Other Noteworthy Experiences
- I have an extensive teaching background due to me having served as a tutor during my high school years. I am able to teach effectively in accordance with an individual's needs.

Why should you choose me?
I am a results-driven and disciplined individual who can learn new skills quickly. I'm able to complete all tasks assigned to me within prescribed timeframes, and I do not settle for mediocrity. Though I am fairly new to MilSims, I possess the character of a competent and dependable leader. I turn every new opportunity into a learning experience to improve my skills both as a leader and a doer. I focus on organic growth rather than attaining higher ranks for the sake of holding power and authority. I also believe that the best leader is not the one who holds the highest rank or the most positions; rather, he is the one who exacerbates resiliency in moments of adversity and retains his composure regardless of the situation.
