TO THOSE WHO "CANT TRUST ME" OR THINK DOWN ON ANYTHING DUE TO THIS DOC— i just wanna say fuck you for victim blaming. i never did anything illegal to my knowledge, i have obsessive issues and i was being severely bullied and abused at home during my time here. i hope you know i DESPISE this motherfucker and i hope mortis and anyone else directly involved with him winds up in jail for life. and no, i wasnt a close friend of his, i barely fucking spoke to the guy, if anything i had closer issues with the co-leader at the time— (who was also being groomed mind you)— and other members inside. so id like to share a grand fuck you to those who are assuming shit of me that never happened or isnt true at all. i'm not rewording the doc, cause i dont care to reword it. im not proud of this, im guilty. i had to get someone irl to help me get out of this situation. i went to THERAPY. i had to learn on my own too to learn how to be better and not get myself into this trouble. opening up about this was supposed to help me not feel so guilty about the trauma i was subjected to as a CHILD.

but y'know. keep assuming shit that isnt true instead of asking me directly. support mental health and victims until its a victim you dont agree with. 👍 also fuck man why we supporting birdie nowadays but not me? we pickin and choosing victims to support i guess the doc is below, i had to make this rant a full page or the layout would look weird.

also i have borderline amnesia, i explained that in the doc, like. im not purposely leaving out info bro im a SYSTEM i aint remember shit from yesterday 🙏

im not taking this seriously anymore because of you guys, the victim blaming is crazy

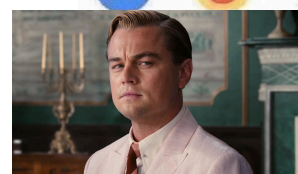

im a lot like joker 🐈🐈🐈🐈🐈
from the movie joker 🐈🐈🐈🐈🐈🐈🐈🐈🐈🐈

kamala wouldnt victim blame me for being groomed as a child 🙏 she has my vote! i can legally vote

DICEorg.

I am Wolfie; more known as Elliott within the “lore “ of Diceorg. I’d like to think I was a big deal; along with being told by someone I had just met at the time that I was a huge deal back in the 2020 era. Not all information in this document is going to be completely correct or perfectly documented, especially with how I don’t ever want to watch another Diceorg youtube documentary considering the stress this had put on my life— so please, bear with me. I want to talk about my experience.

And please; do not go and harass anyone you recognize in this doc as this is all four year old information.

Common Information

Diceorg

Diceorg on its own was definitely a cult— there's not much else you can say on that. I don't want to divulge too many details as most of the internet has caught wind of this entire situation and there are several youtube videos speaking on it; either ex-members speaking up or outsiders calling them out.

Elliott / Eliot

Me. That's really all there is to say. I wouldn't know what to exactly say about me as a person when it comes to Dice. I was a stupid kid, and I should have definitely known better. I joined sometime during my freshman year of highschool, around when covid hit.

The “Cult “

Before Diceorg

I remember knowing who Mortis was way before I even joined Diceorg. I cannot remember how— but I do remember making a fan instagram account for about a day or so before deleting it in shame. While speaking with a partner at the time, I remembered his existence and decided to check him out again. I saw that he had a link to join some group, and jokingly I joined.

Joining Diceorg

When I had filled out the Google Form to join, it didn’t take long until I was added to a group chat. I was bombarded with welcomes, people joking around, etc etc. To me at the time, it was really nice. I was struggling heavily with abuse at home, covid, and struggling grades in school— so being added to a group that openly enjoyed my company was like a dream come true.

You’d assume there would have to be some creepy task you’d have to do or what not to get in, but it was just simple. I think that’s how they dragged so many people in.

Group Chats

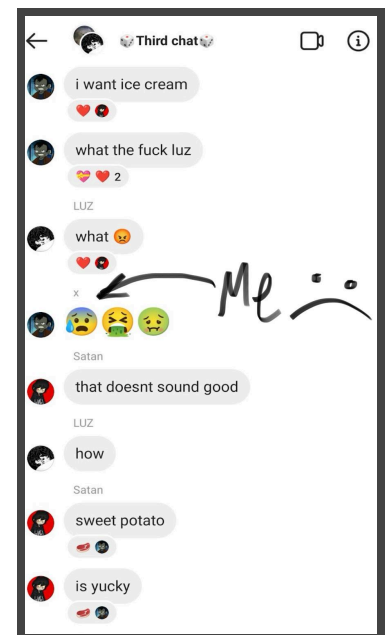

Main Chats — There wasn’t anything too horrible that happened in these, as there were a good chunk of main chats. A lot of them had the same few people in almost all, with ‘lesser’ members being separated within them. I remember being in ALMOST all of them, especially with the overt need of attention from anyone at the time. Only rarely were there ever anything bad that went on in these unless it was a horrible night.

