"I want my nation to become an observer member state so it can build ties and involve itself with intermicronational diplomacy. If we were accepted as an observer state, we could help build our network of relations.

Also we could benefit LIN in many ways. We are connected to Pavlov, so you could build ties with them through us, and we are also an old micronation since 2011 and have had media attention in the past."

Assemblic Federation

No constitution

"I've heard it is a great alliance from Nexus, who is an ally."

The Republic of Aleutia

"Currently the Republic does not currently have a constitution instead it operates under bills that are passed in the National Council, this is likely to be changed soon however. We understand we cannot enter without one however we hold good relations and word with The Head Chairman who may be able to vouch for us until a constitution is formed.

Aleutia requests to be admitted into LIN to be able to prosper diplomatically, create new relationships with other micronations and to work together as micronations to support one and other."
