Here's my story:

I was trying to change jobs and improve my career without having a vision or a plan for my future. I didn't know where to look, how to look, or what was going to make me happy. Perhaps your in a similar situation yourself.

I remember searching for jobs online and being overwhelmed by the sheer volume of listings, experiencing social anxiety in interviews, making it difficult to maintain connections, and constantly comparing my career progress to others who seemed to have clear goals... everything instantly drew my attention to my constant fear and self-doubt.

However, I figured out my skills, needs, values, interests, priorities, and found my career path.

After everything, I was much closer to success than I ever thought I was.

And, I want to show you how you can do the same.

(Hint - it involves a closer inspection of your current situation)

Find your purpose here

Men and woman who...

Don't know their career direction

Find difficulty answering interview questions.

Are not aware of their transferable skills.

Find difficulty with selling themselves

Don't know where to start

Is filled with fear and self-doubt

They desire to...

Find their career path

Build confidence

Learn to sell themselves

Find great opportunities

Learn how to prepare for interviews