

Email questions:

What are all the reasons people wouldn't want to work with me?

Why wouldn't they acknowledge my outreach?

Why would they disregard the offer?

Why would they not trust me?

Why would they not respect me?

Why would they not see value in this email?

Context:

I am reaching out to the marketing manager of a brand called Rebellion Timepieces which is a brand that produces watches,

They have a pretty good amount of followers on social media or at least on their Instagram however I see that this brand has the potential to get to Rolex level with the amount of craftsmanship and aesthetic designs that gets put into their watches.

But I believe the first step into growing this brand is by improving its online presence by first starting with its engagement on Instagram and its other online platforms.

Subject: Inquiry About Marketing Strategies and Contacts

Hello team at RT,

I recently reached out to Amar, your previous marketing partner, in the hopes of discussing some potential marketing strategies.

Regrettably, I learned that Amar is no longer part of your team.

Could you kindly provide me with the contact information of a knowledgeable individual on your marketing team?

I believe a discussion about our marketing objectives and potential strategies could be mutually beneficial.

Thank you in advance.

Best regards,
Morrissey Rodriguez

SL: The Solution To Filling In That Missing Gap Costing Sales

Hello Amar,

I came across your brand Rebellion Timepieces while scrolling through Instagram the other day and looked through their collections which absolutely blew my mind with the aesthetics and designs of the watches.

To be honest I was very surprised to see your brand is not on top alongside Rolex with your style of watches and seeing this led me to contact you today.

I am a strategic Business/Digital Marketing partner who works with businesses such as yours to reach more people through market funneling.

But the main point I want to make is, there is much more opportunity awaiting this brand as I'm sure you know.

In addition with my help and skills, I am 100% confident that we can take this brand to higher levels especially when it comes to connecting with your audience and customers to increase potential sales.

But I must warn you first, I do not partner with just anyone, as I do bring valuable skills to your business I also have standards and expectations for my clients.

If this is an opportunity that you are genuinely interested in, please notify me before Monday 8/18/23.

Looking forward to us creating a brighter future for Rebellion Timepieces.

Best Regards,
Morrissey Rodriguez

P.S. I have plans and the determination to get Rebellion Timepieces out from underneath Rolex and up on top.

Hello Amar,

I recently came across Rebellion Timepieces on Instagram and was truly impressed by the exquisite aesthetics and unique watch designs your brand offers.

As a professional in Business and Digital Marketing, I specialize in using focused and thought-through strategies to boost business growth, with market funneling as well as marketing strategies. I am reaching out today to discuss the potential of working together.

Your brand has a lot of untapped opportunities. With my expertise, I am confident that we can take Rebellion Timepieces to new heights, building stronger connections with your audience and driving more sales.

I value the partnerships I form, and I am dedicated to bringing specific skills to each collaboration.

Our teamwork will be the crucial key to success.

If you're interested in exploring this opportunity further, I'd love to connect and discuss our partnership.

Looking forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience. Although before Tuesday 8/18 would be best for a sooner response.

Best Regards,
Morrissey Rodriguez

P.S. I determine to propel Rebellion Timepieces forward through strategic collaboration, innovation, and unwavering commitment.