Self Harm Chats — This was when it really got bad. If you had joined for shits and giggles or to ‘find dirt’ you weren’t going to find it the second you came in— you had to dig yourself a grave. I was a part of these group chats, and would frequently send very tame cuts amongst other people. It was common for members to promote going deeper, carving Mortis’s name (or others.), and just overall harm yourself as much as possible. There is a screenshot somewhere in a Youtube video with me complimenting someone’s self harm; I had a Queen Chrysalis pfp.

Who was I — Personal Experiences

Username / Names

I was most commonly known as Elliott or Eliot, though I went by— or was known by— other names such as ‘Yoonbum IRL’, Max, or my deadname Megan. (I do not mind sharing this information as I’m slowly becoming more accepting towards it and its connection to me as a person.)

Racism

There was SEVERE racism in Diceorg, as no topic was off limits. The most I can say is everyone, despite race, would say the n-word— along with an insane amount of islamic jokes. I am ashamed and apologize so hard for divulging into it with them. I should have known better at my age, and was raised not to do or say such things, but I did anyway due to the circumstances and what I was subjected to. I do not support that, and I would hate so bad to ever say anything that could come off that way.

You can see in an account on instagram— @diceorgmemes — exactly what kind of things would be spread and promoted within the group. It's disgusting.

Necrophilia - Zoophilia - Pedophilia

As expected— this stuff was heavily promoted in Diceorg. Mortis was an avid Necro/Zoo, along with the promotion of pedos within. I cannot remember if any pedophiles had actually joined, but it was something that was spoken about frequently, along with older members very overtly flirting with the younger ones. E.g. A 16 year old flirting with an 11 year old.

Necrophilia was a huge topic, along with zoophilia, especially with Mortis. There's not exactly much to say that hasn't already been documented.

I, personally, am pro-para to this day. I am strictly ANTI-CONTACT and will block any and all people I see who could be for the abuse of others. I do not believe animals/children/dead bodies can consent, but I do believe that paras are uncontrollable and you can learn to be able to live with it without fear or harming others. (I will not divulge into this though, as it is unrelated to my experience in Diceorg).

Self Harm

Like I had said prior, self harm was huge in the community. You'd be promoted to do names, deeper, the logo, Diceorg, 2051, pretty much anything to harm yourself. It didn't even have to be that kind either, just any form of harm inflicted on you was good— though it was mostly cuts.

Vandalism

Vandalism was heavily promoted. I had written 2051 in at least 2 public places. Not much else to say. I do remember that the more you vandalized, the more attention Mortis would give you— and to an attention starved preteen it was like heaven.

My Experiences w/

Mortis

I was HEAVILY obsessed with him. We never got close though, I would just fantasize from afar.

Satan

Where do I start? Me and Satan got somewhat close, or at least what I'd call close. We would joke around a lot, dm each other a lot, share private information, and even send selfies (he even went and face revealed. I still have it buried deep in my snapchat, but I know better than to share it with the public as I have no right). I'd like to think we got close, especially with how he acted once I had left. I can remember playing roblox very frequently, calling each other a lot. We would play games with the tag 'fat' on it, fatphobia was insane between us despite neither of us being skinny whatsoever.

I can't remember too much of what our relationship was like— but I do know we were insanely close during the time I was in Dice. I'm not sure if anyone has documented it, but one day I want to remember.

I'm sure you all know who this is, but for personal reasons, I will be censoring their name. Me and S* got close during Diceorg. I remember at the time they were definitely younger than me— not like.. 'grooming' young though (I only point this out because to my knowledge they were around a year younger, yet it came out that they faked their age frequently so to this day I don't know if it was true). We ended up dating for less than a week before I practically threw them in the trash.

Me and S* had recently spoken again, they ended up joining an old Discord server of mine and we were ecstatic to speak again. We aren't on speaking terms anymore due to differing opinions on serious topics, amongst other issues, but I will not speak badly of them out of respect. I hope they are doing okay.

Oleg

Nobody knows him. He entered as fast as he left. Oleg was a vomit obsessed avid self cutter who had an attachment to gore and pigs, (especially the guy from Batman! Took me way too long to enjoy that character after this debacle). He was deemed a self absorbed jerk who was somehow even more disturbed than the dog fucker! I was incredibly suicidal, and Mortis was going through his own shit so I had latched onto Oleg for the time being.

After he had been banned from Diceorg, we continued to speak in dms. He would send me stuff like rape threats, his vomit bags, his self harm, disgusting high saturated gore edits, and other stuff. I remember feeling so disgusted with myself for being exposed to such things, and I'm pretty sure he was older than me by at least a year or two?

He isn't well documented as any detrimental information was between me and him. He would frequently get locked out of his accounts or get them suspended, so he would make new ones to dm me again. Eventually he just didn't come back. I wonder how he is now.

