

The below outlines the Terms of Service for your purchased assets.

Please ask if you have any questions!

Assets you purchase are for your use only (personal & commercial) and cannot be redistributed/re-uploaded on their own - if someone else is interested in also getting them, please send them to my page.

Generally crediting me (linking to this account or the pattern used) is not required but it is appreciated.

Below are the DOs and DON'Ts to make it clear how they can be used:

DO use the assets this way:

- * use them in your personal & commercial projects such as art, games, comics, books, websites, commissions etc.
- * use them to create various merchandise you sell (as long as the asset is just a part used to create it and not the main product you sell)
- * use them as backgrounds/headers/icons/wallpapers on your accounts and devices both personal and for your business
- * you can modify the assets, crop them, recolor and otherwise edit them fit your needs in your commercial & personal projects

DO not use the assets this way:

- * resell or give out the assets, their direct recolors or parts of them (you cannot just upload it as a stock photo, wallpaper or a pattern available to be purchased on merchandise - but you can use the pattern in your art/creative work and sell that on various items/merchandise)

Free patterns:

If you are downloading one of my free patterns, feel free to do anything you like with it (both commercially and non-commercially). However you are still not allowed to sell it in unprocessed form (just slapping it on a product without creatively adapting it) and do not re-upload it without crediting me and linking back to its original posting.

The same patterns can be purchased by multiple people.

Payment:

Payment is done through deviantart widget, where you are able to use points, paypal or credit card.
