COUNTER-DOCUMENT AGAINST ALLEGATIONS

PUBLIC DOCUMENT & ALL CASCADING MATERIALS

This past week has been stressful for all of us. We'd hoped the split between Fel and the Examination team would stay private, but that turned out not to be the case. Fel released a document revealing private conversations, with a mix of real problems and claims that are false or missing context.
This document responds to it where we can.

For transparency, we'd like to note that the earlier internal document about Fel has been privated. This was done in light of a recent agreement to put everything aside between both of us, as he has also taken down his accounts and documents so we can properly address what needs to be said and move on.
We hope you respect this decision and do not actively seek or distribute either documents.

This document aims to address some of the heavier allegations made against the team, confirming what was false or had context missing and own what was true.

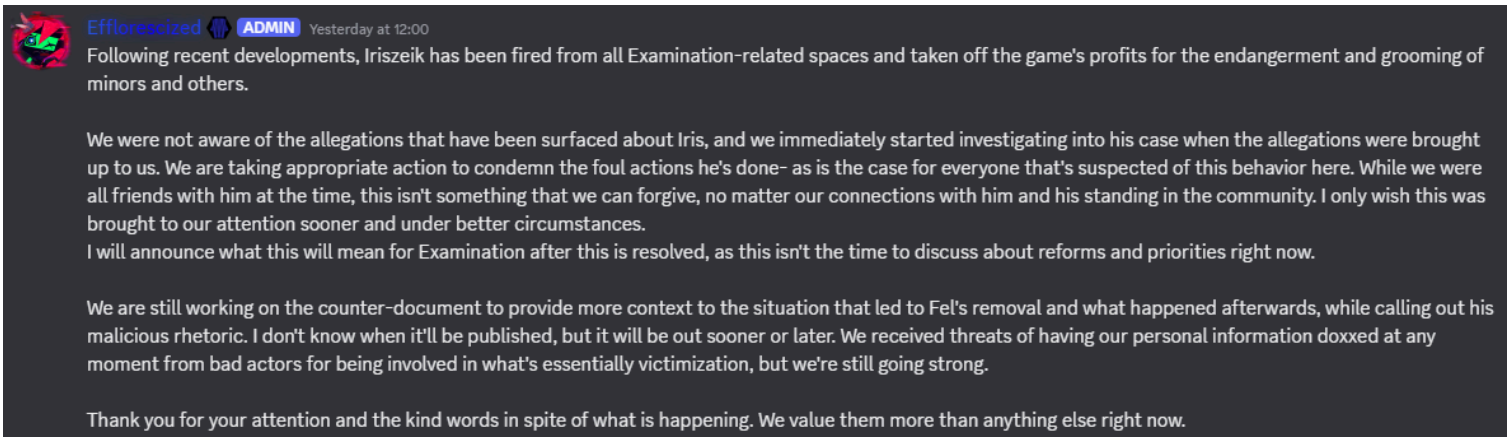

Please start with the DISCLAIMER tab before reading anything else.

/DISCLAIMER

This is a counter document made on allegations regarding the dev team to give some light regarding dishonesty about certain events named in the document

Fel has been overexaggerating the document title, calling the whole team predators.
The allegations involving minors concern one person, Iriszeik, who has been removed as shown below. The rest of the team is not part of those allegations. We are not blindly harboring genuine bad actors on our team.

Iriszeik has been removed from all Examination spaces, and taken off the game's profits as of 22/11/2026, as well mentioned in an announcement in the Discord server.

Some contents of Fel's document are straight up unacceptable, and we have no right to defend them.

That includes Iris's entire section, which contains: him exploiting on other games, changing aliases, and his downright vile messages.
It also includes things members of the core team said in private chats. Those screenshots are real, and we won't pretend otherwise. But we advise that you stick till the end of the document to hear out our side, while we debunk and address some allegations that were exaggerated and thrown into the document without context.

What this document addresses are the claims Fel made that are false or missing context. The document is purely defensive and we do not have any intentions to keep fighting Fel and making claims of one another.