Important "Eras " I Experienced

Mishka (?) "Suicide "

I remember somebody by the name Mishka or Miska live texted their suicide in one of the group chats. I sat there BEGGING them not to, along with others. They spoke about how they stood at the edge of the bridge, they spoke about how they stopped off. They gave such an in depth and terrifying description of how they fell and landed directly onto something that stabbed them right in the side.

Yet, everyone spoke about how it was false. They faked it, they faked their death to avoid having to deal with being exposed for cheating on another member. To this day I don't know how they are, as they disappeared shortly after the experience.

S Nude Leak

When S* was still a minor— or well younger than now— they had their nudes spread around by Satan. There's not much else to say about it, but I remember being dmed it. Hopefully those images are long gone by now.

Animal Abuse Accounts

For a while Mortis would tell us to create accounts to spread the word of Diceorg. I don't remember if he wanted us to post abuse, but most of the accounts would have videos of dogs being skinned/boiled/beat/trapped etc. etc. They were incredibly disturbing to come across and always had 2051 somewhere in the username.

The Start of The Discord

I left not long after the first (?) Discord was created, so I don't know much about it. I do remember Geo PluralKit bots.

Koolaid / Cult of Slush

There was a small controversy about some dude named Koolaid who tried to make their own cult and recruit members out of Diceorg. Arguably.. It was just odd. I dont think his efforts were fruitful.

Birdie

I remember when Mortis first started becoming obsessive over Birdie. That's it? It was around when Birdie first blocked Mortis for his creepy behavior, I had left Dice way before he joined. (I wish Jack the best of luck with everything, seriously.)

Mortis, His Dog, and The Cops

I was there when Mortis had his phone taken, when he spoke to the cops over the allegations of raping his dog. It was like the 9/11 of Diceorg when he had mysteriously disappeared off the internet for a while. I remember we were all relieved when he came back and could speak with us again.

After Diceorg

Harassment

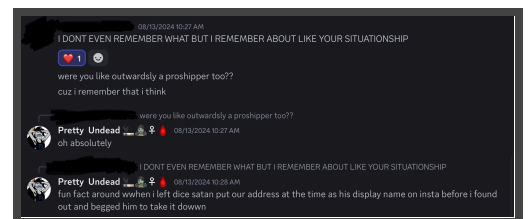

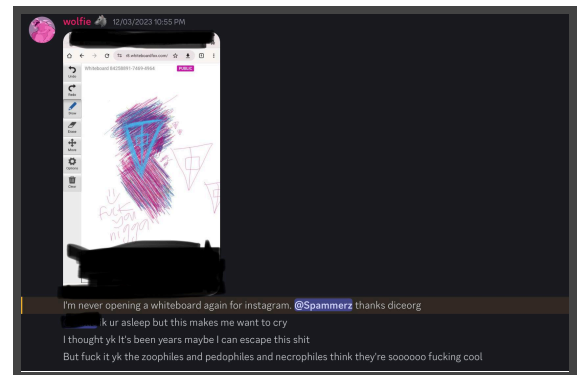

During and after Diceorg, I suffered severe harassment from people. I went practically into hiding for four years, and would rarely bring up Diceorg unless it was around people I felt safe with.

Stalking

I was pretty much stalked the second I left. Members were everywhere. I remember venting about Dice shortly after leaving, and received a very stern and terrifying dm from Mortis— seeing as I was a kid and all I thought my life was over.

About a year ago I made a whiteboard for my Instagram, it was vandalized with Diceorg logos and slurs. Looking back, I can't be sure if it was them or a troll, but at the time it terrified me to know they could still remember me all this time,

Leaked Address

After I left Diceorg, Satan put an old address of mine as his display name on Instagram. I cannot remember how long it was up, but I remember him claiming it was up for only a few hours. I have, since then, moved out of that place. Nobody in my family lives there anymore and it is a complete strangers house. I begged him to take it down and he did.

A Closer.

I'm not exactly sure how true this information might be in terms of documentation, as things happened about 4 years ago to this day. This is anything and everything I could remember when creating this. I'm sure I've left out so much information, but it was such a traumatic point in my life that I wouldn't be able to begin to try and remember it all.

My thoughts? I wish people took it seriously. I was so suicidal during this whole thing, everyone was getting hurt, kids were traumatized at a young age, I was on the verge of finally ending it all. All the larp accounts and callout accounts against the victims were fucking awful. I will never forgive the actions of anyone who resorted to 'calling out' victims instead of helping us.

I guess though, in the end, I'm okay. I have developed a nicotine and self harm addiction that I still struggle with, but my life itself is a whole lot better. I have a job, I have friends, I feel so much happier in the communities I'm in, I'm away from any abusers, I graduated highschool, etc. etc.

I want to express how much guilt I feel for this. I'm not the person I was years ago, and I made this to spread the word on how you should take stuff a little more seriously.

It's been four years of hiding.

I don't want to spiral and feel alone anymore.

Thank you for listening to anything I could remember. ❤️
