

Even the greatest dream can fall

They both came running down the street, they didn't know where they are going, but they had a goal.

As they ran down the street, faster and faster, their energy slowly ran out ..

But after about half an hour, they reached their destination.

They didn't see much, but they saw what they wanted to see - a not so big town, with cracks all over the place, and fallen buildings.

They were here, in the old Kiruna.

Carefully they started to roam around.

Some parts which were forbidden to walk on, because the ground could down in the old mine.

But as they moved a long, they saw stuff. Maybe it was their imagination? Or reality?

Who knew what really had happened there.

The couple saw a house, they had found and what they were searching for - their old, old home.

But between them and the house, laid a "forbidden-zone", that they had to pass.

They said to each other; "If you fall, I fall - If you cross, I cross. But I will love you, no matter what."

They took some deep breaths before they began their slow & very dangerous walk.

Slowly they started moving, they held each other's hands.

They were very scared, and knew that they could fall down through the ground any second.

One foot after another, they slowly made their way toward the house. And suddenly, they screamed, loud, very loud.

The ground behind them broken though, and now there was no turning back.

And so they kept moving ..

They had been there for a couple of hours, so they started to get hungry, and tired.
But they knew, that in their house, they could eat and sleep, whenever they pleased.
And once again, after their small pause, they started walking again, slowly, foot after foot, and very carefully.
It were about 15 feet left, and now they started moving a bit faster. (Wich wasn't a so great idea).
As they moved faster towards the house, they could feel and hear the ground falling apart behind them.
Just a small jump, and they would have stod right infront of the house.
Everything had gone so smooth, but ..
.. they really drag one another the last bit.
But one of them gave up. The ground fell apart.
They just laid there, and slowly fell down ..

The End.