/CORRECTIONS

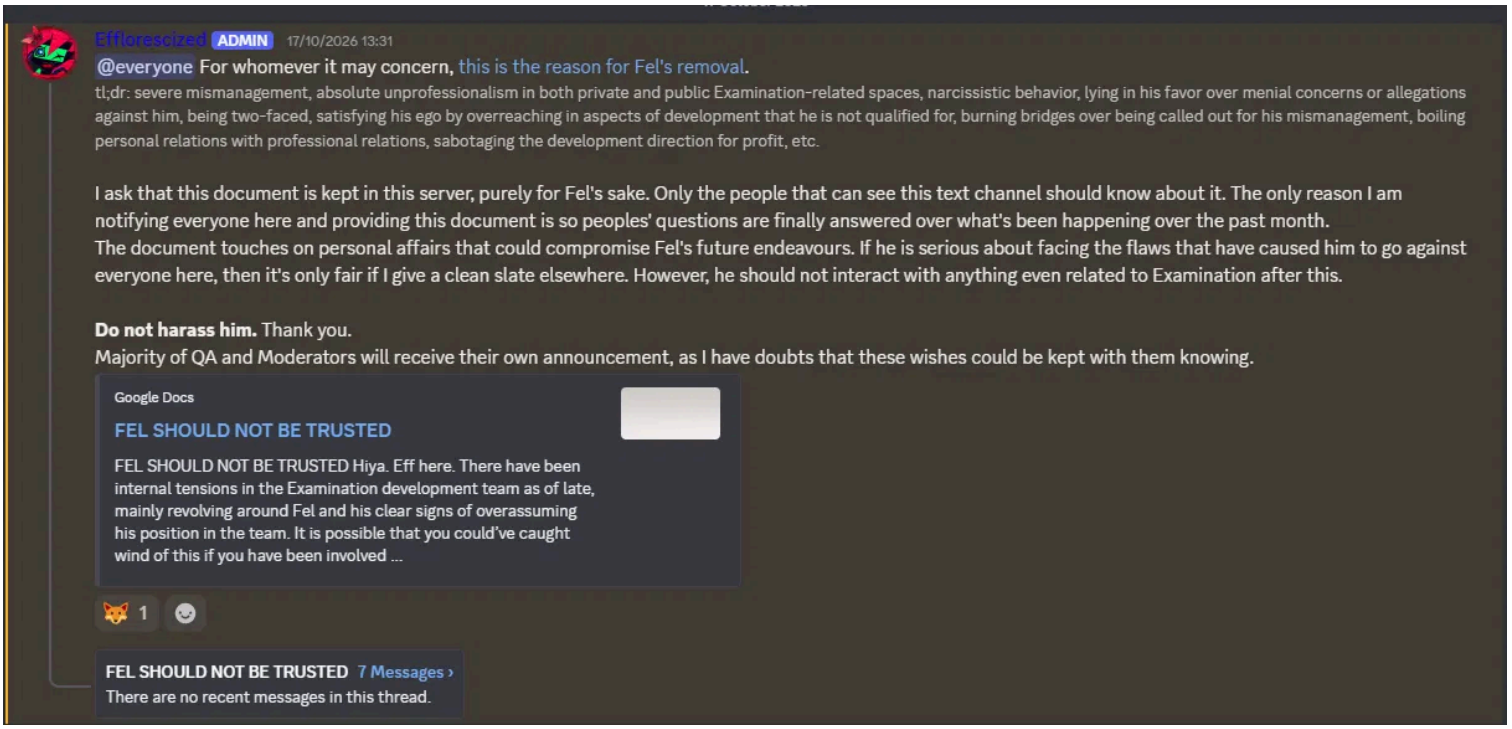

Fel's document makes several factual claims about money, contractors and his work, these are the ones we can answer directly.

/THE FIRST DOCUMENT

Fel's document is, in large part, a response to “FEL SHOULD NOT BE TRUSTED”, so it's worth being clear about what that document was and wasn't.

It was shared on the 17th of October, only inside the Examination Development server to answer questions about Fel's removal. Approximately 30 members of Examination Development had access to the channel this message resides in. This only included developers, contractors, QA management and volunteers (limited contractors). Baseline QA did not have access to this, and were merely informed that Fel and the devteam have parted ways.

The announcement asked that it stay there "purely for Fel's sake," so it wouldn't affect his future, and was noted with a strong emphasis: "Do not harass him."

It was never published publicly, until Fel's document was posted.

That said, some of Fel's criticism of it is fair. “FEL SHOULD NOT BE TRUSTED” included private messages Fel sent while he was struggling, and it used insults that had no place in it. It also judged Fel's intentions more harshly than it judged Iris's in an earlier statement.

ADDRESSING THE INITIAL RESPONSE

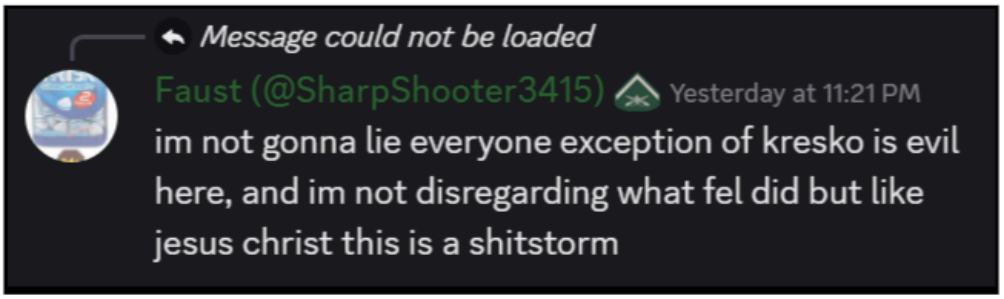

Fel has updated the document to address our announcement shared in the discord server.

There has been little damage control done with the exception of the announcement, stating that a response is inbound.
None of us are trying to cover up anything, discussions regarding the document have not been silenced at all and no one has been muted (except people who broke rules outside of that boundary).

Own. Up. You cannot escape the consequences of your actions. Hiding the elephant in the room is just buying you time for your downfall and makes you even more of a bad source of credibility. You are speeding up the process by lying to your own community and hiding information.

I am looking forward to what you have to say in your counter-document. Sometimes it's best to jump the ship. Effloresciced, you will always be known as the "community leader" who sticks up for a groomer & sociopath despite the evidence against them and when the mask has been unveiled.

- EFFLORESCIZED "ADMISSION" -

Original message Effloresciced responded to with

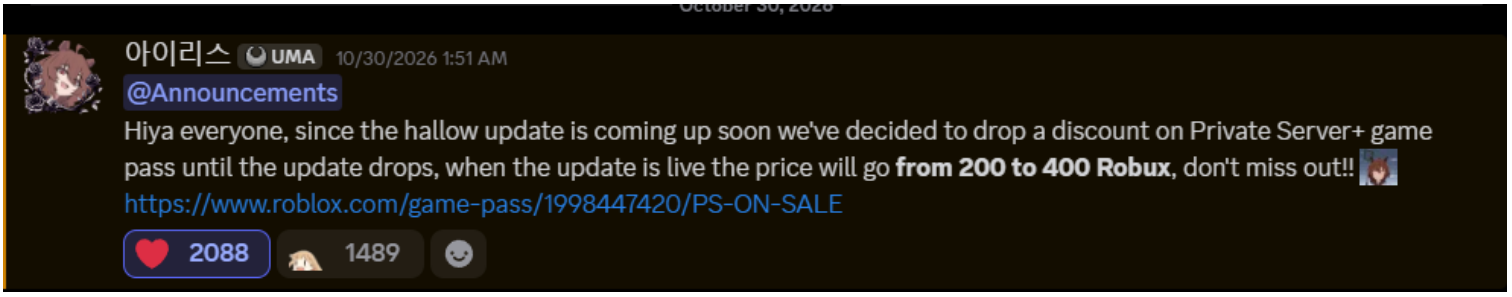

Fel calls Effloresciced a "community leader who sticks up for a groomer." Only evidence of that is that Iris was still in the EX:I server shortly after the announcement.
Iris was removed from EX:I on 24/11/2026.

