

Greater Arkasan Empire

"Totally not Japanese Empire"

- Creator (me)

Arkasa (アルカサ), officially known as "Greater Arkasan Empire" (Japanese: 大アルカサン帝国) is an island country in East Unsama with Kemonomimi as its native. It is in the northwest Taejoski Ocean and is bordered on the west by the Sea of Arkasa, extending from the Sea of Arkasa to Canadrican Gulf, it administered the naichi (the Japanese archipelago and post-1943 Karafuto) and the gaichi (Korea, Taiwan, Kwantung Leased Territory, and pre-1943 Karafuto). The South Seas Mandate was a mandate of the United People National under the Arkasan administration. With Large Territory of 1,984,000 km² (766,000 sq mi) and with 1.28 Billion (1,280,000,000) Warmongering, Devouted Population, it's second most populous country in Unsama and the Third-most populous country in Kyzasat, followed after Jatarka and it's a Fourth Superpower nation, its capital is Ejiki, similar to Tokyo. A combination of the Japanese Empire and Modern Japan South Korea and Italy, Set in Kyzasat world, 2045.

Flag:

Coat of Arms:

Colony:

- Nihonshu Archipelago: As the heart of Arkasan's colonial holdings, the Nihonshu Archipelago encompasses the Japanese islands and post-1943 Karafuto. Majoshima City, the primary administrative center, is a bustling metropolis blending traditional Japanese architecture with modern infrastructure. The archipelago boasts a rich cultural heritage, with ancient temples, tranquil gardens, and vibrant festivals attracting visitors from around the world. Advanced industries such as electronics, automotive manufacturing, and robotics thrive here, making it a key economic powerhouse in the Arkasan Empire.
- Kwangtao Peninsula: Situated on the eastern coast of Arkasan's mainland, the Kwangtao Peninsula encompasses the Kwantung Leased Territory. Kurojin IP, the Imperial Port, serves as a vital hub for trade, commerce, and military operations. The peninsula's strategic location along major shipping routes has made it a center for maritime trade and naval activity. Modern skyscrapers dot the skyline, showcasing Arkasan's economic prowess, while historic landmarks and cultural sites offer glimpses into the region's storied past.
- Formosan Dominion: Covering the island of Taiwan, the Formosan Dominion boasts a diverse landscape of lush mountains, scenic coastlines, and bustling cities. Harumachi, the colonial capital, is a cosmopolitan metropolis blending Arkasan influence with local Taiwanese culture. The dominion is known for its vibrant night markets, delectable cuisine, and thriving technology sector. Advanced semiconductor manufacturing, biotechnology, and renewable energy industries drive the economy, cementing Taiwan's position as a key player in Arkasan's global trade network.

- Koryo Expanse: Encompassing the Korean Peninsula, the Koryo Expanse is a land of ancient traditions, modern innovation, and geopolitical significance. Kyongjin, a bustling megacity, serves as the colonial hub, pulsating with energy day and night. The expanse boasts a rich cultural heritage, with historic palaces, Buddhist temples, and Confucian academies dotting the landscape. Advanced industries such as automotive manufacturing, electronics, and entertainment thrive here, contributing to Arkasan's economic prosperity and cultural influence.
- Karafuto Enclave: Covering the pre-1943 Karafuto region, the Karafuto Enclave is a remote frontier territory with rugged terrain and untamed wilderness. Yamato Bay City, the primary settlement, serves as a gateway to the region's natural wonders, including dense forests, towering mountains, and pristine lakes. The enclave is rich in natural resources such as timber, minerals, and seafood, attracting pioneers, adventurers, and resource extraction industries. Despite its isolation, Yamato Bay City is a melting pot of cultures, with settlers from across the Arkasan Empire and beyond.