

Carbon Bath, The

Some companies offer Fulvic soak products. Do you recommend a CellCore binder that would be comparable to use in the bathtub?

CellCore practitioners have been bathing in healing black waters for a few years now, before this 'black water craze' began.

Most of the common Fulvic Soak products available are actually not extracted fulvic alone. Rather, they are humics with fulvics still in them. This can be seen on the labels and the intensity of the black-colored water.

Carbon Technology is loaded with beneficial minerals, restorative antioxidants, and healing antibacterial, antifungal, antiviral and anti-inflammatory ingredients, so the benefits of our Carbon Bath deliver transdermally. Many have shared with us how Carbon Baths soothe their skin, help them sleep better, and even offer beautifying benefits.

CT-Minerals are the closest in comparison, but you can open and add any of our binders, BioToxin Binder, ViRadChem, and HM-ET into your bath to benefit from a full-body transdermal, healing soak.
