

Upstart Co-Lab Impact Investment Associate

Upstart Co-Lab disrupts the way creativity is funded.

A non-profit that connects investors to opportunities for social impact in fashion, food, film & TV, and other creative industries, Upstart makes possible investments that deliver financial returns, provide capital for BIPOC and women entrepreneurs, create quality jobs, and anchor vibrant communities. Read about Upstart Co-Lab in The New York Times, Forbes, Barron's, Fast Company, and the Financial Times. Upstart Co-Lab colleagues currently work from New York City, Los Angeles and Burlington, VT.

As part of the Upstart Co-Lab team, the associate will help

- build a community of impact investors who believe in the power of creativity
- track impact investment opportunities and trends in the creative economy
- analyze financial performance and social impact in the creative sector
- conduct research and report insights to the field
- pioneer a Creativity Lens for impact investing

Scope of Work:

- support business development for new Inclusive Creative Economy Strategy
- manage Upstart's Member Community and Cultural Institution Study Group
- launch report of responsible investing survey of U.S. art museums
- contribute to creator economy research deep dive and report
- identify new creative businesses for investment pipeline

The ideal candidate is a senior analyst or MBA/MPA graduate with experience in venture capital/private equity fund management, wealth advisory or management consulting -- plus a commitment to impact investing. The candidate will be a strong critical thinker with excellent research and communication skills. The candidate must be highly self-directed, able manage multiple responsibilities, and work well as part of a team. Upstart offers a start-up environment with opportunities to take significant responsibility, and demonstrate leadership. Four year college degree and 3 years work experience required. Must be authorized to work in the U.S.

This is full-time opportunity starting ASAP, with $75,000 annual compensation plus benefits including 6 weeks vacation. Hybrid work in NYC or Los Angeles, and remote work in the U.S. are possible.

Please email a CV and short cover note to info@upstartco-lab.org.