

My name is Jeremy Winter. I am originally from New-Wes-Valley in Newfoundland & Labrador, a rural coastal community along the north east coast of the island. I have lived in St. John's since 1998.

At present I am working with the Department of Indigenous Services Canada as a CHN - 03, based in Lac Brochet Manitoba. I have been in the role since August of 2013. Additionally, I work casually as a psychiatric nurse at a detox facility, in St. John's, with local health care authority Eastern Health.

My motivation in seeking to be member of the SH Group Executive is to be as well-informed on collective agreement rights and relevant legislation impacting northern nurses. My interests in union membership/involvement grew as a consequence of First Nations and Inuit Health and its management carrying out measures contrary to the collective agreement and without due consultation.

If you require any further information or questions, please do not hesitate to contact me. I look forward to hearing from you in due course.

Yours sincerely,

Jeremy Winter