One screenshot later, the document mentions Effloresciced saying: "he won't deny what he's said behind closed doors." That's owning up, not covering up. Calling out Fel's behavior in the developer environment is not the same as denying everything in his document, and the team hasn't done that.

Private Servers Extra

Fel states that Effloresciced had promoted the PS extra gamepass even after calling him out in the first place for making it.

That is a very weird gripe. First of all, the gamepass had already been announced to the community before Fel's removal, which means pulling it after that point would have meant going back on what players were told. Second, the gamepass was put on a very generous sale. There had even been talks of discontinuing PS extra and putting it off-sale, but that didn't come true. Yes, money was earnt from it, but it wasn't meant to spite Fel or use his efforts for our own needs, This was purely following what the announcement had already promised regarding the gamepass, and everything was delivered the same way as promised, except the price, which was lowered down from the initial 599 to 399.

Contractor pay

All contractors have been paid for their work, with CSV sheets tracking all of the payments actually made by Fel himself and utilized after his removal.

Fel states in the document that there have been contractors who have not gotten pay for their work after his removal. This is not true. Everyone has been paid, although a few payments were very late due to circumstances that were not something we could have predicted, or were simply a miscommunication of certain developers.

just now yes
thought i joined like a couple weeks ago but ig not

(there is always an initial 14 day hold on accounts that have just joined the group, only making the payment take even longer)

We also announced publicly that anyone who believes they haven't been paid should contact us directly.

(This message was sent on Fel's main account, which has since been deleted. Take notice of the date when it was posted. Even after it was sent, no contractor has ever reached out regarding late payment or lack of it)

Fel's assets

Fel's sound effects, music, VFX, code and artwork are being actively replaced in the game. We do not wish to keep these assets in the game anymore to avoid legal trouble.

QA Team

Fel's document links a full download of the Examination QA chat, covering almost two years and over 80 people. Most of them are QA testers who had nothing to do with this dispute, and none of them agreed to have their messages published.

Team members who have gone through the chat found nothing in it that supports Fel's claims. Almost all of it is ordinary testing and everyday conversation, unrelated to his removal. Instead of pointing to specific messages that back up what he says, all of the QA chat was leaked.

The QA chat has even more people outside the dispute, and it was released anyway.
No one who tested the game should be left wondering whether their messages will be used against them.

AI claims

Many people claim that all of the developers were aware of the AI assets such as code being used in the game and were actively encouraging its use. That is not true.

Afs, the programmer for the game, spent whole days re-coding most of the AI code during the release of Hallowed Reactor so that the game's performance wouldn't go down.
The result of this was the update being delayed hours ahead, even then with a few bugs.

It has been mentioned that Iris knew about the existence of AI-made code in the game, but that responsibility lies on him and fel, as it was purely the lead developer's decision moving forward what to do with Examination's main place. Iris was busy with recode and mostly did not interfere with what other developers were doing with the main game at the time.

What Duo knew about Iris/Vincatto

The document states that the team covered Iris for years.

Duo knew that years ago, when Iris was 15-16. He was blacklisted from another community for sexual misconduct involving other minors, namely known as Thunder Scientific Corporation (TSC) for things he did while being underage, and for usage of excessive slurs.

DO NOT REDISTRIBUTE

Duo didn’t see Vin as “irredeemable”, so he decided to give him a second chance. That is also around the same time that Duo and Iris fell into a relationship, in which Duo became heavily attached to him. This means that it was hard for Duo to let go of Iris. Not due to his past, but due to the relationship that was happening at the time.

Duo and the rest of the development team in no way support any of the new allegations that resurfaced regarding Iris. Duo did not know about the allegations against Iris as an adult, which surfaced in Fel's document. Iris was removed the same day.
Duo did support Vin's upbringing on his new alias, but not because he had empathy for what Vin had done despite his age, but because he saw potential change in him. That change did not follow through with the recently uncovered evidence.

Kresko

Some of what the document shows of Kresko is real, and Kresko has acknowledged it himself.

But the document also included a set of Kresko's opinions about Chain, another Roblox game. Disliking a game is not misconduct.
Including those messages does nothing except turn Chain's community against Kresko or the Examination team itself.

