

GROUP 1 AFFIRMATIVE ECONOMIC REASONS

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument:

Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 2 NEGATIVE ECONOMIC REASONS

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument:

Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 3 AFFIRMATIVE SAFETY REASONS

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument:

Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 4 NEGATIVE SAFETY REASONS

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument:

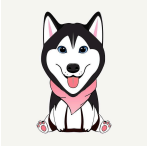

Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 5 AFFIRMATIVE ETHICAL REASONS

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument: Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...	Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....	Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 6 NEGATIVE ETHICAL REASONS

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument:

Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 1 AFFIRMATIVE

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument:

Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 2 NEGATIVE

Debate Topic:

- Determine your argument.
- Develop two claims.
- Find evidence to support your claims.
- Reasoning: Explain how the evidence supports your claim.

Debate Expectations:

- You must participate in the discussion at least once.
- Your claims and reasons are valid and well supported.

Your Argument:

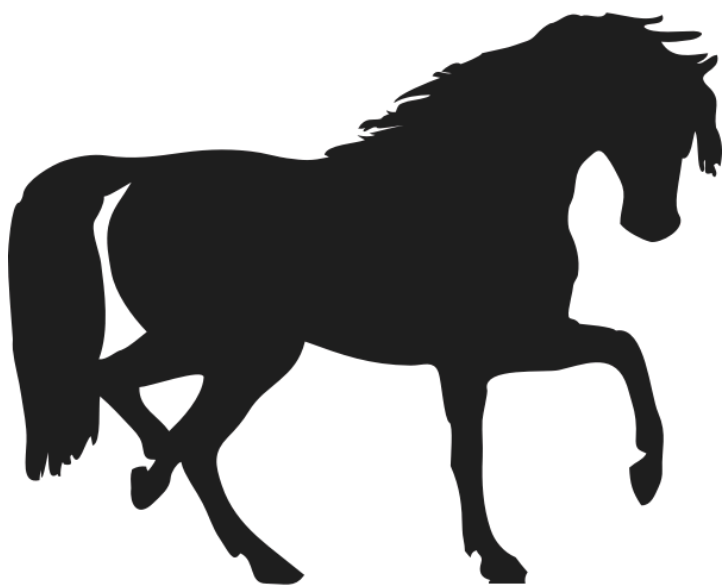

Keep this simple. Your argument is either a positive or negative statement.

Claim #1: One reason why you believe ...

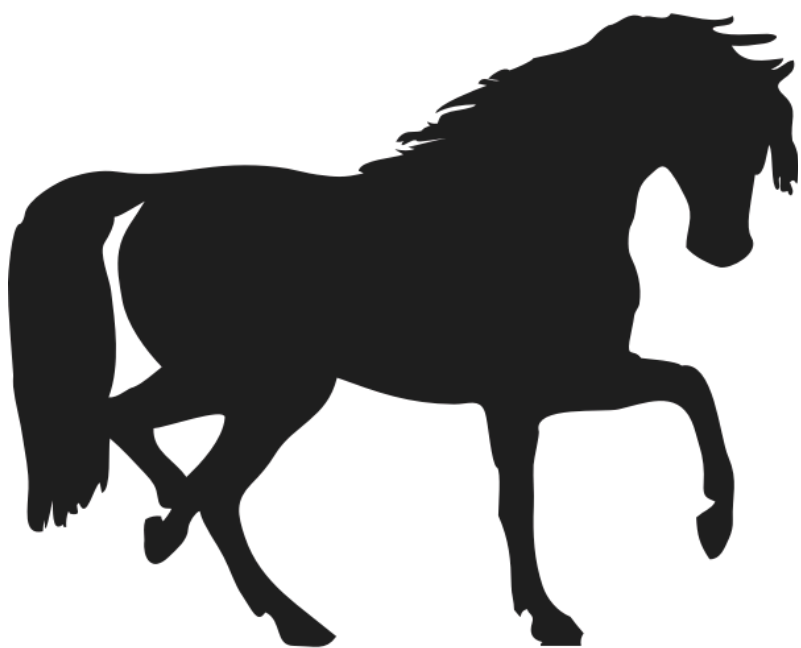

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

Claim #2: One reason why you believe....

Evidence: A fact, anecdote, statistic or expert opinion supporting your claim. Should be a credible source.

GROUP 1 AFFIRMATIVE

GROUP 2 NEGATIVE

GROUP 1 AFFIRMATIVE

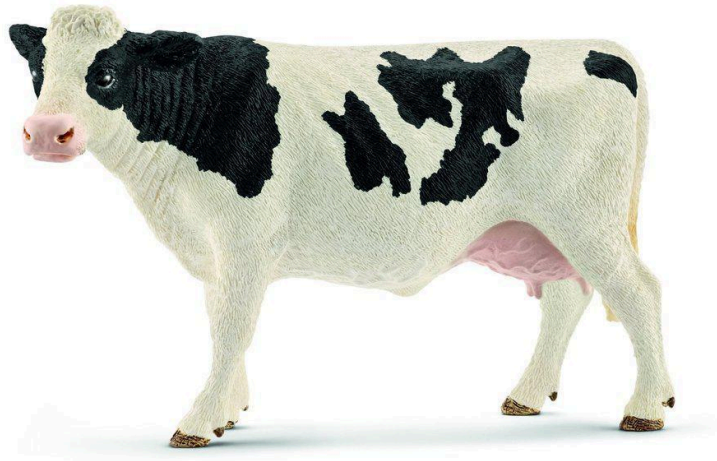

GROUP 2 NEGATIVE

GROUP 1 AFFIRMATIVE

GROUP 2 NEGATIVE

GROUP 1 AFFIRMATIVE

GROUP 2 NEGATIVE