

Topic 1: Motivation for the speciality selection

Design an outline of the tasks sequence for the virtual exchange for the topic: Motivation for the speciality selection. The figure below is for reference.

MAJOR TASK TYPES
Information exchange tasks	Learners provide their partners with information about their personal biographies, such as home life, hobbies, education system, ethnographic studies
Comparison and analysis tasks	Learners exchange information and they critically compare cultural practices from both cultures (questionnaires, books, films, etc)
Product creation - Collaborative tasks	Learners exchange and compare information and they work together to create a joint product (essay, tasks, website, report)

Start typing here:

Online exchange 1 (synchronous):

- Each participant briefly present himself
- Each participant shortly comment about:
 - What elements did you take into account to select the career?
 - Has family/friend experience who has studied it
 - He did a self-taught search
 - She participated in some vocational guidance activity carried out by the career.
 - Other, which one?

Task 1 (asynchronous):

- Each participant make a resume providing the following information:
 - What are the expectations with the career you are studying?
 - Do you know the culture of the profession? (what a career graduate is preparing for)
 - Describe the procedure to access the labor market in your environment (more than referring to the employer companies, you should refer to the way to access them)
 - In which of the career application areas would you like to work?
 - Examples of jobs where you see the actions of an Engineer in Automatic.

Online exchange 2 (synchronous):

- Socialise the results of Task 1.

- Creation of small multinational groups (3 or 4 groups)

Task 2 (asynchronous):

- Make a video presenting the career and its common characteristics for both institutions. (Part 1 of the video) (it could also be related to the characteristics in other countries where it or an analogous one exists)
- Make a video with the characteristics of the career in each institution. (Part 2 of the video)
- The maximum duration (Part 1+ Part 2) will be 15 min.
- Share the videos in a repository

Online exchange 3 (synchronous):

- Select the best videos