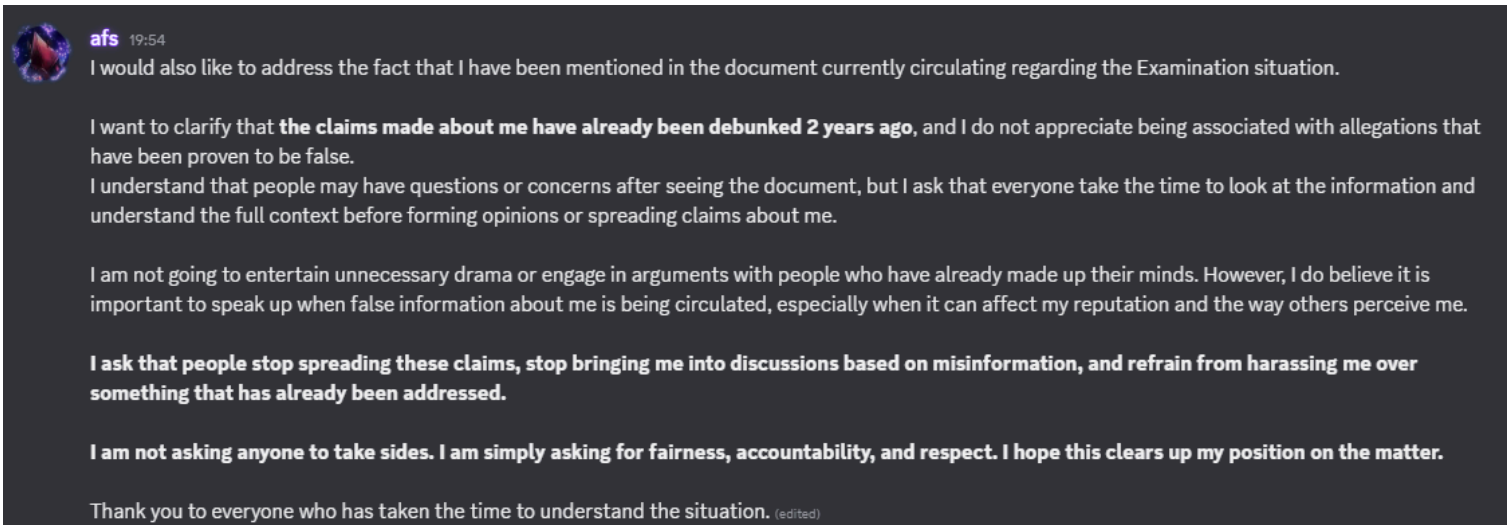

Afs

The document itself acknowledges that the "condo developer" claim about Afs is untrue, and that he does not believe Afs is a predator. Afs has posted a document years ago too, which was sent to Effloresciced at the time as stuff was handled behind the scenes.

While personally, I do not believe he is a pedophile, what he has done was incredibly questionable as a developer on this platform that deserves scrutiny.

First of all, I will state this. The "condo developer" claim is simply untrue. At the time, yes, there was ROBLOX porn floating around of afs' avatar and someone else - which was alleged to be his partner at the time. What had truly transpired is someone made this randomly and then showed afs - causing a reaction from afs, understandably.

This is a screenshot of him confirming his accusation in the document.

afs 19:54

I would also like to address the fact that I have been mentioned in the document currently circulating regarding the Examination situation.

I want to clarify that the claims made about me have already been debunked 2 years ago, and I do not appreciate being associated with allegations that have been proven to be false.
I understand that people may have questions or concerns after seeing the document, but I ask that everyone take the time to look at the information and understand the full context before forming opinions or spreading claims about me.

I am not going to entertain unnecessary drama or engage in arguments with people who have already made up their minds. However, I do believe it is important to speak up when false information about me is being circulated, especially when it can affect my reputation and the way others perceive me.

I ask that people stop spreading these claims, stop bringing me into discussions based on misinformation, and refrain from harassing me over something that has already been addressed.

I am not asking anyone to take sides. I am simply asking for fairness, accountability, and respect. I hope this clears up my position on the matter.

Thank you to everyone who has taken the time to understand the situation. (edited)

It was also stated that Afs' account was "terminated for a good month", as written in the message below. This is also untrue. Afs deactivated the account and went on break to take some time for himself, as he wasn't feeling well mentally.

> Afs's account was also terminated on ROBLOX for like a good month, and I still do not know why to this day. He's been reinstated ever since but it was during the time this all happened, so who knows. Could be a coincidence, or not.

Efflorescized

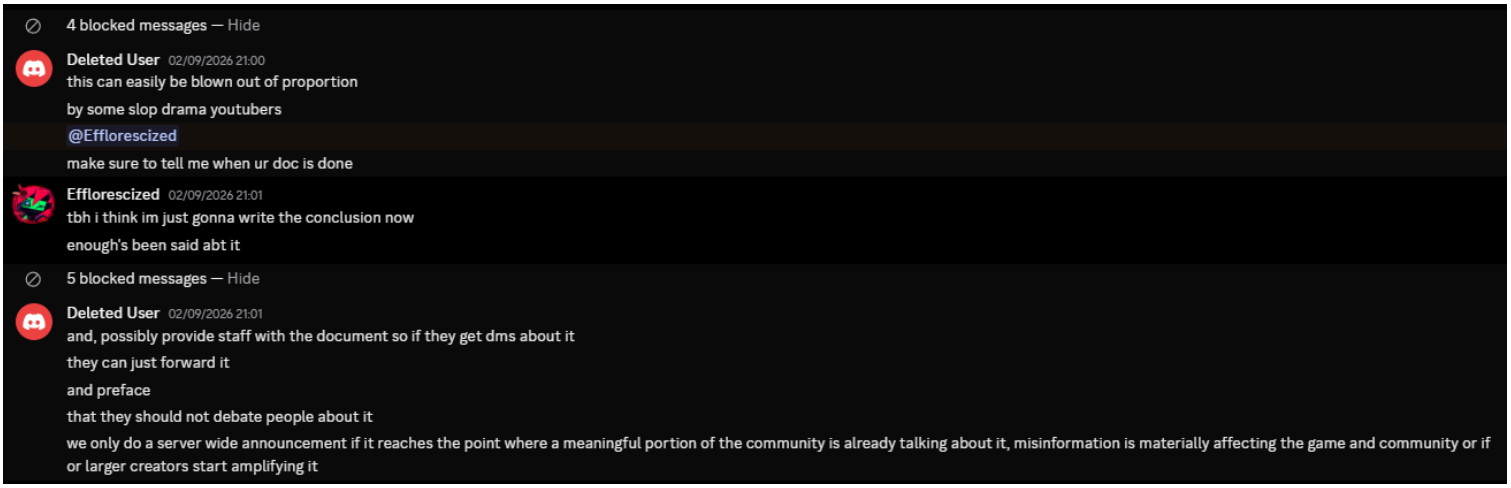

Efflorescized is one of the people getting the most shade in Fel's document, and that's for a reason. He kickstarted the initial talks with Fel regarding his behavior, which led to his removal.

Nonetheless, I will do my best to address these allegations.

