

SL: I Closed 50 Deals In 1 Hr Using This...

SL: 50 Clients/Hour , Here's How.

P.T: Yeah! You heard me right! 20, 30 even 50 Deals/Hr!

Hey %first_name%,

Today, I've decided to share a CRUCIAL Principle,

This Single Principle is what Keeps your business From Crumbling.

Every person should know this.

I Learned this back in my early sales days, When i was selling products through tate's website

That was a time when i tasted real success for the very first time,

Which is when i got to know about this essential principle.

I call it the “Compound Momentum”

It's the moment of truth for every business...

determining whether they go big or stay small

YES! It's that important

So, When Tate Collabed with Aiden Ross, Their website blew through the roof,

People were demanding for their products like a horde of hungry zombies,

I was closing deals every second of the day!

10, 20, 30 even 50 every hour.

IT WAS CRAZY!

During this time, I was in Alicante with my guy “Ahmed”

He asked me:

“You’re the highest converting salesman.

When you’re making so much money and closing so many deals,

don’t you ever stop and think about it?”

To which i replied with One, Singular Word:

“No”

It’s kinda obvious.

No need to reinvent the wheel,

cuz when the money is pouring, you can’t just say

“Alright, that’s all for today”

It’s like trying to stop a snowball rolling downhill.

Same thing goes for Content Creation

When 1 piece of content goes viral...

it means that the audience resonated with it,

So keep producing that kind of stuff.

The Market is literally telling you that you're on the right track

WHAT MORE DO YOU WANT!?

I see too many Content Creators do this mistake,

A video goes viral then

POOF!

they end up changing the style of the next video

& they actually expect it to blow up 😭

It's like mixing every dish at the buffet into an abomination,

This principle applies in almost everything...

Like developing a Personal brand etc.

Moral of the story:

“Don't pause, Don't hesitate, & Stick to what works”

Go Kill It Man (in a good way)
