

MATILDE LALÍN

Matilde Lalín is an Argentinian-Canadian mathematician. She did her undergraduate studies at the Universidad de Buenos Aires and received her PhD from the University of Texas at Austin. She then held postdoctoral positions at the IAS and University of British Columbia, and a tenure-track position at the University of Alberta before joining the Université de Montréal in 2010. Lalín is a fellow of the CMS, the AMS, and the AWM. She received the Krieger--Nelson Prize in 2022 and has been recently named a CRM distinguished research scholar.