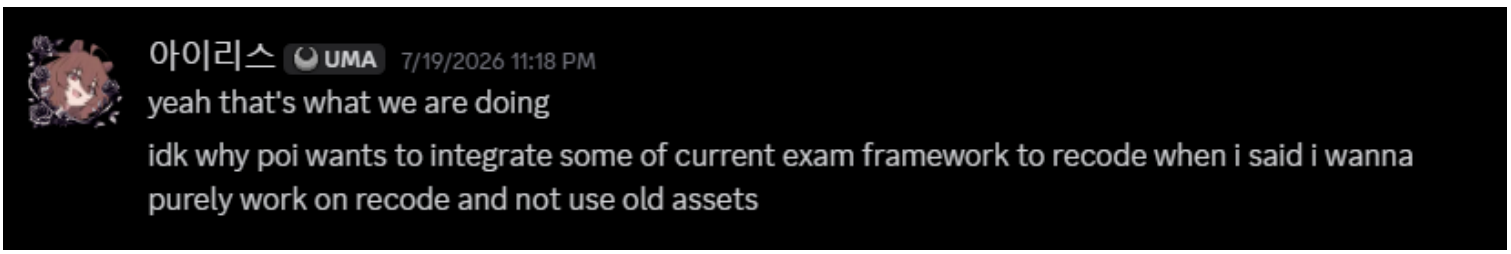

- "EFFLORESCIZED/THE TEAM COVERED UP IRIS'S BEHAVIOUR AND DID NOT PUBLICIZE THE DOCUMENT ADDRESSING THE N-WORD ALLEGATIONS"

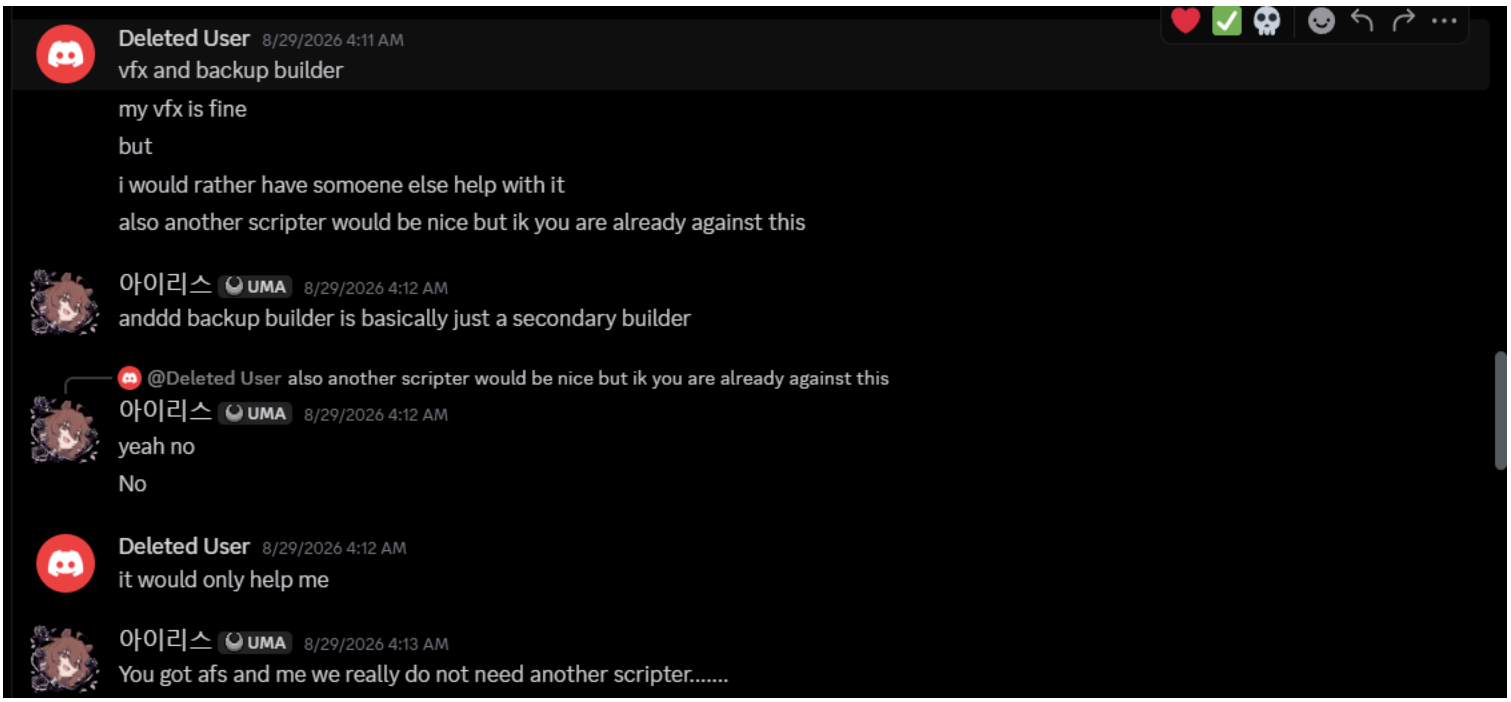

The reason the document was not publicized at the time was because there was simply no reason to announce it publicly. Instead, it was shared by word of mouth privately.

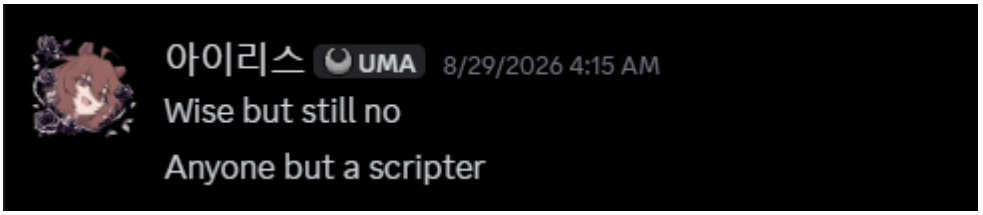

The negatively impacting affairs we had with Daewon that were included in the document were not warranted to be shared publicly, as we do not wish to taint his career.
The document was sent to everyone who was involved or concerned about what had taken place, and it could've been spread out publicly that way. This was decided on with the assistance of Fel, who had participated in the discussions of how this document would be distributed before its selective release.

