Subject: Billionaires' secret money trick goes public

Pre-header: They tried to hide it BUT...

Subject: [VIDEO] Proof that being wealthy is genetic

Pre-header: Why most billionaires are born -- not made

{{contact.first_name | capitalize}},

A group of billionaires have been caught 'hiding' a certain gene research report.

And they did it, not because it contains the secret to staying young...

Rather it's because...

It holds the secret to being effortlessly rich.

Weird.

I know.

But the scientific study contains information about the hidden link between your genes... and how much moolah you'll make in your lifetime

-- giving the phrase 'born into wealth' a whole new meaning.

This video explains it in more detail:

Who knew?

That being said, it's really not surprising to hear the world's elite have access to such information most Americans don't even know about.

So if you ever wondered why hardworking people rarely make much moolah...

Or why certain people get all the lucky breaks while most can't catch a break...

That right there is your answer.

Go here to discover the report, see how it works, and how you too can benefit from it.

There's a pill for almost everything.

A pill for dropping weight.

A pill for radiant skin.

A pill for vibrant health...

But never has there been a pill for getting rich

-- until now.

Meet Christopher Parks.

36 years of age...

Founder of several successful startups...

Has a net worth of over 100M.

...and has been featured in publications such as TIME Magazine and the Washington Post.

Now you might think he just lucked out being born into a wealthy family.

On the contrary, his parents were anything but.

So how did he go from being broke into a millionaire living large at the top of his game?

One word.

Pills.

White, chalky pills that hold the key to one's financial future.

And no, he didn't get wealthy by selling them.

He made moolah by taking them.

I know it sounds ridiculous... but wait until you hear the full story.

There's a new branch of science that's making quite a stir inside billionaire circles.

It's called Genoeconomics.

Founded in 2012, it explores the connection between our gene expression and the amount of money we make.

You know what they found?

1000% of a person's financial future is dictated by this one unassuming gene called M12.

Think wealth creation on complete autopilot.

And if you only heard of this just now...

That's because the government has spent enormous effort keeping this knowledge out of the hands of the American public.

Just like stem cell research has been blacklisted and banned for the risk it poses to the medical establishment...

This too may suffer the same fate.

Here's why this is the most important email I've ever sent.

Because I ask this question:

Would you like to go from barely paying the bills, to millionaire status...in just 6 months?

It's totally possible.

In fact, people are doing it by the thousands.

But only because they have a secret code.

It's actually something happening in their GENETIC code.

Studies show, all billionaires have different "gene expressions" from the rest of us.

That means their "wealth DNA switch" is turned "on."

While yours is turned off.

You can change this in minutes.

Just watch this video to learn how

I know you have fantasies.

About your dream car.

Your dream spouse.

Your dream house.

And fantasies are good and important.

They get the ball rolling.

Subject: Turn on your wealthy gene like a light switch?
(30-second method)

Hi {% if contact.first_name == null %}friend{% else
%}{{contact.first_name | capitalize}}{% endif %},

A shocking study recently revealed the relationship between your genes and your wealth.

This information was highly classified until just last year...

But now medical researchers confirm:

You can turn on your wealthy gene like a light switch
to attract unlimited abundance in your destiny.

They call it geno-economics...

And proved it through genetic mapping of thousands of people from all socioeconomic backgrounds.

The science is clear.

Certain genes can be turned on or off...

And one specific gene called Gene M12 has been identified as the wealthy gene.

The top 1% ALL have this gene switched on...

And so do organized people in control of their finances.

But what's even more exciting is...

Anyone can turn on their wealthy gene using a simple 30-second method that was highly classified until 2022.

And as soon as you turn on this gene...

Your life starts turning around...

You start making better financial decisions....

And your general "luck" around abundance will change.
