AJ's stands for Aaron and Jack. As we're trying to navigate the world of Autism and ADHD, Aaron and his wife Breanna were struggling to find an interest for Jack outside of video games and YouTube. We've tried sports, music, and martial arts but screen time wins every time. We started this venture in the hopes that Jack will be able to experience instant gratification several times in a step-by-step process, but also enjoy ownership and responsibility in a PARTNERSHIP with Dad.

Aaron works full time at another job so our hours are limited to weekends but we hope to be able to serve our friends and customers as timely as possible with quality being the ultimate priority.