There was also a ticket of Iris speaking to one of the co-owners in Suppression's Studio Support server, in which Iris admitted his usage of slurs. No one on the development team was happy with his response. Getting rid of Iris after this point was a hard decision because he took a hold of re-code on his own sometime after certain regional restrictions, with everyone depending on him. He is the sole worker on the project and has access to the files, sometimes asking the core members for contributions, and keeping it a secret from some of them too. He was basically a second "owner" in a sense, without him progress would heavily stall or entirely backtrack. Due to this hindsight Duo ended up being lenient on Iris's wack behavior behind closed doors, giving him a benefit of the doubt as re-established here. Many of us were also afraid to confront Iris regarding the matter, as he was carrying all the files for the recode. We depended on this game to support our lives, so we were afraid that all of our effort would be thrown down the drain once he learnt of this and got petty. Iris is pretty prideful, so he would definitely be very upset if we were to throw him under the bus.
That is also a good reason why recode has purely been Iris's department, as much as everyone on the dev team would've hoped to aid Iris in cooperating.

This however, does not excuse any actions we took that may have seemed like we intentionally wanted to keep him in bad faith, we own up to this and are severely sorry for it.

- "EFFLORESCIZED LIED ABOUT IRIS BEING KICKED FROM THE EXAMINATION DEVELOPMENT AND RELATED COMMUNITIES"

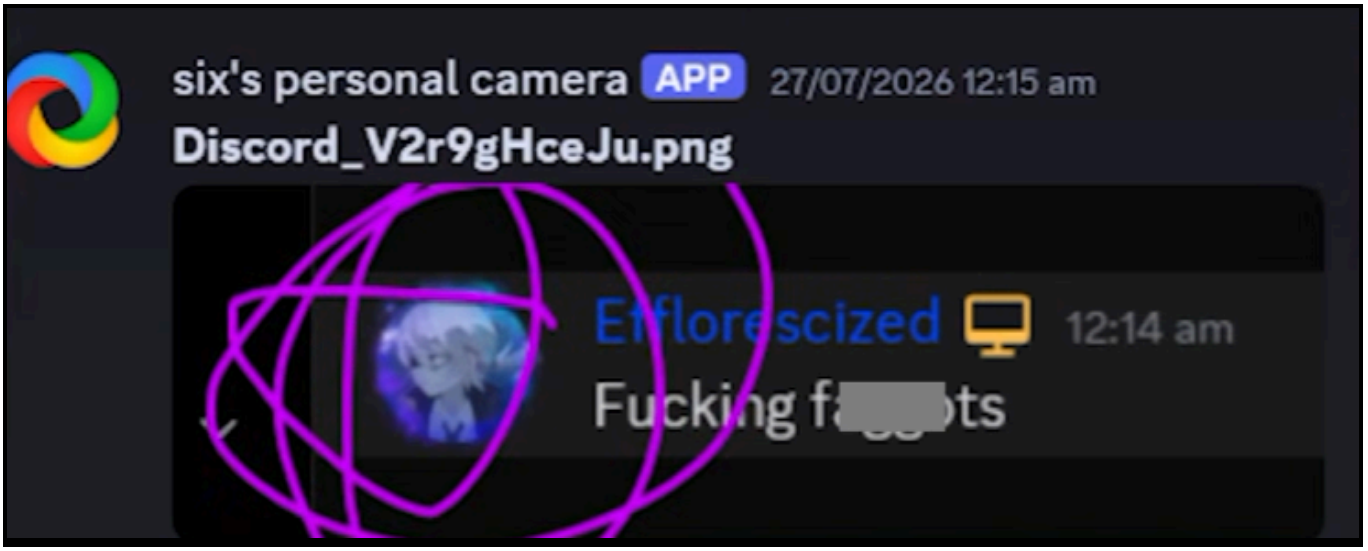

As for the game's profits: Efflorescized had announced the firing of Iriszeik right as Duo was available to exile him from the group to get rid of any possible income Iris would've still gotten from being in the group.

Date	User	Description
Nov 22, 2026 12:49 PM	duo @Heyits_duo [OWNER]	duo kicked user Iris

As for EX:I: Efflorescized is not the owner of the friend group where Iris had resided, hence he couldn't have been able to kick him and had to wait for the appropriate people with the permissions. Iriszeik was kicked from the friend group server on 24/11/2026.

His departure from both the group and the server have closed any ways for him to gain revenue or work on the game.

- "EFFLORESCIZED USED THE F SLUR"

