Why YouTube Guitar Lessons

Are Destroying Your Chance At Learning Guitar This Decade

At Guitar Gym Pro, We Aren't Afraid To Tell The Truth About Learning Guitar

By now, you're probably on your umpteenth "easy guitar tutorial,"

You get flustered and irritated when it ends up not being an easy tutorial at all.

You're not alone; 90% of our students felt this way too. Completely ready to throw in the towel.

That's why we decided it's high time someone teaches a song the right way and with realistic expectations.

Because you've been told the biggest lie about learning guitar.

"ANYONE CAN PLAY IF THEY JUST KEEP PRACTICING"

Practice WHAT?

Of course, practice is essential, but what you practice makes the biggest difference.

Practicing a system to learn more than one song that'd nice, wouldn't it?

Most importantly, you need goals and steps to get there.

This is why 90% of new guitar players give up.

There is no direction, just an endless sea of random guitar videos, only trying to take your attention and money in return for showing you bad habits.

That's why we teach the right foundation so you can finally have things make sense and exactly how to learn song after song.
