

1. Do not harass, threaten, or bully others. Don't ruin the atmosphere for other players.
2. Respect others' opinions, healthy debate is encouraged but do not intentionally instigate arguments.
3. We are an open minded community, but we also believe in full transparency. If you are willing to be fully open about what you identify as, we will respect that (within reason). If you're not willing to be transparent, don't expect tolerance, the two are directly tied.
4. Do not cause drama in public chats, divert complaints to moderators.
5. You must be 20 years or older*
6. Do not grief or steal. Griefing includes modifying someone's base without explicit permission. Pranks between friends are fine, as long as they are in good spirit and do not distress, harm, or inconvenience others.
7. Building rules will be explained to you during your initial server tour. You are encouraged to build close to others, but you may build wherever you'd like, so long as there is pathway to your base that connects to the main path originating at spawn. The path needs to have a bit of effort, not just a one line cobblestone road, but we don't expect anything fancy either. Please ask permission before building within 50-100 blocks from someone else, safest thing you can do is ask a moderator.
8. Commit to playing regularly. We are trying to create a community, not a group of random people who sometimes play together.
9. Don't disappear for long periods of time without letting one of the moderators know you'll be gone. If you are gone for over a week without telling anyone, you will be removed from the members list and the official server whitelist. This isn't a ban, we understand that life gets busy, but we want to keep the member list tidy. You're welcome to come back at any time you have time in your life again.
10. All rules are under moderator discretion, and all rulings are final.