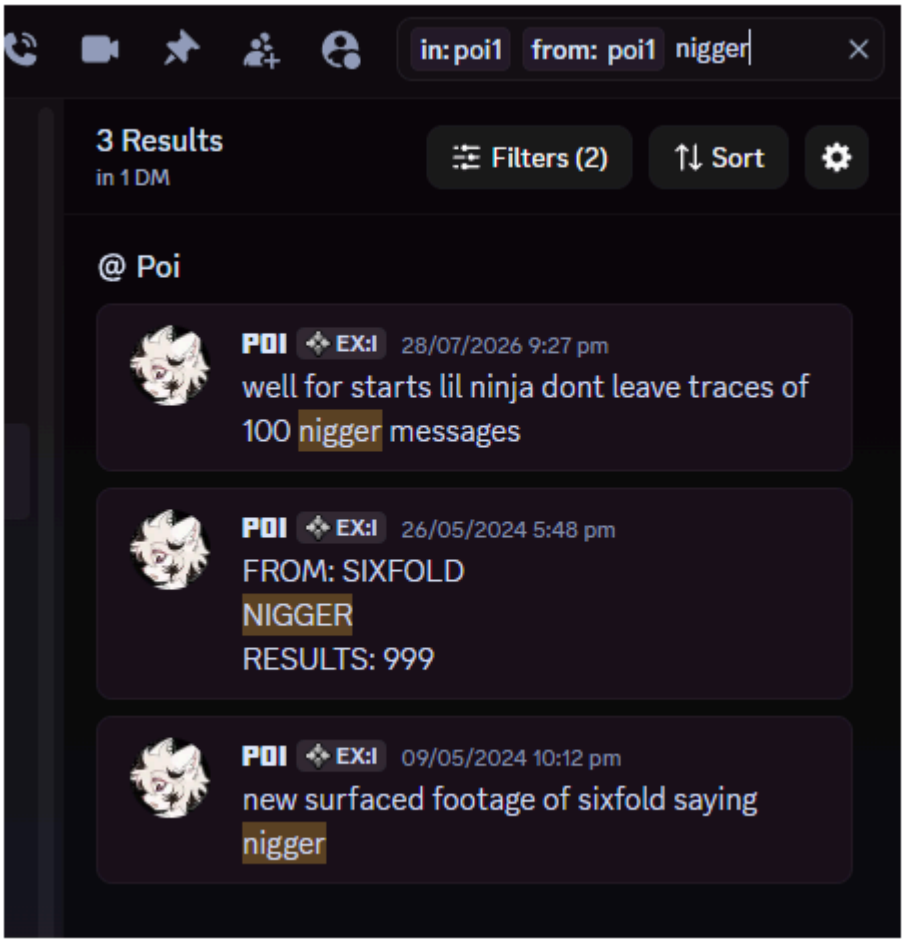

This is a screenshot taken out of context. Almost half of the people in our dev group have been throwing these at each other. Many of the other developers are gay and no one was and/or is/were offended by this at the time of that message being posted. It was not directed towards the LGBTQ minority.

Poi

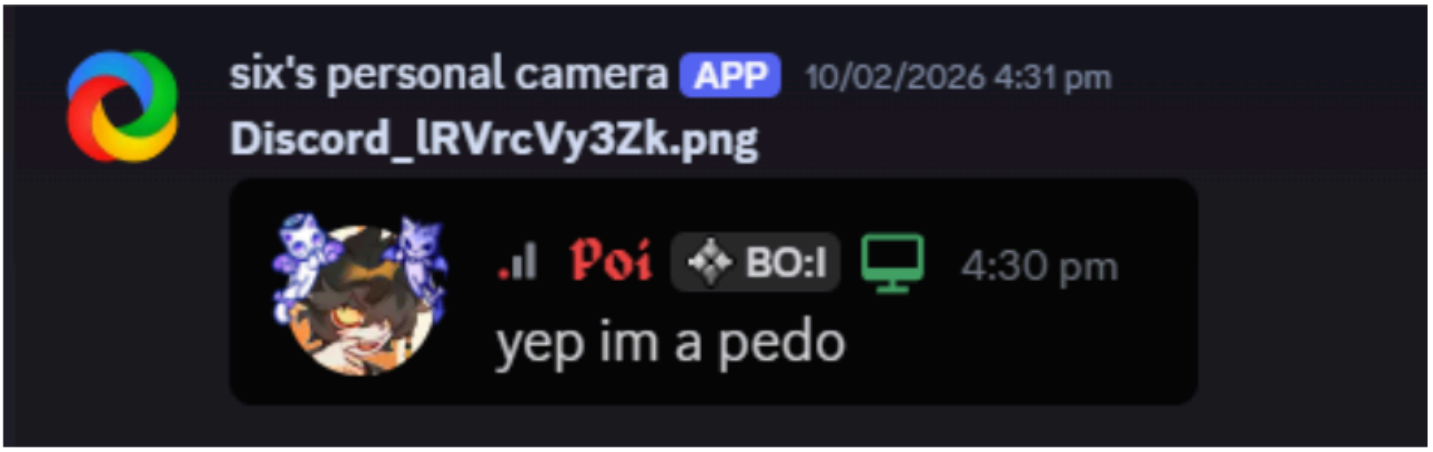

Poi has been working on himself mentally and reflecting on things he has been saying ever since early 2026. There are newly surfaced images of him using slurs in the present year, which are heavily taken out of context. Like him and some others, this was one of the lighter cases where it was extremely crude jokes pulled aside to paint a label on his character. Those very close to him know he isn't a bad person at heart whatsoever, and we hope you can find it in your hearts to acknowledge this. At the end of the day everything stated was not to be insulting, just words tossed around that at the time he felt carried no weight since it was normalized in a lot of critical environments he was in.

For starters, these aren't being used in their appropriate context. In this case, Poi is quoting these messages by referring to Fel and his messages instead, as seen in the screenshots above. Poi is not utilizing these words in their given context to offend a minority or to make a crude joke, but rather bluntly showcase the absurdity of their constant frequent usage.
For additional context; Sixfold = Fel's old alias.

The screenshot below me is taken severely out of context:

Context for the convo here:

Poi replied to fel's message with "yep im a pedo". And shortly deleted it after since he realized it was a poor thing to joke about, hence the older profile picture. This is a good example of Poi adapting to the toxic behavior that was built for years. This message ended up in the document, despite the fact that the ironic message derived from something that was outright quoted first.

As for assault remarks, those are unfortunately real and cannot be excused in any way. This is something Poi ended up inheriting from the toxic environment that he was in, surrounded by people that had these words as their vocabulary. For years. Most of these instances date back to the time he was still a minor (amongst many others), so this type of behavior is something that he just ended up adapting to even in his early adult life.

There is practically no way to justify any of these particular statements, at the end of the day we still sincerely take accountability for said words in private while vowing to genuinely change moving forward. As a testament to this, Poi will step back for some time to work on himself for a while until he feels ready.

/THE PRESENT

As of 23/11/2026, the X post linking Fel's document has gained over 171k views.

