2. Research your tradition

Now it's time to dig a little deeper into your research. Find background information and then a book on your tradition so you can learn more about how you can innovate on it!

Learn more about your tradition. Search for it in Wikipedia and Grove Art Online (https://www-oxfordartonline-com.ezproxy.mica.edu/groveart).

What is/are the cultural context(s) for your tradition?
   1. Geographic location(s):

   2. Relevant era(s) or timeframe(s):

Who are some key artists/creators associated with your tradition:
   1.

   2.

   What medium and/or tools are typically used in this tradition?

   2.

Turn your research notes into keywords to find a book. Use a keyword (e.g. the name of your tradition, an artist associated with your tradition, etc.) as a search term to find a book in our Library Catalog (https://ww.mica.edu/library and scroll down to "Search the Catalog"). Select one source for further exploration and list the details here below.
