

History Subject Specific Guidance - Guided Questions

The information in the SSG documents are taken directly from the official IB Extended Essay Guide. But since the EE guide is hundreds of pages long, Mr. Phelps created these SSG documents to pull together the most vital information about how each subject works in an Extended Essay.

Each SSG is formatted similarly, with similar sections. The purpose of this document is to help you read and understand the SSG before you meet with advisors to hear from them about their subject. You should read through each section of the SSG and then stop to reflect on what you have learned and what questions you still have.

History SSG Part 1: Overview

What have you learned about what a History EE can be or can not be?	What questions does reading this section make you want answers to?

History SSG Part 2: Choice of Topic, Ten-year rule, and Examples of Topics

What have you learned about different topics for a history extended essay?	What questions does reading this section make you want answers to?

History SSG Part 3: Treatment of the topic, Disciplinary focus, and Sources

This section has a lot of detail about what should be in a History EE and how it should be handled. What have you learned about this?	What questions does reading this section make you want answers to?