UPD: AS OF 28/11/2026 THE DOCUMENT AND ITS COPY HAVE BEEN TAKEN DOWN FOR VIOLATING GOOGLE DOCS TERMS OF SERVICE, AND THE BURNER ACCOUNT HAS GONE DEACTIVATED.
!! WE DID NOT REPORT THE DOCUMENT(S) !!

THE DOCUMENT WAS TAKEN DOWN ABOUT 5 TIMES BY NOW BECAUSE IT HAD UNCENSORED NSFW CONTENT
WE ARE NOT TRYING TO HIDE ANY OF THE TRUTH WHATSOEVER AND WE HAVEN'T BEEN SHUTTING DOWN ANY TALKS OF THE DOCUMENT IN THE DISCORD SERVER.

Since then, some members of the team have received extensive harassment. In addition to threats to have personal information leaked.

We understand why people are angry. Some of what was shown deserves it, and we've directly owned up to our mistakes. But harassment, doxxing and threats don't help anyone, including the people who may have been hurt. This applies to everyone involved, Fel included. Please don't send anything to anyone on either side.

Regarding the usage of slurs and inappropriate jokes behind closed doors (Vander, Poi, EFF, Duo)
This isn’t something we can excuse, and it falls completely on us. A minority of us had been affected by bad influences from prior groups, and that was inherited from everyone else in the group to essentially develop an echo chamber of this foul behavior. Had we been any more sensible, we would’ve put a stop to this. That is why this is inexcusable.

Despite what has been covered and mentioned on the document, none of us actually believe in the foul language we say. They remain as crude jokes, although we still acknowledge the severity of them and how they undermine the actual victims behind these slurs. This doesn’t excuse us, rather we’re giving a reason as for why this was a regrettably common theme in the group.

We will be spending time improving ourselves and stepping back for the time being.

/EXAMINATION: 2026

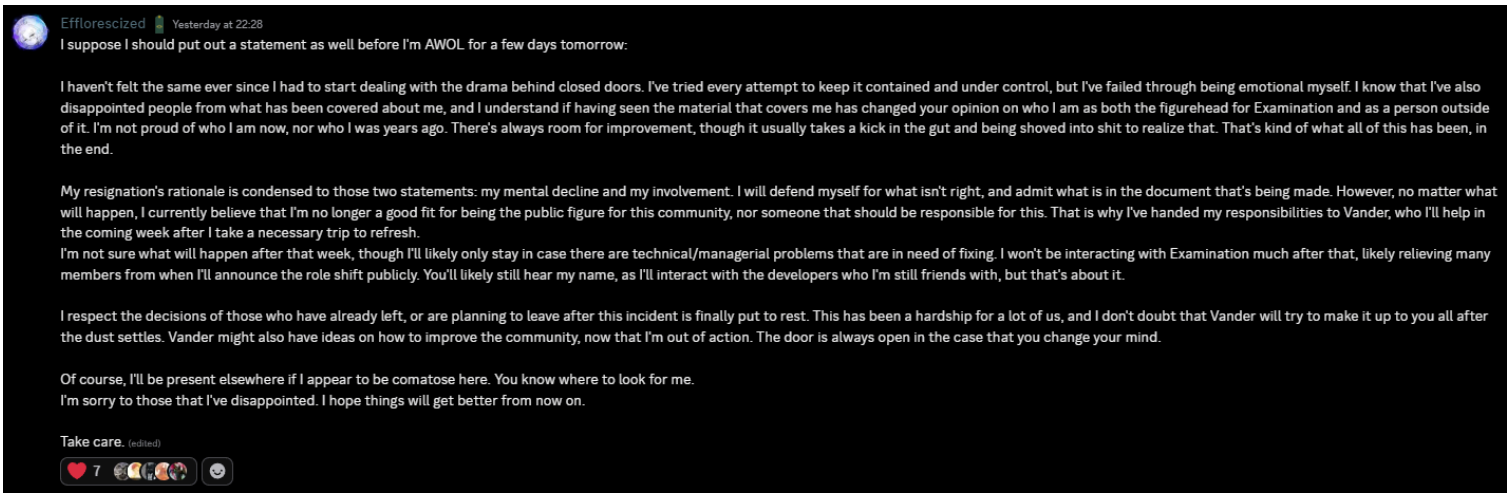

As of 28/11/2026, this is where things stand.

/The Team

Iriszeik has been removed from all Examination spaces, the development team, and the game's profits.

Efflorescized has voluntarily stepped down as the Community Lead and delegated his role to me, following long-term stress. He will still remain on the team for some time to make sure the transition of responsibilities isn't abrupt, assisting me with concerns before eventually moving on.

This is the message he had sent to staff before privately stepping back:

/Reports and safety

When the allegations against Iris surfaced, he was removed from every Examination space within @ 22/11/2026. Anyone in our spaces facing credible allegations involving grooming or pedophilia will be handled the same way.

/Development

Development of Examination is paused while we take a break from everything that happened.
The future of Recode is still being discussed, Iris no longer has access to any of the Examination places and subplaces. We'll share an announcement more once a decision is made, which may take a bit of time while we recover mentally from the situation.

/CONCLUSION

Despite everything that happened, we still value your support even if we are not truly innocent in this situation. For the past few months we have been very demoralized by this situation, pulling through mostly thanks to the passion we still had left for the project and the very amazing community, which we will always value over everything.
Moving forward we will be restructuring management and development, with most of the old core developers staying away and reflecting, allowing the new developers to manage the game, whilst others oversee them.

We are here to take accountability and defend where it counts, not to damage control. Yes, sometimes owning up to certain things requires a kick in the gut. To us, it’s a wake up call.

The future of Examination is very unclear, but we hope we can pull through and get ourselves together first before we proceed with putting out anything new. Thank you for all those awesome and amazing year(s) of entertainment.

The community is what shaped up Examination, and many of us have let you down. We will work on ourselves first before we can redeem ourselves.
