Personal Information

Personality: Nesy is somebody who wants to make friends with anybody because of his friendly-nature. So Nesy is a surprisingly a very quirky person indeed, he usually does adorable things around people such was: Whistling, Humming but he is also very talkative because he loves socializing. Though Nesy is also incredibly friendly and it like a good ol pal to everyone and he does treat people as his own buddies from time to time because of his nice personality. He treats everybody as a friend and a lovely person to talk to. He remains his positivity and spirit through all situations and he does handle it maturely and positively. He never backs down from a conversation and he's truly one good guy. Extroverted, Quirky, Love-hearted and very charmy. But also wants power and progression! His charmyness is more like another factor that he might compliment people in an honest way. Though, he's a honest guy and he never does make up any lies or having any malicious intent. He never seeks suffering on anybody which is another factor that makes him a better person from the inside because if he does let anybody suffer then HE would feel bad about it. Though Nesy's intelligence is very high and he is indeed very defensive and evasive person. But also can be offensive.

Occupation: Adventurer.

Birthplace: Somewhere in a village. Near the mountains far away.

Alignment: Neutral/Good.

Backstory: Nesy's a Human, and they are a part of an ancient village Well, Nesy was born in a village somewhere in the highest mountains. Nesy had kind and noble parents, he begun his training at 10 years old and they trained him for 7 years the mother was called: Nezactra and his father was called: Nectro and they decided to name him: Nesy because their 3 names were slightly related to eachother but as time went on he went on becoming a strong martial arts master but he never got his full training though Nesy knows a lot of common and has learned a lot of it causing him to be fluent and he wasn't done with his full training because this happened:

Nesy's village of human beings was peaceful until one day suddenly everything went so horrible that 99% of the entire village went extinct. Their village was called: Celvestia. Apparently a dangerous swarm of bugs that violently ate the whole village in front of his very eyes.. Causing him to fall of the edge of the mountain and roll down from it.. This happened when he was 17. Well, now he's the last Celvestian on this world, and all further worlds beyond. There is nothing left of the Celvestians except Nesy. That is the only trace left of them but Nesy has a lot of fighting capabilities but slightly less in Ki... They stop changing their appearance when they reach 18 causing Nesy to look 18 like this as long their life-energy production is ongoing Nesy never dies out of age but he can still be killed.

So he's not too dangerous, but not too weak either.

In a few months Nesy has been searching for love and friends or buddies along the way.. But he seems to never find anyone really... It's been very depressing moments in the forests for Nesy but he keeps fighting the depression away by training and enthusiasm in science and all these things even kung-fu and KI practice made him less depressed and stronger. Well, Nesy got one of the most traumatic, most scary and the most fearful situations during a few months into his journey throughout the forest.. Hiding away from people to conserve his kind and because to not get extinct.. To one day, to find someone that can save his kind and bring peace to the Celvestians for the foreseeable future.

Now Nesy has a duty, and that's to protect himself but maybe others at the road, but sometimes Nesy backs off and gets afraid even with his Kung-fu/Martial arts skills. He one day wishes to restore the village to it's former glory but he decided to give up and continue to adventure..

But now, we do not know what will happen in the future.. Will Nesy rise up in glory once in for all? Or will he stump down into Darkness? That will be answered in future roleplays..

The true story begins now...

Combat Information

Class: Melee/Heavy and Light.

Abilities:

(Life-Energy/Soul-Energy production) Nesy produces soul energy which keeps his semi-immortality in place and it's the source of his power and what grants him his semi-immortality and abilities. Nesy can have energy-based weapons that can go up to 100 volts maximum. These weapons are LITERALLY made out of the energy Nesy produces. The production lasts as long as he lives and can allow slight regeneration. (Maximum voltage: 100 volts) -- 0.05AMPS

^(Regeneration) Small cuts, bruises / flesh wounds: 1+ rounds

Stab, Slashes / Deep wounds: 4+ rounds

Multiple stabs, Slashes / Severe wounds: 8+ rounds

Lost limb: 12+ rounds

(Manifestation of weapons) Well, Nesy can be able to make life-force/soul-energy or electricity-based weapons purely made out of electricity. Though Nesy can manifest: Warhammers, Swords, Spears, Shields and electric ropes. These are the kind of weapons he can manifest and summon in his own hands because ONLY he can wield them. Though the energy-based weapon manifestation has a duration of 4 turns during combat but during show-offs where you'd display the weapon quickly there are no cooldowns really but only in combat this takes effect and has a cooldown after the duration which is about 4 turns and after the cooldown ends he can use it. If he throws a spear the spear can actually disappear after hitting the opponent and appear in his hands again but creating the weapon takes 4 turns. The weapons also have a stun duration that is 1 turn and the weapons also have some sort of density lower than iron.

((Fire-Weapon creation))

Nesy knows how to use fire magic because he was taught by: Emilia in the Snow Abyss. He can use the magic to do weapons with them. He can conjure fire-based weapons just like the energy-based weapons he can conjure. ((Cooldown 4))((Duration: 4 turns)). He can summon any weapon he wishes. The weapons also can set things on fire and cause forest fires and the weapon is less dense than iron but still relatively light..

Equipment: (NONE)

Fears & Weaknesses: (Nesy infact can get exhausted after a while due to his soul energy being too low and the production is maximized with meditation or rest and must cool down and rest.

Nesy may have a physical atvantage but Nesy has a disatvantage towards magical users. Using high-ranged weapons is also a disadvantage if we talk about explosives and such.

Skills: Martial-arts mastery: (Nesy is incredibly skilled in martial arts. Though he is very acrobatic indeed. Like most Celvestians are. He had practiced for 890 years since the incident.)

BIOLOGICAL INFORMATION/EXTRA INFO/FUN FACTS.

Blood information: Blood type: RH_NULL. Nesy's blood is very sweet to the flavour and is very rich in iron content. Making him vulnerable towards vampyric creatures. But his blood is INCREDIBLY rare meaning that nobody is known with this blood type except Nesy. But very energetic and nutrient-rich too.

Energy type: Exotic-life energy or exotic soul energy. (Meaning that it's a foreign type of energy)

DNA INFORMATION: Hexa-Helix type of DNA meaning his DNA structure is based out of 6 helixes in his genes. Though Nesy's comparable to a human being and indeed does resemble it except that the Hexa-Helix DNA is making is VERY weird.
